LINCOLN, FOOTBALL SYNONYMOUS

The discussion, pro and con, over the addition of the Lincoln cathedral choir recalls an interesting tidbit in connection with one of the organization's visits to Pittsburgh, football's capital city. As the choir was marching down the aisle of a Smoky City church, a venerable old gent, sitting in the end of the pew, leaned out and tagged a member of the choir who happened to be a Husker footballer.

"Say," whispered the Pittsburgher between snatches of the processional, "how's your football team next fall?"

We relate this incident to show that in remote territories football is synonymous to Lincoln and vice versa. Just as we feel in this part of the country that a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh has a B. F. (bachelor of football) degree, so do the people in that part of the country look upon the University of Nebraska as the finishing school for upset teams.

The point is that the university now has a chance to add its name to a famed organization which has been heard and will be heard in the future all over the country. This is our chance to prove that we do more than just play football at Nebraska. Prep Tourney Wednesday.

The state high school basketball tourney gets under way in the coliseum Wednesday and the program promises to provide thrills galore for the cage fans. In class A, the leaders seem to be Omaha Benson, Lincoln, and Jackson, runnerup for two years running in the state tourney. The Bethany squad seems to dominate class B, but class C is unpredictable and should be anybody's meet with Liberty, the reigning champs, defeated in the district tournaments.

Dick Crayne of Iowa is the new backfield coach at Kansas, replacing Glenn Presnell, who signed up for a similar position here at the university. Crayne was all-Big Ten fullback at the Hawkeye school in 1935 and was a member of the college all-star team that battled the professional champions in Chicago the following August.

The past two years have found Crayne playing with Brooklyn Dodgers where George "Potsy" Clark, former K. U. coach, took up the instructional duties in the Dodger camp after grooming the Detroit Lions for the national championship the year before. Crayne served as captain for Potsy's team at Brooklyn.

O. L. WEBB PROMISES KEEN '38 CAGE MEET

State Preppers to Battle For Maple Crown March 9-12 in Coliseum.

Enthusiasm is soaring as cage teams are busily laying plans to participate in the annual Nebraska high school state basketball championships which will be held at the coliseum, March 9-12, inclusive.

Regional tournaments are now underway in various sectors of the state, and winners of these tests will be eligible to take the trek to Lincoln to face the severity of more cannonading.

O. L. Webb, secretary-treasurer of the Nebraska High School Activities association, promised cage fans that they will see one of the best tournaments that have ever been held in the state. Last year's tourney produced a fine exhibition of prep basketball, but this season's carnival is expected to be better.

Use Three Courts.
Champions in classes A, B and C will be crowned at the end of the show, March 12. All three university courts will be used to handle the large number of teams, but the varsity rectangle will be the scene of the finals of the three classes.

Two of last year's crown wearers, Omaha South and Liberty, fell victims to some classy performance and were eliminated in the regional tests. Coach Cornie Collins' South high quintet, class A rulers last March, was dropped by Omaha Benson, 30-28. Liberty was downed in class C.

Omaha Benson and Creighton Prep, the latter having held the state title twice before losing at Lincoln last season to Hastings, will carry the colors of Omaha. Jerry Dutcher, forward, who has averaged more than 20 points per game, will lead the Benson team

CORNHUSKERS WIN 3RD CONSECUTIVE LOOP TRACK TITLE

Nebraska Scores 38 Points In Conference Indoor Meet Saturday.

By Special Leased Wire.
COLUMBIA, Mo.—Missouri gave Henry Schulte a testimonial banquet, and Nebraska gave him another track championship, the Cornhuskers winning their third consecutive Big Six indoor track title here Saturday night. Following the dinner honoring Schulte, given him by his friends and former athletes here, the "Indian's" present track edition rolled up 38 points to make their coach's day a red letter one in his brilliant career.

Kansas State and Missouri tied for second with 23 points, Kansas had 20, Oklahoma 19, and Iowa State 9 points. John Munski, Missouri's great sophomore miler, set the only new conference record, galloping him in 4:19.2, one second faster than the mark established in 1934 by Glenn Cunningham of Kansas.

Ray Baxter, Nebraska high jumper, failed by one-eighth of an inch of equalling the record for that event.

in its quest for the state class A diadem.

Adult season tickets are being sold at $1.75, while single game admissions are on sale at 50 cents, save those for the finals, which are priced at 75 cents.

GRIDSTERS MOVE INSIDE FOR SPRING DRILL SATURDAY

Biff Jones Assigns Players To Squads, Stresses Kicking, Laterals.

Snappy weather forced the football players inside the stadium for spring football practice yesterday. Absence from the building of the indoor track team, which is attending the Big Six meet at Columbia, Mo., made the inside drill session possible.

During this first week of practice, the players are getting well seasoned according to Major Lawrence Jones, and the coaches are becoming well acquainted with the new men and their possibilities. These past six days have been occupied with assigning the players to various squads, getting them clicking in their respective teams, and grooming the whole outfit on about 10 or 12 plays. Kicking has also been emphasized.

Four Veterans in Mizzou.
Charlie Brock, center; Marvin Plock, halfback; Bob Mills, tackle; and Jack Dodd, halfback, are with the track team in Missouri and have not seen active duty during the first week of drill, but will be on hand Monday for the first session of the second week.

Saturday the boys turned out at 2 o'clock, an hour earlier than during the week, and saw the pictures of the Minnesota game in the lecture room. The calisthenics were livened up, and especially the side-straddle-hop, with the participants counting time while they lustily shouted the yell, "Nebraska."

Men Divide to Work.
As is the custom here at Nebraska, the men were divided up for work, the backfield under "Biff" Jones and Glenn Presnell, the ends with W. H. Browne, and the linemen to "Link" Lyman and Bob Mehring. The backfield worked on reverses, laterals, and end-around plays as well as line plunging while the line as a separate group carried out their part in another portion of the stadium. Later the entire outfit did the plays together in rapid succession, first one squad and then another. In these ten plays which were rehearsed, at times an unbalanced line was used. To make it more realistic, huddles were called, but dummies were substituted for the defense. The players showed a fine spirit, and rivalry sprang up between the various squads as to who could perform the plays in the best manner possible.

All candidates weigh in before practice and then again at the end. The chart shows that on the average the players have neither gained nor lost during the one week of practice, but that they lose on the average between one and two pounds from the two and a half hour drill, and sometimes as high as four.
