Recent Elixir Disaster Reveals Necessity for New Pure Food, Drug Act, Prof. Burt Declares harmless, if used under the care of a physician, but when the solvent was added it became poisonous. The solvent is toxic and should not be used in that drug."

That the southern people demand medicine in liquid form and prefer it bad tasting, on the assumption that only bad tasting medicine is any good, is the reason that only in the south was the medicine sold in the liquid and harmful form, Burt explained. He believes that the doctors who prescribed the elixir should not be blamed for they knew the value of sulfanilamide in the tablet form and did not know that the liquid preparation was poisonous.

A. M. A. Blames Druggists.

"Following the deaths, the American Medical association has a tendency to place the blame upon the druggists and thus escape all censure themselves. Investigators found that in only one of the 79 or more cases involved was the drug sold over the counter without a doctor's approval, by a person who was not a qualified druggist.

In discussing proper legislation, Burt pointed out that a federal law would apply only to drugs that were sent over state lines, but added that most drugs manufactured do cross state lines. To fill the gap state laws would have to be passed along the line of any further federal legislation. The professor told of the efforts that have been made during the last six years to get a stricter law applying to food and drugs, and of the difficulties encountered. The Copeland bill was introduced in congress and came close to passing, but interests, especially those affected by the provisions applying to cosmetics, saw that it did not pass. That the bureau of chemistry was given more power over advertising than is now exercised, he cited as another reason that the bill was strongly opposed.

Almost Yearly Disasters.

The bill which is now before congress calls for: License control of new drugs; the power to prohibit drugs dangerous to health, when administered in accordance with the manufacturer's directions for use; require drug labels to

It is hoped that a bill containing these provisions would prevent the recurrence of such disasters as came in 1931 due to Jamaica ginger or "Ginger Jake," in 1932 due to "radium water," in 1934 due to chinchophen which destroys the liver and kills the white blood corpuscles, and in 1937 due to elixir sulfanilamide.

SIGMA NU, SIG ALPHA GO TO FINALS IN POLO

Championship, Third Place Games Set for Next Tuesday Night.

Sigma Nu and Sigma Alpha Epsilon gained the finals of the intramural water polo tournament Thursday night when they defeated Acacia and Phi Kappa Psi respectively. The Sigma Nus won their game over the Acacians by a score of 18 to 4 while the Sig Alpha victory margin over the Phi Psis was 12 to 6. The championship game between Sigma Nu and Sigma Alpha Epsilon and the playoff for third place honors will be held Tuesday night.

The Sigma Nu's 18 to 14 win over the Acacians was somewhat of a surprise because the Acacians had shown up in their previous contests. The Sigma Nus went on their best offensive spree of the tournament and were headed by Howard Austin, who scored 10 points and turned in an excellent defensive performance. Townlee and Deger, goalies, also stood out in the Sigma Nu lineup. Place and Mier looked best for the losers.

Ludwick, forward, scored 6 points to lead the Sig Alphas to a 12 to 6 victory over the Phi Psis. Bob Burruss goalie, and Fleisbach, forward, also turned in good performances for the Sig Alphas. For the Phi Psis, Madgett and Sheldon, forwards, were outstanding.

DODD, PLOCK SCORE FOR HUSKERS TO GET BIG SIX POINT HONORS

Douglass High as Callihan, Howell, English Also Amass Tallies.

Two Nebraskans, Jack Dodd and Marvin Plock, placed third and fourth respectively in the individual scoring in the Big Six conference. Dodd was third with 25 points and Plock fourth with 21. Other Cornhuskers in the high scorers were Bill Callihan 18, Johnny Howell 12, and Lowell English 11.

Clarence Douglass, burly Kansas fullback whose fine all around play won him all Big Six honors, was the high scorer with a total of 29 points for nine games. Close behind came Jack Baer, Oklahoma quarterback and also an all star choice, with 28 points. Douglass also led in total points for conference games with 21 points. Baer was second with 18 and Everett Kischer, nimble Iowa State quarterback, third with 18.

Forty-nine players participated in the scoring this fall, including 11 from Oklahoma, 9 from Kansas State, 8 from Missouri, and 7 each from Iowa State, Nebraska and Kansas. The leaders for all games:

Clarence Douglass, Kansas, 29; Jack Baer, Oklahoma, 28; Jack Dodd, Nebraska, 25; Marvin Plock, Nebraska, 21; Elmer Harkney, Kansas State, 19; Bill Callihan, Nebraska, 18; Everett Kischer, Iowa State, 17; Howard Cleveland, Kansas State; Woodrow Huddleston, Oklahoma; Earl Crowder, Oklahoma; Johnny Howell, Nebraska, and Lyman Dwyers, Kansas, 12 each; Lowell English, Nebraska, 11.

