

Kosmet Klub Calls in Entries

Groups Must Submit Skit Plans by 5 Today For Thanksgiving Revue

Filing of skits for this year's Kosmet Klub fall revue closes this afternoon at 5 o'clock. All organized groups wishing to compete for a place on the program to be presented Thanksgiving morning, Thursday, Nov. 24, must have written entries in the hands of the Klub by today.

Entries should include, if possible, some idea of the general theme of the skit, the approximate number and names of persons participating, and the name and telephone number of the skitmaster. Skits may be either full stage acts or curtain numbers, the latter necessarily shorter in duration. Filings may be made in the Kosmet Klub office, room 305 of the Student Union.

Active members of the Klub will meet this afternoon at 5 o'clock. Holding this year's show on Thanksgiving morning is a reversion to the traditional date occupied by the event up to a few years ago. The Kansas State-Nebraska football game will be played in Memorial stadium in the afternoon.

Barbs Pick Candidates

Unaffiliates Prepare Fall Election Slate

Half a hundred barbs were disappointed when the pictures of the Minnesota game failed to materialize at their meeting Monday night, and only promises were given that the pictures would be made available next Monday. The university athletic department, however, promises faithfully that the pictures of the Minnesota game will be shown in the Student Union ballroom next Monday, and the Oklahoma pictures the following week.

Candidates for the junior and senior class presidencies were selected at the meeting, and were instructed to file as the official candidates of the barb union. A motion passed that the members of the barb organization be instructed to vote for the barb candidates for Honorary Colonel. The name of the barb organization was officially confirmed as Barb Union.

Two barb dances are included in this week's social program, with an hour dance at the KKG house from 7:30 to 8:30 Saturday, and a dance in the Union ballroom from 7 to 10:30 Friday.

Judging Team Wins in Kansas

Group Takes First Place For Livestock Valuation

The university agricultural college livestock judging team won first place Saturday at the American Royal in Kansas City, out of 17 teams entered.

The Nebraska team placed first on cattle, second on horses, third on sheep, and tenth on hogs. Team members were Edward Zann, Spalding, James Sanders, Landsay, Tom King, Albion; Laurence Butler, Utica and Paul Fidler, Melrose, Mont.

In individual rankings, Fidler placed first on horses and Sanders third on horses. King, Zann and Fidler tied for tenth place on cattle. Zann was seventh high individual of the entire contest.

Second place in the contest went to Kansas State college. Texas A. & M. was third; Wisconsin fourth and Iowa fifth. Prof. M. A. Alexander of the animal husbandry department coached the Nebraska team.

Methodists Eat Chili Saturday

Wesley Foundation Plans Novel Party

An all Methodist chili feed will be held this Saturday in the Student Union to acquaint new students with the Wesley Foundation program. Music, entertainment and presentation of the program by committee chairmen of the Methodist Student Council will follow the feed which begins at 6 o'clock in parlors XYZ.

General chairman of the event is Arnold Pittman, social chairman of the Methodist Council. Buela Brigham, Council president will preside. Bruce Van, Eva Mae Cromwell, Lucille Soderholm and Arnold Pittman are committee chairmen who will speak briefly.

Football Crowd Holds Temperate Record

Only one drunk, not a student, marred Nebraska's record for lack of drinking at football games Saturday, and only 13 liquor bottles were picked up during and after the fray, according to Sgt. L. C. Regier. There were no reports of picketed pockets, alto stadium plainclothesmen found intact several wallets which had been lost by knotholders.

any other interested in his topic Thursday at 4 o'clock. The lecture will be on his trip to Mexico, in the auditorium of the social sciences.

This lecture series, which the talk by Ramsay will inaugurate, is being planned by the Spanish and French departments to acquaint their students with the lives of the people in French and Spanish speaking territories. The series idea had its inception at the university of Wisconsin, and gives the students an opportunity to add three extra points to class grades each semester by attending and reporting the lectures.

