Drawing Half Fills Student Section

Two thousand seven hundred and fifty seats in the student section of Memorial stadium were allotted yesterday afternoon as Daily Nebraska Editor Morris Lipp completed individual and group block drawings.

But four organized groups were among the first 25 names drawn. Phi Kappa Psi, Kappa Delta, Sigma Alpha Psi, and Kappa Sigma received choice seats.

Purchasers of athletic books during the coming week will be seated in the remainder of the 5,500 seats in the section. This year, as in the past, the student section is located in the east stadium—stretching from the north to the south ten yard line, and extending from the first to the 30th rows.

Athletic Business Manager Solleck warns that preventive steps will be taken to allow no outsiders in the student section. Special entrances will be used by users of student athletic books, and identification cards will be presented with the tickets.

The first 25 individuals drawn and entitled to choice positions are:

Alexa Boettner	Kappa Delta
Phi Kappa Psi	Rosalind Letterlak
Robert Campbell	Sigma Alpha Psi
James Kinross	Kenneth Kahler
Henry Bralinsky	Marshall Hickey
Robert Thomas	Melvin Hoska
Wesley Peterson	Charles Albertson
Josephine Chamberlin	Eugene Blaguer
Lawrence Barrett	Nappa Hayward
Anna Brown	Elyse Green
William Mitchell	Dorothy Noel
Sara Kauffman	Charles Nitz

Music Series Doubtful as Sales Lag

Symphony Board Meets To Decide on Concerts

With the end of the ticket sale for the Lincoln Symphony concert series only one day away, the Symphony orchestra board will meet this afternoon to decide whether ticket sales warrant the continuation of the project.

Miss Elizabeth Tierney, faculty member of the board, declared Thursday afternoon that tickets were not going fast enough as it is necessary to sell at least 500 student tickets and 1,000 general admission tickets to make the project a success.

Also the number of student tickets sold by Thursday evening is about equal to the number sold last year during an equal period, the number of general admission tickets sold is far below the number sold last year.

Miss Tierney further disclosed that the array of talent offered by this series is far superior to the array of talent ever offered by any previous series. If the project fails there will be no outside musical talent brought to Lincoln this winter. Student tickets for the series, costing $3.50, may be purchased at Miss Tierney's office, 213 Morrill hall.

Volunteer Unit Seeks Recruits

Cornhusker Company To Meet on Saturday

Senior officers of the Cornhusker company battle training unit are conducting a recruiting campaign this week in the basic drill classes, in an effort to gain enough new members to fill vacancies. Speakers who are carrying on the drive are: Kermit Hansen, Robert Pillsbury, George Meier, Thomas Hicks, Ritchie Clarke, and Robert Beruter.

Initial meeting for prospective members will be held this Saturday, Oct. 1, at 9 o'clock in room 201, Nebraska hall. Following a short organization meeting, the first of the practice sessions of the company will be held. Due to the migration to the Minnesota game, the next Saturday, Oct. 8, has also been set by Maj. John U. Aoyotte, company sponsor, as a day for recruits to turn out.

Organization of the company will be completed within the next two weeks, according to Major Aoyotte. In order to make certain that appointments are made on a merit basis, both juniors and sophomores will be allowed to compete for the non-commissioned positions. A limited number of freshmen will also be admitted to complete the membership quota.

Members of the unit can be identified by blue denim uniforms, which are issued to them to save wear and tear on their clothing during sham engagements. In recognition of volunteer work, company members are given a banquet in the spring, at the expense of the military department.

Fewer Nebraskans Scream For Commercial Ice Cream

Survey Divison Blames Home Refrigerators

We may all scream for ice cream, but it's no longer the commercially manufactured kind, according to a recent survey made by the conservation and survey division of the University of Nebraska. Not lack of appetite but increased home use of mechanical refrigeration and the oft-blamed depression are held responsible for the great reduction in manufacture of commercial ice cream in Nebraska from 1929 to 1933.

