

GOING PLACES with "Smootzi"

MANY BRAVE LADS will be GOING PLACES this Friday night wearing as tokens of affection, anything from fruits to flowers, from violets to vegetables.

TURN ABOUT IS FAIR PLAY. Send him a corsage, funny, clever, impossible, or as nice a one as he sent you. See the corsages on display now at Danieleson's.

VIOLETS PERCHED ATOP A CORONET just above the brow of a chivalrous male: a KKG sends this one to give him regal emphasis.

MISS AGNES styled the hair of our Honorary Colonel, Jane Walcott for the Ball Friday night. A change of hair style will do wonders to your "formal self" even if you do wear the same formal. With all the formal parties and vacation ahead, we suggest you visit Agnes Beaute Shoppe, Hotel Cornhusker, B3122-B3971.

A CHAMPAGNE BOTTLE CAP nestled in a cluster of blue bottle caps is the contribution of a P. Phi. Could it be a touching reminder?

IF SOMEONE DANCED ON YOUR TRAIN at the Ball, have the dust taken off with a good dry cleaning by The Evans Cleaners. Don't show up at the Mortar Board party in a bedraggled formal. Call B6961 for prompt service.

A JULIET CAP OF CRANBERRIES is the tender remembrance proposed by an Alpha Xi Delt.

A LITTLE CARE will go a long way to keep a formal looking nice. Take your alteration problems to The Fashion Sewing Shop, 544 No. 14, L6309.

A CACTUS PLANT, a Christmas tree, hilles, pansies, sweet peas, violets, nosegays, dime bottles of perfume, one lone party in a super-huge box, dried fruit mixed unobtrusively in fernery, the usual garlie camouflaged.

SEE A TASSEL on a Mortar Board today to buy your ticket for Friday night. Only $1.25 per couple.

FOR YOUR ONE AND ONLY, have your portrait done in an oil miniature for the perfect, lasting Christmas gift. Harold Cox will make this regular size miniature complete with gold frame, for only $5. Make an appointment now at the Harold Cox Studios, 1125 O. B1988. Allow one week for completion of portrait.

DON'T RUN TO YOUR ONE O'CLOCK! No need to if you eat at the College Inn Grill where service is extra-prompt, 13th and Que.

Radiate! Sparkle! Campus Emily Post Advises Romeos

This bit of advice is not to be found in etiquette books. Even the indisputable Emily Post has nothing to say on the subject, but to most of the men on the campus, there comes once a year an opportunity to turn the tables, the opportunity of course being no less than the Mortar Board Party. Boys, this is your night to howl, so maybe you should be practicing up a few days beforehand. Some of you haven't the time for much thought on the subject, so to you I dedicate my findings along that line.

First, as a matter of policy, never be nice to the girl who doesn't hold a meal ticket in her hand. What does she take you for, a sucker? What have you been taking her for? Well, what of you been taking her for? Of course, we must never be so crass as to advocate gold-digging. It just isn't being done in the better circles. Fun-digging is all the rage nowadays.

Radiate! Sparkle! You too can be the beau of the ball like Thursty Phelps, if you will practice a few fundamentals. You might try dramatizing yourself. When you enter room, always look as if you had everything under control, as Smith Davis does. Radiate! In other words, sparkle! Kermit Hansen does it. You can, too. Take a lesson from Fred Shirey. Gaze wistfully into the little gal's eyes. There's a little trick that never fails.

Emphasize your personality by your clothes. Could anyone resist Johnny Bass in soup and fish or impeccably attired Ben Bushman who sports a collapsible top hat? If you are the timid type like Web Mills you'd better stick to the more conservative tux. To give your appearance that desired chic don one of the new maroon colored boutonniere with matching tie, as Phiny Moodie, Elwood Pankonin, Frank Vette and a host of others do.

Mad Money. Take example from Bob Wadhams and carry a few extra shekels in your pockets in case your girl friend runs out of cash, or just in case. Follow Ed Seagrist's advice and don't let your date park at Robert's without leaving the car lights on, or at least be sure that the girl can talk as fast as she did to keep from making a trip to the calaboose.

Don't let Dal Tassie get ahead of you. With a little practice on an eye lash curler you too can give them that natural upward swing. And for the final moment when your feminine escort dumps you on your doorstep, you'd better be in practice with those "kiss me quick" looks.

IS RUMORED THAT Some enterprising young photographer climbed up the Kappa back fire escape and took a few candid camera shots at random. What he didn't know was that the shower room opens on to the fire escape, so he was immediately forced to retrace his steps, and ever since has been rather bashful about showing up at that house.

INSIDE INFORMATION You may have seen several sorority girls scampering about the campus in this zero weather, attired in ski suits but who would guess how convenient the outfits trying to save Israel from defeat and capture by Assyria, but all was in vain. Sargon II took the capital Samaria and the northern kingdom fell.

Preached Neutrality in Vain. The prophet Isaiah appeared upon the scene just before the northern kingdom began a disastrous series of revolts against powerful Assyria. Isaiah preached against joining Judah, his kingdom, to the alliance against Assyria, but fate was adverse and his advocacy of neutrality came to naught. His great triumph, however, was the saving of Jerusalem from massacre and spoil.