Goodyear Men Meet Seniors

Insurance Company Conducts Aptitude Test

Tom Pryor of Akron, Ohio, representing the Goodyear Tire company, will be on the campus to get a "preview" of those June graduates who may be interested in the rubber business on Friday, Oct. 28th. Some time in the spring he will return for a series of more extended interviews. In a recent letter, he states that he is delighted with the showing that the ten Nebraska men chosen earlier this year are making. It is in part because of this that he is planning to be at the university for two visits this season.

One of the best known insurance companies in the country is to give psychological tests on Nov. 10th to seniors who wish to discover their aptitude for selling. According to officials of this firm, the tests have proven very helpful during the past few years in determining just who will respond satisfactorily to sales training although they admit that failure to pass their test does not necessarily indicate lack of sales ability. Passing the test does show, tho, that given perseverance, success in selling is assured, they say.

Curious seniors, as well as those who have a serious interest in selling are invited to take the examination. Arrangements to meet Mr. Pryor of the Goodyear company and to take the insurance tests may be made in Mr. Bullock's office, S. S. 306. Appointments will be made during the week of October 24-28: 9-10 M., W., F.; 10-11 T., Th.; 1-2 T., Th.

Three Plays Open Studio Theater Year

Group to Present One-Act Dramas

Studio theater will open the year's performance Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock at Temple theater, room 201, with three, one-act plays. These plays are given by the students in speech work as a corollary to their study.

"Overtones," the first of the group, is an interesting impersonation of duo-personality with two characters portraying subconscious counter-parts. The characters are Rilla Mae Nevin, Rowena Beadle, Dorothy Mae Poellot, and Tex Rounds.

"At the Sign of the Cleft Heart," a fantasy on love, will be presented by Jack Bittner and Barbara Burke.

"Beside Manners," a comedy concerning a doctor and a very sympathetic woman who visits the sick and tries to console them is the third play to be presented. Bernard Menke is the doctor and Jean Morgan is the woman.

These plays are public and all students interested in dramatics are invited to attend them.

Grad College Sets Record

Current Enrollment Total Ups Old Mark

An increasing number of students are continuing to choose the University of Nebraska as the institution in which they are going to carry on their advanced educational program. According to statistics from Dean F. W. Upson's graduate office, it is shown that a total of 473 have registered for graduate work compared to last year's 452. One hundred out of the 452 are working for Ph.D. degrees. A number are taking the advanced course but are not working for advanced degrees.

French Library Gets New Books

Department Forms Book of Month Club

A new French book for pastime reading will be placed in the library of the romance languages department each month through the efforts of several faculty members and graduate assistants in the department who have banded together in a "French Book of the Month Club."

Two books have already been received and are making the rounds of the club members. When all the subscribers have read each book, a meeting will be held to discuss its content, and the books will be placed in the library for immediate circulation. The new volumes are "L'Elu" by Van der Meer, and "L'Affaire de la Rue Lepic" by Henri Bordeaux.

Coeds Attend Charm Class

Mrs. Minter Talks At Session Tonight

Charm school's pre-Christmas meeting of the year tonight in Student Union parlors XYZ, at 7 o'clock. Mrs. C. Minter will talk on the subject, "A Charming Personality." The meeting is open to all campus women, especially coeds new to the campus this year.

Charm Schools pre-Christmas program includes a style show Oct. 25, to be held at Hovland & Swanson. On this occasion the doors will be locked at 7:10 and no one will be admitted after that time. The following week's meeting will feature instruction with demonstration in becoming hair-dress and the proper use of cosmetics for formal and campus wear.

Table manners will be the center of interest at another meeting. Favorite of many is the annual "book meeting," at which a book of particular interest and profit to college girls will be presented.

Meetings will be held on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month. All girls are cordially invited to attend.

Houses Hear Jones, Koo

Notables to Speak During Religion Week

Chances for organized houses to have their guests such outstanding speakers as E. Stanley Jones, T. Z. Koo, and Grace Sloane Overton are being offered as a part of the "Religion and Life Week" to be held on this campus Nov. 13-18.

B. B. Henry, chairman of the Religious Welfare council revealed yesterday.

Additional speakers who will be present on the campus during the week include Sam Higginbottom, Albert W. Palmer, Frank C. McCulloch, Joseph P. Sittler, Jr., Benjamin E. Mays, Herrick B. Young, T. O. Wedel, H. D. Bollinger, Jesse M. Bader, Harold C. Case, Father Malachy Sullivan, and Rabbi Samuel S. Mayerberg. All of the religious fraternities, sororities, dormitories, organized boarding houses, and student houses.

