

GOING PLACES with "Smootzi"

GOING PLACES the night of the Military Ball, in the traditional scarlet and cream uniform, will be one of "These Three": Jane Barbour, Betty Cherny, Jane Walcott.

THE HONORARY COLONEL!

AFTER THE FANFARE and blare of trumpets, the presentation and the grand march, the uniform will be discarded for the Colonel's ball gown.

Jane Barbour... aqua blue rough crepe... criss cross straps at back... draped bodice... low V neckline... silver sequin girdle at waist... skirt gathered at waistline in back... falls in soft folds to floor.

Betty Cherny... green charmeuse satin... molded in the pencil silhouette... halter neck... draped bodice... gold sequin belt... gold sandals.

Jane Walcott... white taffeta... white neckline... fitted bodice... buttoned at back of neck... halter fashion... short, full sleeves... frou-frou (fullness) below the knees... gold slippers.

SPARKLES ON YOUR HAIR

Miss Agnes will create your formal hairstyle for the Ball. Contouring hair shaping by Mr. Henri Agnes. Beaute Shoppe, Hotel Cornhusker. B3122-B8971.

Eva Jane Sinclair, regimental sponsor... white tulle over white satin... gold sequin trim... princess lines... tight bodice... flaired skirt below hipline... gold circles on hemline of ten yards of tulle.

YOU MAY NOT HAVE A NEW GOWN for the Ball but it will look like new if you send it to The Evans Cleaners, P. S. This goes for "tuxes" too! Don't delay. Phone B6961 today.

IF YOUR FORMAL SWEEPS THE FLOOR someone is sure to step on it. We suggest an altered hemline by The Buttonhole Shop, B1518, 1242 M.

IF HE WEARS A UNIFORM he has a right to expect you to know your "insignias". We herewith set them forth explicitly and briefly for your enlightenment.

ATTENTION! OFFICERS! Three diamond bars on each shoulder for the Cadet Colonel (that's Bill Crittenden); two for lieutenant colonel; one for the major. Three round silver discs on each shoulder for the captain; two for first lieutenant; one for second lieutenant. Cross cannons for the Field Artillery; cross rifles for the Infantry; castles for the Corps of Engineers.

COLORS Braid for SELECT FEW. Red Gaidon members wear a red citation chord; Pershing Rifles, blue and white chord; Phalanx, black and gold chord; Scabbard and Blade, blue and red color bar with five silver stars.

IF HIS MANLY CHEST IS ADORNED WITH MEDALS, he'll tell you how he got them. For there are bars for awards and summers at camp, and medals too numerous to mention.

It may be ROSES IN DECEMBER, but whatever it is that you send your date for the Ball, see Danielson's for an original corsage.

IT'S NICE WORK IF YOU CAN GET IT, and you can get it if you send your dry cleaning to The Evans, B6961.

SEE YOU at the Ball!

Coed Takes Inventory On Male Formal Wear

BY MARY ANNA. After scanning various fashion ads you men must be in quite a dither as to how to appear at your best for that great occasion, the Military Ball. Ed Steeves gave his version in last month's Awgwan. All I can say is that if clothes really make the man, Ed ought to be a bit of a sensation.

Some of the better known first nighters about the campus have consented to give us a look-in on their formal wardrobe. Adding a bit of color and dash to traditional black and white are Joe Stephens, Phinny Moody and Dick Paul who have purchased those ultra new maroon feather boutonniere with matching maroon colored bow ties.

To quote Ed Steeves, who seems to have added a few pieces since his debut as a fashion model, "They claim they're wearing tux coats four inches longer, so guess I'll have to add a ruffle on the bottom of mine." Necessity is truly the mother of invention.

"I'm wearing two vests so I'll have enough room for my Beechnut," confessed Chuck Tanton, who daily makes the rounds with his gum. While Bob Wadhams claims he's to blossom out in white shoes and a red tie, to which I say, "I doubt dare you."

The absolute latest in full dress is very high color, but few have had the audacity to go in for that sort of thing. Johnny Bass is just hating it for the first time as are several others from last year's crop of freshman. Howard Kaplan has ordered an inversed cape which ought to give the effect of Dr. Jekyll and will certainly provide us with an "eye-ful."

