AS JOHNNY SEES IT

I dropped in at the coliseum yesterday afternoon to watch Coach Browne whip the boys through their paces on the basketball court. Everything was coming along smoothly except that Paul Amen was inclined to limp a little bit. I cornered him and asked what might be the trouble. "Damn skates," was all he said. It seems that Paul and Jane Walcott went out to the skating rink at the state fair grounds Wednesday night and proceeded to get pretty fancy. When I got there Amen was sitting in the middle of the rink looking very disgusted indeed. He seemed to be in that position most of the evening but still persisted in getting tricky. That ought to prove somebody's point that athletes can't dance. Or maybe, because Jane was there, falling down was just a subtle way of getting across a point or two.

Jane Hayes, Theta, seems to have a bit of that Roosevelt, Jr. passion for breaking cameras. Lynn Thompson has been begging for moons and moons for a picture of his true love but that's definitely out as far as Jane is concerned. So Doc tears over to the Awgwan, held his nose, and charged into the office to get their camera. Then he laid in wait for Miss Hayes at the Uni Drug. When she passed Tom popped out and took a candid shot. The infuriated Theta at once began pounding on the lens until Thompson thought it wise to flee. I understand that she is still in a frenzy.

Going quietly about its business on the campus and yet continuously popping up is a club called Rajah. I was beginning to hear so much about it that I decided it was time to check up and see who was running the deal. I found it to be a duke's mixture of frat boys who have banded together in the interests of more and better Sunday evening ball sessions, etc. Members are Jack Gellatly, Chick Roberts, John Miller and Max Lake. They tell me that rushing is picking up considerably but membership is limited to those who are well versed in that well known Spanish sport.

AS MARY ANNA SEES IT

If the two practices at the Coliseum were a sample of the Ball, it ought to be rather rough. I'm only hoping that some poor maiden in distress doesn't get her head chopped off by an unwieldy sword. It was rather fun watching the girls dodge. Claudine Burt even had her hat knocked off in the scuffle. But the best show was given by Bob Bernstein, who by the way executes some rather fancy tricks with a gun. Wednesday night, as everyone watched with abated breath, Bob slipped and spilled the weapon, upon which he let out a few terrific words that resounded throughout the room.

DINNER AT EIGHT.

Or maybe it's seven. Whatever the hour, we'll all be dining in style tonight. At the University Club, Stan Brewster is having a party of six. Barney Ingram has reserved for fourteen. Jane Bell for four, Jean Metz for four, Charles Roberts for twelve, and Dorothy Smith twelve. There will be quite a crowd at the Lancaster room at the Cornhusker, John Jarmin, now a lieutenant at Ft. Crook, who comes back this year as an old alum of a year's standing, has a table for four. Don Nabity has reserved a table for eight of his D. U. brothers and their dates, while seven Phi Psi's will entertain there.

BRAINS OR BRAUN.

Bill Callihan wandered into the Coliseum the other day and found Betty Cherny stamping Mortar Board party tickets. In the course of the conversation Bill, having not the slightest idea whom he was addressing, asked Betty whom she thought was slated to lead in the honorary race. She, realizing just what she had to deal with, hemmed and hawed and asked his opinion. Luckily, Bill was hesitant about expressing himself and must have been much relieved when Betty revealed her identity. To cover up his embarrassment, he helped her stamp tickets for an hour, during which time Betty discovered that he didn't even know how the lucky girl was elected.

OPENING NIGHTS.

