WHAT PRICE PEACE?

War clouds are gathering in many localities in Europe and Asia and a rain of lead is expected in the central portion, followed by a shower of miscellaneous explosives. The paradoxical slant to the matter is the fact that everyone concerned is making stout avowals of peace and that war is farthest from their thoughts. But, if we may believe the conglomeration of news dispatches, all that is needed to start a war is a militant, aggressive, intensely patriotic leader in Czechoslovakia or Lithuania.

If it so happened that a descendant of Patrick Henry should ever have left the United States for Czechoslovakia or Lithuania, and had his patriotic blood raised to the boiling point by the demands of the arrogant Aryan, Hitler, or of Polish imperialists he would do well to redeliver Patrick Henry's famous speech at the Maryland convention in 1774. He could quote the fiery American patriot's speech nearly word for word and yet be apt and appropriate. Patrick Henry opened thusly:

The Spirit of '74.

"It is natural to man to indulge in the illusions of hope. We are apt to shut our eyes against a painful truth and listen to the song of that siren, till she transforms us into beasts. Is this the part of wise men, engaged in a great and arduous struggle for liberty? . . . Are fleets and armies necessary to a work of love and reconciliation? Have we shown ourselves so unwilling to be reconciled, that force must be called in to win back our love? Let us not deceive ourselves, sirs. These are the implements of war and subjugation—the last arguments to which kings resort. (Now the first resort of the dictator).

What means this martial array, if its purpose be not to force us to submission? Can gentlemen assign any other possible motive for it? And what have we to oppose them? Shall we try argument? Sir, we have been trying that for the last ten years. Have we anything new to offer upon the subject? Nothing. We have held the subject up in every light of which it is capable, but it has been all in vain. Entreaty and humble supplication?

What terms shall we find, which have not been already exhausted? Let us not deceive ourselves longer. We have done everything that could be done, to avert the

More Pennies From Heaven Fall During June Than April, Reports Dr. Bengtson in Weather Survey

The popular conception of April showers is all wet, according to Dr. Nels A. Bengtson, chairman of the department of geography. April is not the month of the most pennies from heaven. More actual rainfall comes during June than during March, April, or May, and even hot July usually brings heavier precipitation than the spring months.

According to the records of the weather bureau during the period of years up thru 1932, more rain fell in the month of brides than in the much-touted months of showers and May-baskets.

Moisture Amount Shown.

The following two columns of figures show the amount of moisture received each month for the normal period prior to 1933 and for the five-year period extending from 1933 to 1937. All of the

SUNDAY'S CHORAL VESPERS FEATURE DR. E. A. STEINER

Grinnell College Professor Explains Art of Living Together.

Dr. Edward A. Steiner, a faculty member of Grinnell college, will explain "The Art of Living Together" at the choral vespers of the Lincoln Cathedral choir today at 5 o'clock at the Cornhusker.

Dr. Steiner, who has written extensively on problems of immigration, is a lecturer as well as a writer of books and magazine articles. He is particularly interested in religious research. He is professor of applied Christianity at Grinnell.

The choir will sing four numbers, "Welcome Again" by Christiansen, "So Soberly and Softly" by Christiansen, "Nunc Dimittis" by Gretchaninov, and "Now to the Sunset" by Sullivan.

CRITICS WILL DISCUSS PRESENT ART GALLERY TODAY AT 3 O'CLOCK

Kirsch Believes Current Display One of Finest West of New York.

This afternoon a symposium of opinion on the paintings on the art exhibit will be held in gallery A at 3:00 o'clock at Morrill hall. This program will be conducted by Prof. Dwight Kirsch; Miss Bess Steele, Associate Prof. of Home Economics. Mrs. B. E. Moore who is in charge of the art department at Miller & Paine; and Dr. O. K. Bousma of the department of philosophy will participate in the discussion.

The exhibit which is said by Prof. Kirsch to be the best at the present time this west of New York has attracted several hundred visitors from neighboring towns. Omaha, Crete, and Lincoln students have paid several visits. About 300 persons daily have seen the exhibit since it opened March 5.

Saturday the A. A. U. W. visited and was given a lecture by Dr. Kirch. A group of organized clubs from Crete also were Saturday afternoon visitors. John Stewart Curry who portrays life in the mid-

KLUB CONTRACTS BECK-JUNGBLUTH FOR SPRING SHOW

Reilly Chosen Romantic Lead As Production Plans Near Completion.

