

HOW ABOUT AN ALL STAR FRATERNITY TILT?

BY EMORY BURNETT. Well, fraternity basketballers, what did you think of the suggestion in yesterday's "Eye" for an All-Fraternity basketball team at the close of the intramural season? Briefly stated, that plan was this: Each team will choose an All opponent team and submit that team to the Daily Nebraskan sports staff, which will then choose an All-Fraternity team on the strength of the voting. A game would then be arranged between this team and either the frosh or "B" team.

That game can be arranged. Peltz promises that, if a team is chosen, he will guarantee a game with the frosh and possible one with the Nubbins. The game will be played in the Coliseum shortly after the close of the intramural basketball season.

Varsity athletes are, in my opinion, too highly stressed. Only the more outstanding athletes get any notice. The intramural players are the forgotten men of college sports. An All-Star intramural team would help to destroy this over-emphasis of the varsity and direct a part of the spotlight to the men who will never make the varsity.

It might also help the varsity by uncovering hidden material. No varsity coach can attend all the intramural games, but he could attend the All-Star game and possibly find a player worthy of a varsity try-out.

So far, no suggestions have been received from any of you frat men. Let's have some. We want to know what you think of this idea. If you are in favor of it, the Nebraskan will make plans to sponsor the voting. If you are opposed to it for any reason, let us know and we may be able to make changes that will satisfy you. If you are unalterably opposed the plan will be dropped. But whatever you think of it, let us know.

Nebraska athletes will see action on three fronts this week end. Saturday night, the Husker basketball team meets Loyola of Chicago on the home court. The Huskers will have a harder time of it in this game than they did against Iowa State last Monday. Loyola features a six foot nine inch center who has a nasty habit (or so his opponents call it) of leaping high in the air and knocking down enemy shots just as they are to go through the hoop.

Tonight, the wrestling team meets Iowa State at Ames, and tomorrow they go to Coe, Ia., for a match with the Iowa State Teachers. These two schools are two of the strongest wrestling schools in Iowa.

Huskers Face Loyola Saturday

Dohrman Leads N. U. Hoopsters Against Chicago

Cornhuskers Try for Fifth Non-Conference Win This Saturday; Novak, 6 Foot-9 Inch Center, Big Obstacle.

Nebraska's third place basketball team will let its Big Six standing ride this week to play its tenth non-conference game. The Huskers meet Loyola university of Chicago here Saturday night.

The Huskers have played nine non-conference games during the season and have won four and lost five. They bowed to Ohio State, Minnesota, Detroit, Bradley Tech, and Indiana and triumphed over South Dakota, Niagara university, California and Colorado. If they win from Loyola, their non-conference and conference percentage will be the same with 500 each. Elmer Dohrman, senior center and guard will captain the Huskers.

Features Long Center. Main attraction and obstacle to the Huskers Saturday night will be one Mike Novak, six foot-nine inch center, of Loyola. Novak has been worrying his opponents all season with his leaps into the air to block shots just before they reach the basket. He was mainly responsible for Loyola's defeat of Minnesota and Ohio State to whom the Huskers have lost. Although Novak's teammates are dwarfed by the giant center, they are all tall and rangy and have gained a reputation as one of the most colorful quints in the country.

With Floyd Ebaugh, Nebraska's 6 foot five center dismissed from the infirmary after having an injury to his right thigh muscle treated, the Nebraska line-up is intact. Bill Kovanda and Paul Amen will start at the forwards, Ebaugh at center; Bob Parsons and Al Werner at guards.

Huskers Ease Up. The Huskers have been taking it easy in practice this week after a couple of weeks of strenuous Big Six competition. On Wednesday night they took a short workout and had their pictures taken for the Cornhusker yearbook and the "N" club rooms at the Coliseum. On Thursday they went through a fast drill on set plays and fast breaks. They will taper off this afternoon with a short warm-up drill.

FROSH GRIDDERS SHINE IN CLASS AS ON GRIDIRON

If the frosh gridders can do as well on the gridiron as they did in the classrooms, Biff Jones should have some high grade talent reporting for spring drills. A roll call of last fall's squad shows that all but four will return. A tentative list of the future gridders that will turn out for the spring session which opens Feb. 28, include: Vike Francis, Port Morgan, Colo.; Edsel Wibbels, Wolbach; "Bus" Knight, Lincoln; Harry Kopp, Hastings; Walter Luther, Cambridge; Ray Prochaska, Ulyesses; Fred Preston, Fairbury; Leo Hahn, Grand Island; Leonard Muskin, Omaha; Everett Lomax, Wilsonville; Edgar Thompson, Wisner; Leonard Gauger, Wauweta; Fred Meir, Lincoln; and Clark O'Hanlon, Blair.

He with us a long time, maybe four or five years." Then cheering up, he said, "But if you are really interested in our Traffic Problem, I'll call Lieutenant Halthem who can tell you all you want to know." Lieut. Halthem, a dark man of medium height and a brisk manner had just finished telling me about "automobiles" vehicles propelled by a motor which burns a fluid commonly called "gas." It had evidently been one of those which had sped past Regier Fellow and me as we were coming from the beach the day before.

I found that it was to the operation of these vehicles that "Highway Rules and regulations" referred to. "Is it possible for these automobiles to attain a speed of 50 miles an hour?"

How Thrilling and Terrible! "Oh, much greater speeds than that. Many drivers go 90 miles an hour and the record is over 300 miles an hour." I could do no more than gasp at these incredible statements, yet Lieut. Halthem had convinced me of his sincerity. "How thrilling such speeds must be, and yet how terrible!" I exclaimed.