The Alpha Phi formal and the Sigma Nu piggy dinner traditionally follow the Ball as first sorority and fraternity parties of the season. Have you seen the clever bids issued by the Phi's? They're done in silver with lettering in deep red. The affair's to be at the Cornhusker, so won't it seem good to get back into the swing of things? Don't know whether you've ever heard of the Sigma Nu date chart, but they do keep one. All the fellows are required to list their dates thereupon and at the top, so I've heard, are twenty or thirty names of prospects. It might be interesting to see just who is rating the Piggy Dinner.

were on last year's Wilson hall. For aspirants to whom bowling does not appeal, the W. A. A. council has reinstated badminton into the program, a game with a purpose like tennis. Only four coeds from each house are allowed in the turney to whom Miss Shelby, W. A. A. sponsor, is giving instruction at the present. Houses who have entered teams are Wilson Hall, Phi Mu, Delta Gamma, Sigma Kappa, Kappa Gamma Gamma, Kappa Delta, Gamma Phi, Theta, Tri Delta and Sigma Delta Tau.

GIRLS CAN PLAY

With the return of coeds to the campus following vacation a rejuvenated spirit for intramural activities has been noticeable. For the first time this year two complete sports programs are being run off at the same time. They are bowling and badminton, two all-important sports on the W. A. A. calendar. Practices for both activities are being pushed forward furiously, the actual tourneys being scheduled for the second week of December.

PALLADIANS TO MAKE $500 APPROPRIATION TO REDECORATE HALL

Barb Group Incorporates Under State Statutes of Nebraska.

An expenditure of over $500 has been voted by the members of Palladian Literary Society for redecorating their hall on the third floor of Temple building. Among the articles to be bought are drapes and venetian blinds for all the windows, an additional clock rack, and 60 new folding chromium chairs. Much attention was paid to lighting effects as the latest type of indirect overhead lighting fixtures are to be installed. Money was also appropriated for other changes in the lighting system and three new floor lamps have been ordered. Other recent additions are a drinking fountain and a ping-pong table.

First Major Expenditure.

This is the first time that any major expenditures have been made for hall improvements in over five years. Before that the floor was carpeted at an expense of about $1,400 and a grand piano was also purchased. Advances have been made in other ways. Palladian Literary society has just been incorporated under the laws of Nebraska. "This step was taken upon the unanimous vote of the actives, and the consent and encouragement of the alumni, as a measure of conservative planning for possible future exigencies."

To Initiate.

Saturday evening the following pledges of the society will be initiated into active membership: Ruth Bauder, Lois Giles, Burkett Graf, Lloyd Jeffery, Jim Harrison, Austin Mutz, and Joy Pestal. The Palladian checker tournament came to a close and at the last meeting Jean Marvin was declared winner and was presented with a loving cup by the Palladian slouch committee. She was also crowned checker queen but the crown placed upon her head was made of cardboard and bore the slogan "Krown Kansas."

Members of A. S. A. E.

All four are members of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers. Prof. Brackett is chairman of the department of agricultural engineering; Mr. Zink is in charge of tractor tests. Mr. Wood, extension agricultural engineer, is a member of the committee on "Control of Gully Erosion," the committee on bibliography society and the committee on co-operative farm building plan services of the farm structures division.

CRITIC PRIESTLEY TAGS AMERICA AS PEACE 'NUCLEUS'

"American Responsibilities" were sketched by J. B. Priestley noted English novelist, dramatist, essayist and critic, as he spoke before 2,500 Purdue students Nov. 24. The Englishman pointed out that the Americans for the nucleus of peace movements and placed a great deal of the responsibility for maintaining peace upon our shoulders.

"The nations of Europe are keeping an eye on the Americas. What you do, they do! Reasoning from the facts that your country is the initiator of world peace it is the American responsibility to keep peace and love evident in the eastern hemisphere," declared Priestley.

Picturing America as the land of security in a world of turmoil, Priestley commented America for her stabilizing influence. "While other nations are incessantly on edge with the potentialities of national combat, you are continuing your pacifying influence."

WESLEY FOUNDATION NAMES TO DELEGATES

Students Leave Dec. 2 for Methodist Meeting in St. Louis.

The Wesley Foundation has announced the ten delegates who will represent the university at the National Methodist Student conference which will be held in St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 28-31.