Most of the fellows questioned were just the least hesitant about revealing anything so personal, but several of them churched. "You haven't seen any thing yet. Wait till you hear about the outfits we're cooking up for the Mortar Board brawl!"

THAT HOWELL CHARM If Johnny happens to say a word about Jane Walcott and Marie Katouc who are free lancing it to the Motor Boat in favor of their Ball dates, you ought to know that Jane Barbour is giving up all to escort our football hero to that much discussed affair. The fact that she has another date the Friday before seems to make no difference.

GONE DOMESTIC Yesterday, whom should I see but Bob Wadhams, hammer in hand and his mouth full of tacks as he balanced on a step ladder. The object of his labor were some very fancy cottage curtains to help make the business office of the Rag look more like home.

ORDERS FROM HEADQUARTERS Doug Sarson, D. U., was rather on the spot when he told Col. Oury he couldn't march because his one and only wouldn't be able to get here that night. The Col. countered by suggesting a really very nice girl whom he'd "like to see go with Doug." The absolute payoff is that a suggestion from the colonel takes on more of the aspects of a command. Doug thinks the military department might at least furnish his ticket.

party at the Chi Omega house last Monday, Gordon Aldrich stopped by with his contribution, some silverware. It begins to look serious, when a fellow gives something practical.

WHAT'S DOING. Stopping in Lincoln for a brief visit at the chapter house, is Mrs. Ernestine Grigsby, national president of Tri Delta. She arrived Tuesday night and has since been honored by a luncheon at the house Wednesday noon, and a dinner given by the active chapter.

A national officer of Gamma Phi Beta, Mrs. George R. Keith of Los Altos, who spent a short time visiting the local chapter. A tea was given in her honor Tuesday, and a dinner Monday night. Mrs. Keith is chairman of the statistical board.

Eunice Halm, Elenor Hakanson and Georgia Leton were recently pledged to Alpha Chi Omega.

SOME FUN. That big robust D. U. from Osceola, Paul Munson kept the audience at one of the local cinemas entertained during a short of the Nebraska football team. Every time he recognized anyone he knew, he let out a howl that could be heard in the balcony. He'd make a wonderful date for someone who likes western thrillers.

HAVE YOU HEARD? Of the awful faux pas made by one of our own innocents on his way to Chicago. It seems that there were a couple of girls on the train from Colorado State Women's College. Our friend, in true innocent style, politely inquired about their football team. Will we ever stop talking about that jaunt to Chicago?

AS JOHNNY SEES IT. Now that football boys are safely away in the moth balls, the boys of the varsity are settling down to the old groove and getting ready for a strenuous winter. At present the boys are catching up on a little neglected hygiene given by football followers. Most of the squad are bracing themselves for the periodic slump in social stock which occurs when the oblong pigskin is replaced by the oval basketball. Such boys as Dohrmann, Amen and Grimm, however are still riding on the crest after transferring their athletic endeavors from the gridiron to the cage. They tell me that these three will take time out for a good bust at the military hall and then go back into seclusion for a lengthy basketball season.

Everybody was complaining yesterday about the doors of Beasie hall being left open. But Lt. Audrey just laughed and laughed.

In New York "Penny Wise" was received with great popularity. The review in the New York Post said of it, "A very fine idea because it puts the hell out of women; therefore men will like it, and the women will like it because it shows how caty women are—and every woman who sees it will think it applies to other women."

LOWERING OF TRADE BARRIERS MIGHT PROMOTE WORLD PEACE.

(Continued from Page 1.) ering the trade barriers. A great qualifying factor in the success of Hull's program is the American reluctance to buy. We are very eager to sell, but not nearly so eager to buy. We produce so many articles that there are relatively few things that we must get from foreign countries; therefore better trade relations as the result of lowered tariffs must to a great extent come at the expense, at least temporary, of some of the production groups at home. It is these pressure groups that oppose lower tariffs.

Economic Nationalism. In support of the lower tariff aims of the secretary of state, Fellman explained that the great rise in trade barriers that came after the war has operated to reduce, or prevent arising in the standards of living in the different countries. This economic nationalism, as expressed in high tariffs, means subsidization of inefficient industry which brings higher costs of production resulting in lower standards of living for the people.

World peace, Prof. Gilmore described as being much more a matter of conflicts between political ideology, such as fascism, communism and democracy, than of economic clashes. He pointed out that several of these ideologies