Another social prophet was Micah who preached judgment and doom, finding hope only in a small number of sufferers purified by their grief. Micah was the last of the four great prophets, Amos, Hosea, Isaiah and Micah. Their success preserved and developed the Hebrew religion.

75 Years of Silence. Following a 75 year period of silence prophets again appeared. Saphanias, probably a prince of the royal blood, told of the "day of Jehovah" and urged reform before the day of judgment. Nahum gloried over the prospect of the fall of Nineveh, capital of decaying Assyria. Habakkuk consoled the Israelites who had expected that Judah would become free at the fall of Assyria with the epigram "Wickedness contains within itself the germ of its own destruction, and righteousness contains within itself the assurance of its final triumph."

Out of the aristocracy came the prophet Jeremiah to advise neutrality. He strove to keep Judah from entering into revolts against the Babylonians, who had gained the ascendancy. As Isaiah he was persecuted as a traitor. As the "gloomy prophet" foretold, Babylon lost patience and finally blotted out the lower kingdom. The Jews were carried away into captivity.

Propheesied Restoration. The disciple of Jeremiah, Ezekiel, worked among the captives in Babylon. He taught that God was existent and powerful even outside of the nation's kingdom. He preached that God would finally restore the kingdom and that faith should be continued in full vigor. The writer of Second Isaiah is known as the Second Isaiah or the Great Unknown. He sees in the rising Medo-Persian hopes for a restoration of the kingdom of Judah. In his time Babylon falls before that rising power and the Jews are allowed to return to Jerusalem.

People Become Dissatisfied. The returning people had all been born in Babylon and knew little of the home country. Their enthusiasm was not so great and the difficulties loomed large. Hagai and Zechariah urged that the temple be rebuilt. Obadiah sees that the hereditary enemy of Judah, Edom, is about to fall and he rejoices. The prophecies of Hagai and Zechariah that revolutions and triumph would come to Israel and that glory of the temple would be great did not meet immediate fulfillment and the people became dissatisfied. Malachi attacked the corruption of the time and urged return to the law. He sees judg-

- worldliness are the following: "Forty Reasons Why I Won't Dance" prepared by Evangelist Carl Bassett in an "Enlistment of Youth for God" campaign: 1. I would not like to die dancing, would you? 2. All churches except the Mormons are against dancing. 3. Dancing church members are called hypocrites. 4. It brings shame on the church and Christ. 5. Three-fourths of the fallen girls in America were ruined by the dance, according to the testimony of dancing masters. 6. If dancing did not hurt me, my influence might cause a weaker person to be lost. 7. Dancing Christians make the poorest church workers. 8. Thousands of young people have chosen the dance in preference to Jesus Christ. 9. Dancing is contrary to the spirit of the whole Bible. 10. The dance originated in a house of prostitution and was never danced outside of a house of prostitution for the first 500 years, and the steps they used there are tame compared to the steps they use now. 11. The dance is the only place where the vilest of men can embrace the purest of girls in the closest familiarity, with the approval of society. 12. Dancing is the only amusement in the world that depends for its existence upon the mingling of the sexes. Separate the sexes and you will kill the dance in 20 minutes. 13. The dance has been more deadly to the church than the

- saloon. 14. There are no soul winning dancing Christians. 15. I couldn't pray at a dance, could you? 16. I wouldn't enjoy reading my Bible after the dance. 17. I couldn't speak to anyone about Christ at the dance. 18. The girl with the most modesty makes the poorest dancer, and vice versa. The best dancer is the girl who yields herself to the embrace of her partner. 19. I would be miserable if I knew God were watching me while dancing. 20. The dance is a barrier between thousands and Christ. 21. Dancing destroys a Christian's influence, testimony and usefulness. 22. I can't think of one good reason why a Christian should dance. 23. Men do not care to dance with their sisters or wives. Why not? 24. Dancing would not be tolerated in a minister of the gospel, and there are not two different standards of Christianity. What is wrong for a minister is wrong for any Christian. 25. Thousands of men have used the dance as the surest and best way to trip a girl. 26. Dancing arouses the worst passions in men. 27. A girl who dances cheapens herself in the eyes of the finest men in town. 28. Dancing is considered a doubtful indulgence and inconsistent with real Christianity. 29. Dancing dulls and deadens the spiritual life of a Christian. 30. Dancing is the favorite pastime of the red light district. 31. A man can embrace a girl while the orchestra plays, but if he did it when the orchestra stops playing, it would be wrong. Can music make something right that is wrong without music? 32. If a girl heard the ordinary conversation of men between dances, as they discuss her, that girl's cheeks would blaze with mortification and she would run home and never dance again. 33. The Roman Catholic confessional reveals the sad fact that 19 out of 20 girls who go wrong, attribute their fall to the dance. 34. Dancing has frequently been used as a lure, but success, full means of ruining a girl when all other methods fail. 35. The dance has a secret language, by which the man can silently learn if the girl in his arms is pure or not, without one word being uttered. 36. Dancing has created a condition in the public schools that is almost as bad as the white slave traffic. 37. The attraction of the dance is the thrill of the embrace that is permitted nowhere else in decent society. 38. If a man embraced his neighbor's wife in the ordinary dance attitude when there was no music, he would get a load of buck-shot. 39. I would not dance because Jesus Christ would not? Would He? 40. I would not dance because Jesus Christ would not? Would He?