Twelve hundred questionnaires filled out by freshman students at the University of Washington indicate that "Finances" present the biggest problem in getting started in college. Eighty percent admitted that they came to college in order to earn more money rather than to learn how to live a more cultured, creative life.

Women primp for the same reason that men drink—to bolster up morale, according to a psychology professor at DePaul university. They dress chiefly to make an impression on their own sex, rather than to win the approval of men, he declared.

BROCK, SHIREY EARN BERTHS ON HUSING'S ALL-AMERICA TEAM

Selections Made on Basis Of Tilts Announcer Has Broadcast.

Ted Husing, popular CBS sports announcer, paid his tribute to the University of Nebraska football squad by placing Charley Brock, center, and Fred Shirey, tackle, on his 1937 All America.

He made his selections on the basis of squads he has seen in action this year. He has aired contests for Yale, Harvard, Army, Notre Dame, Pennsylvania, Cornell, Northwestern, Minnesota, Nebraska, Navy, Ohio State, Michigan, Texas, Texas Christian and Baylor.

Those making his honor eleven are Bog Green, Harvard, and Chuck Sweeney, Notre Dame, ends; Fred Shirey, Nebraska, and Lou Midler, Minnesota, tackles; Jack Brennan, Michigan, and Mason Mayne, T. C. U., guards; Charley Brock, Nebraska, center; George Peek, Cornell, Andy Puplis, Notre Dame, Vernon Struck, Harvard, and Don Heap, Northwestern, backs.

Last week the International News Service heaped laurels upon Fred Shirey by putting him on its 1937 All America second team. Jimmy Powers of the New York Daily News placed Shirey on his '37 all nation team.

GLOOMY 'PHOG' ALLEN MOURNS LOST K-AGGIES

Pessimistic Cage Coach Sees No Chance of Annexing Big Six Crown.

Coach Forrest C. "Phog" Allen, basketball coach at Kansas, and perennial pessimist of the Big Six basketball coaches, admits that his team will be a good one this year, but not good enough to outdistance Nebraska for the championship.

"Kansas and Nebraska were co-champions last year, but the Cornhuskers lost only two regulars and we lost four," Allen mourned. "Without such stars as Ray Noble, Paul Rogers, Al Welhausen and Roy Holliday, we won't stand much chance to finish ahead of the Cornhuskers this year."

The team will be built around Fred Pralle, named two years on the all conference team and the only regular returning. Other lettermen returning are Lyman Corlis, George Golay, Lester Kappelman and Fenlon Durand.

GRADUATING HUSKERS HONORED OVER KFAB SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Reggie Martin Interviews State Sport Writers At Broadcast.

A closing tribute to the Cornhusker seniors, who have played their last football game for the University of Nebraska, was given Saturday afternoon at 2 p. m. over KFAB. Reggie Martin, serving as master of ceremonies, interviewed Cy Sherman John Bentley, Gregg McBride, and Frederick Ware, sports writers from Lincoln and Omaha, and Link Lyman, who represented the Husker coaching staff in Major "Biff" Jones' absence.

The entire team was complimented on one of the finest seasons in Cornhusker history by all the speakers and especially by Frederick Ware, who said, "Nebraska was one of the ten ranking teams in the United States." Fred Shirey's statement that "Pittsburgh can be beaten by Nebraska and that time is not far off," was greeted by almost wild applause by the audience gathered in the Lincoln hotel ballroom. To close the program Link Lyman paid tribute to "Nebraska's greatest line" which was composed of seniors with the exception of Charley Brock at center.

NEBRASKA BALL STARS SELECTED FOR VARSITY

All-Star Players Compete In Championship Game Thursday Night.

Outstanding players in the W. A. A. intramural Nebraska ball tourney, which finished last week, have been chosen for positions on the two varsity teams, according to an announcement from the intramural office. Individuals placing on the two teams will be notified by letter later this week.

Two complete squads have been selected to compete in a championship game to be held Thursday at 7 p. m. in Grant Memorial. Geraldine Wallace, head of intramural Nebraska ball, Miss Shelby, W. A. A. sponsor, and referees of the various games served as a committee for choosing outstanding players.

Over 20 different teams and a hundred individuals took part in the tournament and members of the two varsity teams were chosen from all groups participating. Skill and sportsmanship were the qualities considered for membership on the teams.

The plan of choosing two varsity teams for every intramural sport thruout the season is new this year. The Nebraska ball teams are the first to be chosen, however, since the plan was instigated too late to include soccer baseball.
