Everybody imitating Flotsam and Jetsam of Kosmet fame... Rutlie Stephens blossoming out in a cunning two piece brown linen... The D. U.'s holding song practice in the wee hours... Eleanor Lutz never showing up at class without her lesson... A new Phi Gam plaque covering the crest that once hung above their door... Doty Doll again on the fancy free list... A row of overturned porch chairs on the A. T. O. front porch... Marian Bremers looking high-schoolish in hair ribbons to match her pastel sweaters and anklets... Grant Thomas playing Casanova as no one else could... Ginny Geister airing her views on women, and showing a really feminine point of view... Bob Armstrong truly minus a Beta pin... A pair of Sigma Chi brooches delivered at the Alpha Chi house by mistake... And still more plans going forward for Ivy Day.

Hell broke loose at the Delta Gamma house Wednesday night when the gals discovered that Jane Cook has a candid camera which she has been making the most of. Armed with her precious recorder she invaded the darkest closets and really brought out skeletons. The sisters have threatened her very life if she has them developed, so they must be good.

John Bishop, titian-topped Sig Ep, and a first rate perennial bachelor, claims a deep dark love affair in his past. This quite an unexpected development because everyone just naturally supposed Johnnie was a woman hater of the first waters. To add to their surprise, this enterprising young man has been frequenting the Phi Phi house and all on account of Mildred Weber.

Perhaps someone should explain to Stanley Peterson the meaning of a fraternity pin. Maybe some of the A. T. O.'s could enlighten him.

SOCIETY.

The Zeta Beta Tau Circus at the Cornhusker is certainly turning out to be a big blow out, from the comments heard on campus. The ballroom will be fixed up as the inside of a circus tent and it will have all the airs of being under a big top. A fortune teller will be there in all her glory to tell those curious about the mysterious future what it holds in store for them.

The party was first announced by hand bills which told of the circus coming to town and later Annie Oakleys were sent around to those invited. They were in the form of tickets with different divisions good for different things. But probably you could make them good for most anything.

Theta Xi is having its Founders Day banquet at the Cornhusker Saturday evening at 6:30. Russell Landrog will be Toastmaster. After the banquet there will be some entertainment at the house.

The Delta Upsilon Mothers club is giving a buffet supper for the chapter this Sunday at the chapter house. Unlike their other buffet suppers when they have just one sorority, this one will have individual guests invited.

Don't forget for entertainment tonight, the Scabbard and Blade party, and for tomorrow night, the Phi Gam, Tri Delt, Alpha Xi Delt and Phi Psi house parties, or the Kosmet Klub show.

Palladian Literary society is having a progressive banquet Saturday evening at 6:15. First course will be at the Y. W. C. A. Second course will be at the home of Marie Piazza, and the final one will be at the home of Prof. J. E. Alexia.

Theta Chi initiated Ben Foster, George McMurtry, and Ralph Staibbaum Sunday at the chapter house. Following the ceremony the chapter entertained at a dinner. A recent election in the chapter placed George Cameron as president and Joy Ballery as vice president.

Mary Jane Wilson, Pi Phi, and Jerry Adams, Sig Ep, have cut the ties that bind. We are not sure of this. It is on the word of the snoopers who double dated with them the other night.

The Kappas are really studying at last. With the help of the boy friends, they work out their problems every night. They really study, so they tell me.

The story that Mary Anna had the other day was partly right. Virginia Clemens, Pi Phi, has taken Bob Armstrong's Beta pin but she didn't get it after the Tri Ad party but at 5 p. m. on Tuesday of the following time. Ha! Ha!

Bus Knight, the he man of football, came into the Campus Inn yesterday. No sooner had he stepped across the threshold than he was mobbed by three dames who seemed eager for a coke or his bright shining face to stare at. What a personality!

Now here is a bit of news from Grinnell, that school in Iowa. The stu's go in for picnics in a big way and every effort on the part of the school is done to make their parties a success. Lunches are put up for nothing and blankets are furnished. Why can't we have that kind of co-operation?

Irene "Baby" Neville, Kappa, put the big pin on the sweater. Bud Yoder's Phi Psi pin is the one in question.

Three of the Kappas have gone for a little vacation and during the week, Tsk Tsk, Betty Ray, Susie "He Man" Bradford, and Sue "Bucket" Heskaber have taken a little jaunt to Des Moines to find Bucket a job teaching the young ones how to be good in kindergarten. The other two girls went for the ride, supposedly.