The Beck-Jungbluth orchestra will play for "Hades' Ladies," 1938 Kosmet Klub spring show, to be presented at the Temple theater the week of April 25, according to an announcement by Winfield Elias, president of the Klub, and general manager of the production.

Charles Reilly, Lincoln senior, has been selected to take the role of Harold Smooch, romantic lead of "Hades' Ladies." With the selection of Reilly, the cast for the show is practically complete, a few roles remaining only tentatively filled.

Elias stated that the Klub feels that with the signing of the Beck-Jungbluth orchestra, the best of musical accompaniment is guaranteed for the spring production. It is possible that Eddie Jungbluth himself will direct the band.

No announcement as to the personnel of the singing and dancing choruses of "Hades' Ladies" is being made at present, pending final checking of candidates' eligibility. Try-outs for parts in the two choruses, each to carry twelve men, were conducted last Wednesday and Thursday nights.

Franklin College Men Picket Gals For Bill Sharing

N. B.—Nebraska co-eds. Men students, enrolled in Franklin college, Franklin, Ind., are calling upon men in coeducational colleges all over the country to support them in their new (?) campaign for "equality of the sexes" or "share the wealth dating."

Franklin men have been picketing girls' dormitories on the Franklin campus, bearing placards demanding the following:

1. The third Friday of every month shall be independence day when girls must make the dates and pay the bills.
2. The third date with the same man shall be a dutch treat, with expenses shared equally.
3. Long suffering men students should be rated with at least the semblance of consideration and respect.

Nebraska men! . . . in the words of the French national anthem, "Armez Vous Battalions," and let's hop to it! The chance of a lifetime . . . We want one Mortar Board party per week!

BARB WOMEN TO CHOOSE A.W.S. REPRESENTATIVES

Unaffiliates to Fill Eleven Vacancies on Board in Vote Wednesday.

Eleven girls will be elected to fill the vacancies on the Barb A. W. S. board at the election to be held Wednesday, March 23. The vacancies consist of positions for three senior women, four junior women, and four sophomore women, who will be elected from a list of candidates to be announced on Tuesday.

Not more than one girl in each class will be chosen to represent Ag. college.

All barb women may vote on Wednesday from 9:00 to 5:00 on either campus.

The Barb A. W. S. board governs the activities of the barb women on the campus.

Gala Dance Presents Queen Of Holdrege Campus On March 25th.

Featured attractions this year at the annual Ag Spring Party to be held Friday, March 25, in the Student Activities building will be the presentation of the Goddess of Agriculture and the playing of Sternie Sternburg's 11 piece orchestra.

Preparations for this gala occasion are well under way and according to Ann Gerab, general chairman of the presentation committee, the Goddess of Agriculture will make her appearance in an entirely novel manner. The Goddess of Agriculture was recently elected by popular vote of all Home Economic students but her identity as well as that of her six attendants, will not be revealed until the night of the big occasion.

All candidates for the honor of Goddess of Agriculture were sent

MODELING REHEARSAL BRINGS COED FOLLIES PLAN TO COMPLETION

Sarah Louise Meyer Gives 'Line of Patter' for Show Thursday.

Dress rehearsal for some three score fashionable coeds will be held this afternoon in social science auditorium for the style show of the 1938 Coed Follies, to be presented Thursday evening at 7:30.

Models of all sections, including sports, date dresses, suits, coats, street and the best dressed girl candidates will parade in full dress in order to perfect their technique of modeling. Miss Nellie Eastburn of the physical education department will be present to criticize the posture of the models and help them with walking on the stage.

Sarah Louise Meyer, who was mistress of ceremonies for last year's show, will attend rehearsal to practice introducing the models with her well known line of patter.

Dress rehearsal for skits will be held Wednesday night beginning at 6:30 in the Temple. All skits are expected to be well rehearsed.

Present-Day Life, Civilization, Rest on 'the Oldest Science,' Claims Camp in Math Lecture

Because so few students have even a hazy idea of the contributions that mathematics has made to modern life, Prof. Chester C. Camp, professor of mathematics, was asked to deliver a lecture as a part of the year's lecture series to the freshman class concerning that science in general. "Some people think of a mathematician as one who can add up a column of figures without making an error," he said. "The fact is that so few of them can do this that a calculating machine has been invented to do it for them. In fact, all precision instruments and machinery in general have been made possible by modern mathematics."

He pointed out some of the many applications and contributions mathematics has made to life today. Among them is the compound microscope, and the mathematician has been able to notify the astronomer of the ap-
