JAYHAWK BANDS TO STAGE MUSIC BATTLE SATURDAY

Union Receives Acceptance Today

Campus Activity Tonight to Begin at Union Building

Kunn, Blackburn Compete for Rhythm Supremacy at Homecoming Ball.

Climaxing a homecoming week-end bristling with rivalries, between sororities and fraternities in the Kosmet Klub show and the decorations contest and between competitors for the Big Six championship in the Kansas-Nebraska game, two well-known bands will stage a sensational battle of music at the gala homecoming ball in the coliseum Saturday night.

Coming from the state south of Nebraska, the two bands, that of Louie Kunn and Red Blackburn, will entangle their dance strains for the champion rhythm-makers of the homecoming event. Although a battle on the orchestra stand is a new thing at Nebraska, to Louie Kunn and Red Blackburn it is a well-practiced performance. For the two orchestras come from Kansas university where their musical fracas is a popular student exposition.

During the summer, Red Blackburn was engaged at one of the resorts in Estes park. The Nebraska students attending the Boulder summer school all report his excellence as a rhythm king. Sponsored by the Innocents society, the homecoming ball is an annual event in honor of the homecoming alumni. During the intermission of the party, the winners of the sorority and fraternity decorations contest will be announced and the cups presented to the winners.

Invitations have been extended to 20 members of the faculty and to the housemothers of members of the Innocents society to chaperon the party.

RETURN OF GERMAN LAND NO CERTAINTY OF PEACE-FELLMAN

Dictator's Demands Endless in Keeping Followers, Says Professor.

By Ellsworth Steele.

"If her former colonies were returned to Germany, Hitler has announced that his territorial ambitions would be satisfied. There is, however, no assurance that his word can be taken at its face value. He would soon find other things to complain about," stated Prof. David Fellman, when questioned as to the advisability of returning the German colonies which were given to England and Japan following the World war.

"If the world thought that Germany, having her colonies returned, would play the international game the way it should be played, the world would look with favor on the move to give them back, but there is no assurance that Germany would live up to the bargain. Her dictator would want something else."

Pulling Rabbits.

"The demands of a dictator are theoretically inexhaustible for he must continually pull rabbits out of the hat, show that he can do things that can't be done by ordinary democratic means. If the colonies were returned, Hitler would have to find something else to complain about so that he could maintain his position. In the nature of things, a dictator must be something of a miracle worker."

Prof. Fellman declared that return of the colonies would not make much actual difference for Germany. It wouldn't solve her fundamental economic and social problems. The colonies would not serve as an outlet for excess population, nor as an important source

WILLIAM FOSTER LABELS VIGILANCE PRICE OF LIBERTY

Economist Warns Students Against Dictatorship at Thursday Convo.

That eternal vigilance is still the price of liberty was the conclusion of Dr. William Trufant Foster, internationally known economist who appeared on the second convocations program in the Temple Thursday morning. Introduced to a capacity audience by Dean J. E. LeRossignol, Foster warned that despite a sense of security in this country, and remoteness from Fascist and Nazi activities, a dictatorship is still a very distinct possibility in the United States.

"You think it can't happen here," he said, "but remember, that is precisely what many educated Germans thought less than a year before Hitler's accession to power. We here in America are lulled into a sense of security because we see nothing but the edge of the danger."

"Only recently 8,000 followers of Father Coughlin renounced

BALLOONS DISPLAYED AT HOMECOMING TILT

Tassels to Sell Novelties Honoring First Tally Cornhuskers Score.

Over 2,000 scarlet and cream "N" balloons will be released in the stadium by football fans Saturday at the first Nebraska touchdown of the Kansas-Nebraska game. Balloon sale will be conducted before the game by Tassels.

According to Frances Boldman, chairman of the Tassels balloons committee, balloons will be offered for sale from noon till game time in and near the stadium. Price will be 5 cents.

Through the efforts of Tassels the releasing of balloons by Nebraska supporters has been a Homecoming feature for many years.

Members of the balloons sale committee, besides Miss Boldman, include Ruthanna Russell, Selma Hill, and Beatrice Ekblad.

Last year the balloon display was quite successful. Due to cross-currents of wind in the stadium, many rose twenty or thirty feet and then hung quite motionless until finally caught by a gust of wind and carried away.

For the first time this year a new cup, donated by Ben Simon & Sons and about three-fourths as large as the others, will be awarded to the best curtain act.

Elias at King Kosmet.

King Kosmet will be this year's Kosmet Klub president, Winfield Elias, and reigning as Queen will be Betty Van Horne. The identity of Prince Kosmet will not be revealed until tomorrow, but it is expected that he will be one of the campus luminaries and probably one of Biff Jones' Cornhusker gridsters. Music will be furnished by the Beck-Jungbluth orchestra, well known to the campusites thru its appearances at university parties.

Principles in Tonight's Kosmet Klub Broadcast

Eva Jane Sinclair.

Audrey Marshall.

Margaret McKay.

Rita Alger.

Betty Van Horne.

News and views of 1937 Nebraska Sweetheart candidates will be aired in a special broadcast this evening over station KFOR from 7:45 to 8 o'clock. Betty Van Horn, who will reign as Queen over the Kosmet Klub court at tomorrow morning's fall revue, will also appear on the program.

In their interviews the candidates, Eva Jane Sinclair, Rita Alger, Margaret McKay, and Audrey Marshall, may be asked such questions as might ferret out, if ever so subtly, which will be the honored one at tomorrow's presentation. At any rate the broadcast should help along any of those who think they know the Sweetheart's identity or who would like to enter a guess.

Presentation of the successful candidate will be made at the climax of the revue tomorrow morning. Details of the presentation are being kept secret, but it is reported to be considerably more elaborate than the scheme used last fall and entirely different from anything that has been used in past years. Traditionally it will be made with the entire revue cast on stage to sing "Sweet Nebraska Sweetheart," the song written a number of years ago especially for the event.

In order that the audience may join in the singing, every revuegoer will be presented with a free copy of a revised edition of the song, including words and sheet music.
