REGISTRATION QUESTIONNAIRE

Registration is heading down the home stretch now while sections are closing and students with lack of foresight are sweating for fear they won't be able to get in at least one course they consider a breather or snafu.

Students who have a vague idea of going to work at something when they graduate are puzzling or have puzzled out their majors and minors. Since that kind of students comprise the great majority of collegians it might perhaps be appropriate to give another little helpful questionnaire. Here goes.

Section A.

Sample. A fish needs (fins, wings, legs) to swim with.

1. A student needs a (pencil, an adviser, an aspirin) to register with.

2. An adviser needs (patience, two aspirins, another adviser) to cope with his advisees.

3. A parent needs (understanding, money, faith) in order to permit his offspring to register.

4. An adviser will need (a traffic cop, a package of aspirins, a Micky Finn) on the last day of registration.

5. Freshmen need (help, time, a compass) in order to register.

Section B.

Sample. People have more fun than (anybody, Greeks, you and me).

1. Adviser's secretaries have more friends than (Hector had pups, you and me, the guy whose best friend won't tell him).

2. Military Science has more sections than (anybody, advanced math, a Pullman car).

3. A puzzled registrant has more wrinkles in his brow than (a house steward, a lawyer on the eve of exams, both of us).

4. An adviser has more advisees than (there are democrats, a dog has fleas, Carter has pills).

5. There are less snafu courses than (last year, anybody, you think).

Section C.

Sample. Hitler is like (himself, a Fuller brush salesman, nobody else).

1. Picking out a pipe course is like (looking for needles in haystacks, stealing out of a blind man's cup, searching for hidden meanings).

2. Arranging a schedule so you have no classes on Friday is like (talking Jim Farley into promoting postmasters on merit, pulling teeth out of a chicken's mouth, selling war munitions on a cash basis).

3. Getting every class you want is like (getting the bread passed to you the first time you ask for it, the millenium, the Husker baseball team winning six in a row).

4. Having no 8 o'clock is like (heaven, a waste of time, having no 8 o'clock).

POLICE REGISTER 400 FINGERPRINTS IN OPENING DRIVE

Students Jam Office First Day of F.B.I. Campaign To File Handmarks.

As approximately 400 persons left their fingerprints, the identification campaign got under way yesterday, keeping four operators from the state and county sheriff's offices and university and city police departments working to capacity. The plan to obtain the fingerprints of all the students and place them on file in the civil identification division of the federal bureau of investigation is being sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega and the university police department.

A 15 minute man-on-the-street program was conducted yesterday morning by Jack Hansen of KFAB, Col. C. J. Frankforter and Prof. J. M. Reinhardt were interviewed, as well as a number of students, to bring out the protection value of the program. Hansen described the process as the fingerprinting experts took prints.

Drive Continues to May 14. To each student a card bearing the imprint of his right index finger was issued to be carried on his person as an ex-er present means of identification which is easily used. As the students filed through the entrance of the Student Union, where the facilities are set up, they filled out a sheet which is sent into the FBI with separate imprints of each finger, simultaneous prints of their four fingers and extra print of each thumb.

The drive will continue on the city campus until May 14 and will be started on the Ag campus May 16.

University Statistician Predicts Business Upturn

Prof. W. A. Spurr Finds 5 Factors Which Point To Recovery.

Despite the marked downward movement in business during the past several months, Prof. W. A. Spurr, business statistician, finds that there are five factors which seem to promise a sustained period of recovery beginning perhaps as early as this fall.

According to Prof. Spurr, "Industrial production, commodity and stock prices, and business profits declined precipitously from August to December last year. Although it was hoped that an upturn would follow President Roosevelt's announcement of his spending-lending program in April as it had under similar circumstances in March 1933, business has continued to slump."

Underlying Strength.

The University's business statistician finds, however, that there are five conditions of underlying strength which promise to make this depression milder and shorter than the last one.

UNION PROVIDES ROOM TO EAT COLD LUNCHES

Van Sant Asks Students Not to Use Lounge For Dining.

"Many students evidently have not been informed of the room in the northeast corner of the basement which has been set aside for those bringing lunches from home," stated Kenneth Van Sant, Union director, yesterday, when asked about the use to which the room has been put so far.

According to Van Sant, tables and chairs have been provided for all who wish to eat their lunches in this room. Some students have been eating lunches in the lounge, and this practice is frowned upon by the Union management. "The room was furnished for students bringing lunches and it is hoped that they will take full advantage of it," added Miss Marian Steel, Union hostess. "Drinks or anything extra which they may desire may of course be purchased in the grill room on the first floor."

Many Items Go Astray in New Student Union

Lost: Term paper filing case, lipstick tube, and everything else you can think of from hats to watches. . . in the Student Union building during the first week of its functioning. Up to yesterday at 3 p. m., exactly 19 articles had been turned in at the check stand in the main hall. . . and they belong to someone. . . so, Kenneth Van Sant, Union director, urges that any students recognizing any of the following articles come and claim them.

- Following is the list of lost or found, whatever you wish, items:
  - 1. One black straw hat bought in Alliance, Neb.
  - 2. One lady's blue straw hat.
  - 3. One well bitten pipe.
  - 4. One pair blue kid gloves.
  - 5. One pair blue silk gloves.
  - 6. and 7. Two pairs of brown cotton gloves.
  - 8. One pair of black cotton gloves trimmed in leather.
  - 9. One white knit tam.
  - 10. One green flowered belt (size 40).
  - 11. One Parker deluxe Ever-sharp pencil.
  - 12. One keyring with two keys.
  - 13. One lady's red felt hat.
  - 14. One lady's raincoat.
  - 15. One tube of lipstick.
  - 16. One pair of earmuffs.
  - 17. One St. Regis pocket watch.
  - 18. One term paper card case, belonging to "June Maine."
  - 19. One sterling silver ring with either a diamond stone or a piece of glass set into it.
- The woman's belt was found in a most peculiar place. . . the men's washroom. Just a little mistake, for there are no signs. Some girl is missing the ring, which appears to be an engagement ring, so the thing to do would be to run up to the Union office and claim the ring, that is, if it's yours.
