SEVEN CHAMPIONS WIN GOLD MEDALS IN MATCH MONDAY

Kuska, Condon, Williams, Ruser, Tones, Clare, Anderl Triumph.

27 All School Mat Champions.
128 lbs.—Milton Kuska.
135 lbs.—Leland Clare.
145 lbs.—John Williams.
155 lbs.—Dale Ruser.
165 lbs.—Reynold Tones.
175 lbs.—Shelley Condon.
Heavyweight—Francis Anderl.

Heretofore unknown wrestling ability cropped up Monday night at the coliseum as seven new champions were crowned at the all university mat tournament. The winners received gold medals and the runnersup silver ones.

Milton Kuska, slim freshman from Colby, Kas., was too clever and aggressive for Walt Barner in the 126 pound finals and as result the former won a decision for the garlands. Leland Clare copped the 135 pound crown by pinning Bill McConnell in 4:40 with a half nelson and a bar arm.

Bill Williams, supple Negro from Omaha Central, threw Ray McKee, stocky frosh football

CAGESTERS ANCHOR HOPES TO BIG SIX LOOP COMPETITION

Cornhuskers Pay Little Heed To Defeat by Ohio State In Opening Tilt.

BY ANGUS NICOLL.

Although the 1937-38 Cornhusker basketball team dropped their season opener to a strong Ohio State Buckeye team, 42-31 at Columbus, Ohio, last Saturday, the Huskers loom as one of the strongest contenders for the Big Six conference championship this season.

With the spearhead of the Husker team returning this year despite the loss of three lettermen, hopes for a repeat of the Big Six championship berth they held jointly last year with Kansas are bright.

Four major lettermen will bolster the Husker lineup this year.

BOB PARSONS

—From State Journal. Amen, who was tenth high scorer on the Big Six conference last season, is playing his third year at the forward position under Coach W. H. Browne. He is a hard worker on the floor and is a good shot. Amen is a Lincoln product.

Bob Parsons, who won All-Big Six honors at guard last year, is recognized as the most polished Husker cager. A deadly shot from nearly any position on the court, Parsons is the director of the Husker offense as well as defense. He also is a Lincoln man.

guard, in 2:12 with a half nelson and a bar arm. McKee lacked the experience of his opponent and prolonged the match only thru sheer power.

Fast Bout in 155 Pound.

The best bout of the day was that of the 155 pound class, with Dale Ruser, who learned the grappling art at Omaha South, the school of perennial state mat champs, and Herb Rosenthal, former Tee Jay tussler. Ruser won the diadem by a decision and he clearly earned the title since his fine fettle took its toll from Rosenthal, who showed the lack of sufficient practice.

In the 165 pound class, handsome Reynold Tones used a body scissor in pinning Jack Sampson in three minutes. The experience of Tones was too much handicap for Sampson, who made his first fling at wrestling this semester.

Another Omaha Central product, Shelley Condon, ramming frosh fullback, copped the 175 pound wreath by applying a neat arm scissor and far nelson on Ralph K. Shook in 4:25. Shook, a waggish wrestler, carried his jests too far and aroused the dander of Condon to a point that eventually resulted in the former being pinned.

Anderl Triumphs.

Francis Anderl used a headlock in pinning George Sukovaty in 5:12 for the heavyweight crown. Sukovaty, of Man Mountain Dean proportions, was in a dilemma when it came to the use of certain tactics in relieving discomforting holds applied by his adversary.

Paul Fidler, a 165 pounder, and Carl Yost, varsity heavyweight, put on an exhibition as did Leland Clare, 135 all university champ, and Bill Luke, major letter winner in the 145 pound division.

Floyd Ebaugh, 6-6 giant center, completes the "big three" who comprise the nucleus of the Cornhusker team. With an enviable record of 6 points in every game last season, Ebaugh, who hails from Superior, gives every indication of repeating that record and will be a key man on both of offense and defense.

F. EBAUGH

—From State Journal.

Hampered by a strained knee sustained in football, Elmer Dohrmann, of Staplehurst, has not seen action this year. He will play in the East-West football game on New Year's day in San Francisco as one of Nebraska's representatives of the West team. This will delay him in getting under way, until nearly mid season.

Grimm and Werner.

Taking the two open positions on the Nebraska team for the first game this year were Lloyd Grimm, minor letter winner, and Al Werner, also a minor letterman.

Grimm played as a reserve last season. A big rugged boy, he plays hard and with a little polish should develop into a steady player. Werner is showing prospects of being an equal of his partner, Paul Amen. He is rapidly perfecting his floor game and needs only a little experience to make him a standout.

Pushing both major and minor lettermen hard for their positions on the first team are a squad of the most promising sophomores in several years. With Paul Brown, Bruce Campbell, Bruce Duncan, Max Hulbert, Kenneth Lord, George Porter, Frank Tallman, Robert Therien, Grant Thomas, Dow Wilson and Irvin Yaffe all developing rapidly, Coach Browne is assured of a better than average team.

Three "B" team lettermen, Ray Baxter, Jack Schock and Clifford Scott, are also putting in a strong bid for regular posts on the Scarlet and Cream lineup.

SCHULTE SLATES TRIAL TRACK MEET THURSDAY

Mills, Andrews, Brownlee, Dawson Head Veteran List for Season.

The University of Nebraska track squad will have its first "feel out" meet of the year Dec. 16, to see how much it has improved in the last five weeks. Coach "Pa" Schulte's bright spots will probably be Bob Mills, former state champion shot putter, who has been going better than 46 feet in practice; Harwin Dawson, sprinter and low hurdler, a letter winner two years ago from North Platte, and John Brownlee and Wilson Andrews will battle it out for the mile.

The freshmen who are expected to be threats are Lloyd Wright of Beatrice, state 220 champion of two years ago; Delbert Moore, a fine distance runner from Bartley, and Bob Beltz, ex-Lincoln high middle distance man.