The delegates are Elmer Glenn, Dorothy Anderson, Clyde Kleager, Verna Umberger, Mable Soderholm, Charles Atchison, Gordon John, Winthrop Darlington, Ellsworth Steele, and Harold Finch. Rolland Nye, national chaplain of the Methodist fraternity, Phi Tau Theta, and member of the Beta chapter here in Lincoln, will attend. Rev. Robert E. Drew, Methodist student pastor and sponsor of Phi Tau Theta, will also accompany the delegation.

The delegates plan to leave early Dec. 28 and drive through in time to attend the opening services that evening. They will return New Year's day.

The present conference quota of 625 student and adult delegates is rapidly being filled as 24 Methodist colleges and universities, three theological schools, and 24 Wesley Foundations have responded to the call for conference delegations. After Dec. 1 the quotas were extended to allow Methodist students in other colleges to be represented. The Methodist Church South, North and Protestant, will be represented at the conference. Plans for the foundation of a National Methodist Student movement will be discussed and developed. Nebraska Wesleyan is planning upon sending a delegation which may accompany the university delegation.

40 WOMEN ATTEND HANGING OF GREENS BANQUET THURSDAY

Y. W. C. A. Sponsors Annual Pre-Holiday Dinner at Ellen Smith.

Seventy university women attended the "Hanging of the Greens" dinner, held last evening at 5:30 in Ellen Smith hall. The affair is an annual one sponsored each year by the Y. W. C. A. to decorate the hall in Christmas greens.

The program planned by Loraine Elmborg included Christmas carols by the Vespers choir, a piano solo by Tex Rozelle Rounds, a Christmas reading by Virginia Davis, a vocal solo by Betty Bennett and the hanging of the greens by all guests.

WORK ON UNION BUILDING SLOW, SAYS GUNDERSON

(Continued from Page 1.) ing building materials. He states that work was necessarily halted for three weeks because it was impossible to get building stone.

Weather Slows Progress.

One thing which may further delay work is bad weather. There is much plastering left to be done, and this will be greatly slowed up by cold weather. The building will not be finished by February 1, what little work will be left at that time is not expected to interfere with the opening.

RABBI TO DISCUSS GENIUS OF ISRAEL'S PROPHETS DEC. 8

(Continued from Page 1.) as student Rabbi at Owensboro, Ky., and as Rabbi of the Congregation of Israel at Athens, Ga., for four years. Since 1935 he has been in charge of the Temple Israel at Tulsa.

While in Georgia, Rabbi Shusterman organized and became first director of the Jewish student union at the University of Georgia. Since moving to Tulsa he has been outstandingly active, appearing as lecturer before many organizations of the country. The convocation here next Wednesday will be open to the public, and university officials expect a large number of Lincoln people to attend. Members of ministerial groups in the city particularly are expected to come to hear Rabbi Shusterman's address.

ZANZIG PREDICTS REVIVAL OF GOOD COLLEGE MUSIC

(Continued from Page 1.) leges, Mr. Zanzig explained. "Even if we grant that future Kreislers and Paderewskis cannot be adequately provided for there, there is still ground for continuance of the system. Should students be obliged to study for the music profession in outside conservatories where there is a minimum of likelihood of there having any relations with the intellectual life of the university? Vocational and avocational music students should mingle with others in a college."

Preceding Mr. Zanzig's address, a string quartet under the direction of Emanuel Wisnow presented two numbers. In the quartet were Margaret Porter, William Klein, Margaret Baker, and Mary Louise Baker.

Coeds working at Pennsylvania state college earn approximately $150 a piece. Their jobs range from chaperoning to clerking in a telegraph office.

A poem containing the names of several of the teachers at St. Christopher's school, which was to appear in the student biweekly, The Pine Needle, roused the wrath of the teachers—and indirectly the curiosity of the student body.

For in place of the poem, one entire column on the editorial page of the paper was blanked out with a bold, black "Censored."