"That's exactly right. But here at N. U. (I believe this was an abbreviation for Universitas Nebraskan), we are chiefly concerned with two other problems, Parking and Jay-walking." Inspect Traffic Worries. "Just what do those two terms mean?" I inquired.

FOUR TOURNEYS SWING INTO ROUND TWO IN PINGPONG

27 Coeds Sign Up for W.A.A. Table Tennis Singles in League A Play.

Four separate tournaments are well on their way into the second round of the W. A. A. ping pong intramural tournament, having finished the first bracket early this week. The W. A. A. council voted to sponsor ping pong in four separate divisions so that more women will have the opportunity of participating. Tournament play is included in league A and B of women's singles and in league A and in doubles.

Twenty-seven women were registered for league A singles, representing almost every sorority and organized house on the campus. Winning in the first round of the tourney were Pat Pope, Ruth Sobel, Frances Steele, Pauline Bowen, Priscilla Wicks, Janet Lau, Genevieve George, Katherine Kellison, Jane Ettinger and Marian Bradstreet. Receiving byes in the first bracket were Ruth Fulton, winner of last year's singles, Dorothy Allen, Hortense Cassidy, Marcella Davis and Ann Soukup.

Lois Cooper, Virginia Bergman, Mary White, Maurine Forak, Helen Dudek, Elizabeth Hanson, Mary Rhodes, Dorothy Glenn, Frances Goble, Myra Athey, Betty Clement and Terry York were eliminated when they were defeated in the first round.

In league B the following defeated their opponents: Claire Husted, Elaine Linecott, Betty Waugh, Betty Ann Clark, Ruth Koch, Frances Knutson, Margaret Anderson, Virginia Smith, Lorraine Schuck, Idella Iverson and Josephine Rubinitz. Eliminated after the first round were Janet Swenson, Betty Lamphere, Irene Eden, Rds Schweiger, Beverly Weaver, Irene Buckland, Helen Danner, Ruth Hanke, Jean Kirschner, Letha Peltz, Pauline Riffkin.

In order to advance to a higher bracket a player must defeat her opponents in two out of three games. Few third games have been staged, most players having defeated their opponents easily in two. Games are being played on the W. A. A. ping pong table in Grant Memorial.

GREEK CAGERS FINISH LEAGUE PLAY TONIGHT

A. T. O. Makes Strong Bid for Play-Off Series Championship.

Greek houses go into the final games of league schedules with the following teams heading their respective leagues: A. T. O. league I; Phi Gamma, II; A. G. R. league III; Kappa Sigs, league IV, and Phi Delta, league V.

Table with 2 columns: League One, League Two, League Three, League Four, League Five. Lists teams and their records.

The Men's Protective Association at Kent State college has the coeds biting their finger nails. It proposes "protection" for members against alleged coed offenses, to-wit: Gold-digging, last-minute "date" breaking, standing up "dates" and flirting with another while on same. Plus other items.

Men students get a list of questions monthly, and if their answers heap guilt upon coeds, a "black list" does the rest.

RED TRACKSTERS SCORE 89 POINTS TOWIN TRI-COLOR

Moore Leads Out as Best Individual Performer in Two-Mile.

Paced by Moore and Scott, who accounted for 12 points apiece, the Red track team won the third tri-color meet of the year yesterday, scoring 89 points to 66 for the Green team and 49 for the Orange. Bob Kahler, of the Green team, was high point man of the meet, with three firsts for a total of 18 points.

Tied with Scott and Moore for second honor was Beltz of the Green team. These three men all won two first places. Moore Wins Two Mile. Moore, duplicating his feats of winning both the mile and the two mile runs in both of the first two meets, turned in a 10:53.1 two mile for the best individual performance of the meet. This time is about the same as the time required to win the two mile run in the Nebraska-Kansas dual last Saturday. Bob Kahler, a new man, cleared 5 feet 11 1/2 inches in the high jump for the best freshman leap of the year.

Just before this meet, the team had been rearranged with the hope of making them more equal. In the first two meets, the Green team was about 20 points behind the other teams. The changes brought about the desired effect of strengthening the Green team, but apparently at the expense of the Orange, and another change seems likely. In only one event, the 440, did

NEBRASKA MERMEN SPLASH DUAL MEET WITH IOWA STATERS

Squad to Face Experienced Ames Team With Little Chance to Win.

The swimming squad left this morning at 7:30 for Ames, Ia., to engage the Iowa State team in a dual meet.

After losing to Minnesota in the first splash event, Nebraska then won from both Kansas U. and Kansas State. After participating in three meets, the team, consisting of seven sophomores and one senior has gained an immense amount of experience. With all its steady improvement, the Nebraska octet has little chance of out-splashing the Iowa State outfit, which is very strong this season.

Last year the Nebraska team won the Big Six conference meet, but due to graduation and unfortunate circumstances, lost many valuable lettermen. Today the weakened Nebraska team cannot win the meet but should come within 10 or 15 points of the Iowa State outfit, which is much improved over last year.

Hagelin Out. Pete Hagelin, swimming coach, has just come down with the flu and unfortunately will not be able to make the trip with the team. Eugene Beck, who is in charge of the swimming classes, will accompany the Nebraska squad to Ames. Iowa State has engaged in three meets this year. They outspashed Gustavus Adolphus and Charleston colleges but were trimmed by the Minnesota Gophers, but much less decisively than Nebraska. The Cyclones have two outstanding swimmers in Wimpy, who took second in the Big Six meet last year in the 220 free style, while Halterman, who swims the 50 and the 100, took third in the breast stroke in the meet last year. Both veterans are back on the squad again this year.

Charles McCaffree, a new man in the Big Six circles, and coach of the Cyclones, has successfully coached winning teams at the Battle Creek, Mich., high school for six years.
