WORLD'S GREATEST MILERS AT K. U.

One of the greatest mile races in the history of the middlewest will be run this Saturday at Lawrence as the feature of the 16th annual Kansas relays. The field annual Kansas relays. The field team here today, by a score of will include Glenn Cunningham, 7414 to 5614. Part of the meet Archie San Romani, Gene Venzke, was run during Archie San Romani, Gene Venzke, and Don Lash.

These four are considered to be the cream of the milers in both hemispheres. Cunningham is undoubtedly the best of the four but new meet rechis three opponents have all reg-istered good marks in the middle distances. San Romani and Lash stepped off a mile at Princeton tenths of a secin history. Both runners crossed the hemp line in a dead heat with drews dropped the watch showing 4:07.2. The out of the mile two best times were turned in by Cunningham, outdoors, with 4:06.7 and by Woodersen, the British record holder, who was clocked at 4:06.4. Indoors, Cunningham, ran a mile last winter in the sensational time of 4:04.4. Kansas Relay observers are saying that with a field such as the one that will meet Saturday, it is highly probable that a four minute mile

An old feud will be resumed at the relays Saturday when Jud Atchison of Texas and Bob Hubbard of Minnesota meet again in the broad jump. Last year at Lawrence Atchison jumped 24 feet 11½ inches, but lost by one quarter of an inch to Hubbard who won the event. At the Texas relays a couple of weeks ago, Atchison leaped 24 feet 7% inches and then watched Hubbard jump exactly the same dis-tance to tie him. Now Atchison swears that he'll jump 25 feet at the Kansas relays and settle the matter once and for all.

Judging from the best marks turned in so far this season, Ne-braska's only chance for an individual championship will come in the shot put where Bob Mills stands up among the leaders. Al-len Dillon of Drake who beat the Husker at the Texas relays at Austin the first of the month has registered a heave of 51 feet for his best mark. Mills will get another crack at him Saturday. Also in the running will be Lohkamp of Emporia Teachers whose best mark so far this season has been 48 feet 7 inches. Mills' best toss in competition this season has been 48 feet 9 inches. With the spring football drill officially over, gridiron fans will settle down into a state of watchgul waiting until the opening whistle sounds next Oct. 1 when the Huskers will be the guest of the Galloping Gophers at Minneapolis, In the meantime all sorts of stories will be circulated as to the relative strength of this team and of that. Like as not, the Huskers will be a formidable invincible foe by the time September rolls around and should Nebraska repeat and defeat the Minnesotana for the second time such adjectives as steamroller, avalanche, power house, etc., will be ineffective as would creampuff for King Kong.

This is to be expected as stories upon the condition of a particular team have the habit of multiplying and growing until the team is hardly recognizable. Local sports fans are rather independent of the newspapers, however, and each person that has any interest in the football team at all has the strength of the next year's squad all sized up and nothing that can be said or shouted will change his

The bad effect comes within the Since the squaff can't see in action it must take the word of the newspaper and often press notices will cause the team to think it's good until some better team takes all of the wind out of their sails. The idea that I'm trying to get across is that the talk about a team that circulates at odd times before the beginning the season serves to heighten the nervous tension under which the team labors and it is like to play much differently on the field against an intercollegiate opponent than it does on the practice sod.