Previous to this period, this industry had shown a steady increase in production, hitting a high of 3,000,000 gallons per year in 1929. By 1933, however, production of the commercial product had been reduced about half.

Polo-Kiss, Ice Cream. No less varied than the flavors of ice cream is the history of the product. Marco Polo, who taught the Chinese how to kiss, learned from them about ice cream and carried this information back to Europe. By 1774 frozen custard very like present day French ice

Frosh Fill Eyes With... Pretty Husker Co-eds

Newcomers Approve Female Student Body

After three weeks of classes, the freshman boys have formed a number of conclusive and various ideas upon the feminine student body. Today, eight of the "youngsters" were shoved into a corner and made to "fess" up. It was amazing, to say the least.

Bill Runbold, freshman football star, believes that they are about the most charming things that he has ever seen. He also says that they have a definite eye for handsomeness. Whether he meant his own or that of the general student group shall remain a mystery.

Although Bob Fink of Lincoln goes a little far when he says that he has a "crush" for beauty and that this is the only plenty of exercise he gets on the campus.

"I believe that the feminine body as a whole is well shaped, well dancery, and pretty and—gosh, what else is there to say?" We left Irvin Balbe at this point for we thought he'd said enough.

Bill Foster, who is a Wyoming

man, said, "I used to live in the sugar beet country but believe me, I've never seen anything as sweet as the girls around here."

Our quest for new material took us into the main lounge of the Student Union building where we found John Scott and Dick Wendland, both of Lincoln. Both were rather pessimistic about the whole thing. Dick contended that the girls weren't what he expected them to be while John believed that he would do much better if he stayed with the Lincoln girls.

Phil Duley, an arts and science student, spent several minutes convincing us that Nebraska girls presented the uni with a bumper crop of beautiful "fems" besides the regular corn crop.

Bob Stienmeyer, who hails from Holmesville, Neb., had nothing to say on the subject. He felt that words could not adequately give vent to his feelings. A mystery man!

The ultimate conclusion of these interviews, in our mind, is that most of the freshmen are not the "little green things" that they are supposed to be.

Tassels Extend Ticket Drive

University Players Open With 'Judgment Day'

Continuing the University Players ticket campaign thru the second day, the Tassels turned in the results of this ticket selling drive which has been extended until next Tuesday, last night at the second meeting in the Temple theater. The drive has been extended as an accommodation to students desiring to buy tickets.

Mary Jo Henn won high prize last night with a sale of 21 tickets. Eleanor Sprague was second, selling 20 tickets, and Ann Husted sold the third largest number, 15. Virginia Nolte, president of Tassels and chairman of the girls of their group, reminded the girls of their goal of 2,000 tickets. Since 1929, the Tassel organization has sold tickets for University Players, every year selling more tickets than the year before.

'Judgment Day' Chosen.

"Judgment Day" by Elmer Rice is the first of the six plays which the University Players will give this year. It is a timely play, especially interesting because it is a trial of dictatorship vs. democracy. The scene is a courtroom in a fictitious Slavic country with three persons, Lydia, Eleanora, George Khitov, and Kurt Schneider, on trial for attempting to assassinate the dictator. The case is heard by five judges who are told how to vote by the Minister of Culture and Enlightenment, General Michael Rakovskis. One of the accused is a German, one a woman whose brother has come from the United States to defend her, and the third, Khitov, believes in doing away with dictatorship for the good of the common man.

Satire on Dictatorship.

The three accused persons, on the side of democracy, have no chance to win, for the entire court—prosecuting attorney, attorney for the defense, and judges—is run by the government. The play ends when the accused woman's husband, who has been arrested for treason, shoots the dictator.

'Judgment Day,' a satire on dictatorship, is well worth seeing.