AG-GRAVATIONS

The Farmers' Fair Board put on a parade yesterday that was really something. They wound around most of downtown Lincoln all forenoon and ended up on sorority row serenading the girls' houses and boogieing the boys. Melvin Beerman looked plenty all right on a cream colored pony, but it is lucky that Lois Lichliter was in class at the time because Mel's rope got foxy and smaked around some pretty girls here and there. We're wondering if that is the way he got Lois in the first place.

Major Bowes was named the honorary president of the Farmer's Fair board last night at the big rally held in Ag hall. We agree that he would make a swell president, but here's hoping that he doesn't ring the gong on our fair until after May 7.

We finally have found the reason why Vinton Hester rates so well with the women. We were fooling around with a hand lens in Botany Lab yesterday morning and his upper lip happened to come into focus. Lo and behold, upon that manly lip was the beginning of what may be in time a big black mustache.

Kampus Kapers, the big indoor show of the Farmer's Fair, put on their preview last night, and it looked pretty good. Arnold Peterson is directing the show and is supposed to know all about it, but even he was open mouthed in admiration at the way Kampus Kouquettes put on the swing number. Pessimist Eric Thor, who is general manager, claims to be going gray fast from trying to keep the coeds from ganging the Messersmith brothers as they rehearse the Pony Chorus act. Harriet Stearns is doing a tap routine that is worth writing home about. Yow-sah, folks, the Indoors show is bound to be one of the best features of the whole Farmer's Fair.

CBS Opens New Hollywood Station

The Columbia Broadcasting system will celebrate the opening of its $1,750,000 KNX Columbia Square studios in Hollywood tomorrow with the longest continuous broadcast in radio history.

The dedicatory programs will occupy eighteen and three-quarter hours from 6:00 a. m., P.S.T., to 12:45 a. m. the following Sunday morning. Besides being presented over the complete CBS network or portions of it, several of the features are to be picked up by the Canadian Broadcasting corporation and many will be short-waved to Europe and South America.

The climax of the inaugural celebration will be a two hour program to be broadcast over the nationwide CBS network tentatively announced as 12:00 p. m. to 2:00 a. m., C.S.T. Hollywood's leading radio, stage, and screen stars will participate in this salute to the new Pacific Coast headquarters of CBS.

Among the stars who will help dedicate the new station will be Al Jolson, Martha Raye, Edward G. Robinson, Claire Trevor, Raymond Patig, Cecil B. DeMille, Eddie Cantor, Joe Penner, Parkyakarkus, Jean Herscholt, Frances Langford, Frank Parker, Ruby Elzy, and many others.

Altogether, seven special programs will be presented during the day from the new studios.

Among the tsars appearing as guests on the programs during the afternoon and early evening will be the Raymond Scott quintet, Frank Trombar's orchestra, Johnny Mercer, Johnny Davis, Buddy Rogers, Mark Hellinger, and movie executives Louis B. Mayer, Darryl Zanuck, Adolph Zukor, Jack Warner, Jesse Lasky.

Benny Primes Car for Hack Race Classic

Jack Benny's Maxwell will take curves on two wheels, with Rochester eating lunch and driving at the same time. So predict Hollywoodites in anticipation of the annual Fresno State College Hack Race, in which Benny's famous old jilopy will take part. This mighty test of mechanical speed and endurance will be broadcast over a coast to coast national hookup over NBC stations at 6:45 p. m. e. s. t. today.

Jack's car will be piloted by the redoubtable Rochester. Jack's valet, Benny's car qualified with ease, as the only qualification was that the car be of '25 vintage or before and not worth more than $50.00.

The race course over which Rochester will have to drive the Maxwell is a mile track laid out in a deserted cactus patch. A few hazards, such as an irrigation ditch, a 50 foot stretch of plowed ground, and a few odd tree stumps, have been distributed over the grounds.

All Jack's car needed in the line of repairs for the race was a new set of tires, a new rear end, a reconditioned steering knuckle, and three men to push it.

Benny says he will not enter the car in the Indianapolis Memorial Day race.

Paul Whiteman will take his program "Southern Collegiate" for five shows during the prom season, starting May 13. The stout fellow, whose program is heard over CBS outlet KFAB every Friday from 6:30 to 7:00, will invade the Duke University Campus the evening of May 13, and the following week will play from the Spring Dance of the University of Tennessee in Knoxville.

May 27 will find the jazz-master and his group back in New York for a regular broadcast, but the following week they hit the trail for the University of North Carolina, where they will help dedicate a new gymnasium.

June 10, Whiteman will cart his