Union Installs Gridgraph

Device Helps Students Follow Gopher Fray

Kenneth Van Sant, director of the Student Union building, has announced that a Gridgraph will be erected and operated in the Student Union ballroom during the Minnesota-Nebraska game. This board is operated by electricity, lights being used in the place of the players on the field.

The lights move in the exact position of the play of the game on a board marked like that of a football field. Separate lights on the side of the field mark the down, the yards to go, the yard loss, or gain, the time to go and the quarter. Each player on the field has a separate light. This light goes on when he carries the ball and when he makes a tackle.

The cost of this board is very great and the cost of operating it is no small sum so the Student Union has sacrificed a great deal of money for the cause. In order that the practice may be kept up, a large number of students must attend. The admission is free.

Cafeteria Inaugurates 20 Cent Meal

Union Food Director Offers Balanced Diet At New Low Prices

Resulting from the requests of many students, the Student Union began its new project yesterday of serving a complete 20 cent meal to students in the cafeteria. Out of 100 students who had been interviewed on the advisability of the subject, 71 had been in favor of the low priced meal and had promised to patronize it.

Mrs. Quisenberry, food director for the union, has completed the plans for the meals and has presented the following menus for student approval have been presented for student approval for the adoption of the plan: Baked beans, ham salad sandwich, corn starch pudding with custard sauce, bread and butter, and choice of drinks; or, rice bergs, cottage fried potatoes, creamed peas, bread pudding, fruit sauce, bread and butter, and a choice of drinks.

The new plan was put into effect Wednesday, Sept. 28.

One of the questions that confronted Mrs. Quisenberry was whether the student would want the meal in the cafeteria or in a dining room. The percentage was in favor of the cafeteria plan so it was opened to all students Wednesday noon. Formerly, many students had eaten in the many cafes surrounding the campus and had not been particular enough in their diet, not being able to afford it.

The plan is for the benefit of such students, their number being estimated in the hundreds.

Cole Reviews German, Czech Racial Backgrounds

Anthropologist Points Out Many Similarities

Stepping down from the platform of the Temple theater after delivering a very informative address upon "The Anthropology of Race," Dr. Fay-Cooper Cole, head of the Anthropology department of the University of Chicago delayed his lunch to chat with the reporter about race in the present European crisis.

"The Sudetens have a common tradition in language and nationality with the Germans," said the anthropologist. "Most of the peoples in Czechoslovakia are Caucasian with the Alpine race predominant. But more than 40 percent of the Germans are also Alpine."

Dr. Cole pointed out the importance of the great number of Alpines in Germany, stating that what Hitler would like to talk about is the Nordic race, not the Aryan, but that the term Nordic would exclude almost half of the Germans.

Cheers to Send Off Jones Boys

Initial Rally Tomorrow Starts in East Stadium

First rally of the 1938 football season will be staged tomorrow night in the east stadium, beginning at 6:45 o'clock, in honor of Coach "Biff" Jones and the 1938 Cornhuskers, who will leave shortly afterwards for Minneapolis and their all important inter-sectional tilt with the mighty Minnesota Gophers.

Highlights of the rally will be short talks by Jones and by Game Captain Charley Brock. Variety cheer leaders will be on hand to bring enthusiasm to fever pitch.

Tassels, Corn Cobs, and Innocents will also attend the rally. The university band will play Cornhusker songs to complete the send off from the stadium.

For a brief time before the squad entrains, students and fans will echo Cornhusker songs thru the depot, with a few short speeches by squad members also scheduled.

One hundred percent attendance of students at the rally is asked by George Rosen, chairman of the rally committee.

"The Magyars of Hungary, a few of which are in Czechoslovakia are Mongoloid in origin," the anthropologist declared. "They came to Europe from the orient in the same wave of migration which carried the Finns to the Baltic and the Magyars to the Gates of Vienna."

"If Hitler wishes to include all Aryans in Germany," said Dr. Cole returning to Germany; "he would have most of Europe and even some of the primitive tribes of India, for an Aryan race is a myth. The term Aryan refers to language."