In order that members of organized groups have a better opportunity to become acquainted with the noted speakers who will feature the "Religion and Life Week" program, the opportunity for special dinner meetings and fireside discussions has been placed on the program for each day. Organized groups may have the speakers as their guests from 5:30 p. m. until 7:30 p. m. any day from Nov. 14 to 18.

A committee headed by Lewis Anderson is organizing the dinner meetings at the various houses. Organized groups wishing to secure speakers for some evening during the week are asked to contact Anderson as soon as possible, in order to be assured of being assigned a leader as their guest.

Quisenberry Confers at Ames

Karl S. Quisenberry, professor of agronomy, will go to Ames, Iowa, tomorrow to attend a two day conference on experimental and statistical methods in agricultural research, to be held at the state college.

Attending the research meet will be agricultural scientists from North Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa, Ohio and Washington, D. C. One of the major subjects for discussion will be the co-operative crop-weather and statistical research projects now under way in several midwestern states.

Fall Election Filings For Presidencies, Colonel, Sweetheart Open Today

Farm Formal Queen Entry List Closes

Men Students Choose Coed Ruler Saturday

Filings for Farmers Formal queen close today at 5 o'clock, according to an announcement by Ruth Bauder, publicity chairman of the ag executive committee. The queen will be chosen by the men students present at annual Farmers formal to be held Saturday evening, Oct. 22, at the student activities building on the ag campus.

The activities building will be decorated in Susie Q and Dude ranch fashion as Ag students, dressed in the style of the old west gather to dance to the music of Dave Haun and his orchestra.

Highlight of the evening will be the presentation of the Farmers queen whose identity will be revealed in a novel presentation ceremony.

Milton Gustafson, president of the board, warned that at least one member of each couple must be an Ag student, and costumes appropriate for the occasion will be necessary.

Election Rules. Rules governing election of the queen, issued Monday by Ruth Bauder, chairman of publicity committee are as follows:

1. Only undergraduate girls who are enrolled in the college of agriculture, and who have completed not less than 89 credits.

Cowles' Work Draws Crowd

'Showers on Rio Grande' Strikes Student Fancy

Approximately 600 people have attended the one man art exhibit of Russell Cowles in Morrill since October 9, according to Professor Dwight Kirsch, chairman of the fine arts department. Three hundred people, mostly high school students in Lincoln for the football game, viewed the exhibit last Saturday.

The most popular painting on Saturday proved to be "Showers on the Rio Grande." Professor Kirsch attributes this to the presence of two high cows in the foreground of the painting which seemed to amuse the "knot-hole" students. Another painting which has proved popular during the exhibit is Mr. Cowles' "Country Folk."

The exhibit will be in Morrill until October 29th. There are twenty oil paintings and twenty water color drawings on display. Mr. Cowles' Lincoln exhibit comes from the Nelson Memorial gallery in Kansas City and started its nationwide tour in New York City.

A.W.S. Launches 'N' Sticker Drive

Misses Nolte, Pascoe Address Fresh Groups

Freshman A. W. S. members met Monday at 4 o'clock at Ellen Smith Hall under the supervision of Pat Pope to be instructed in the selling of "N" stamps.

These stamps are selling at one cent each to advertise homecoming to out of town enthusiasts. Each coed was encouraged to sell numerous numbers of stamps, both on the campus and downtown.

Results of the prize winners of the different teams will be known Friday. The final check up will be made Monday following homecoming.

City campus members of A. W. S. are urged to attend the meeting Wednesday at 5 o'clock at Ellen Smith Hall. Jane Allen has been chosen president for the meeting and Virginia Nolte will speak on the organization of Tassels.

Freshman A. W. S. on the ag college campus will hear Helen Pascoe, president of the A. W. S. board, today at 4 o'clock. Miss Pascoe will explain the work that the board does in A. W. S., an organization to which every woman registered in the university automatically belongs. She will also explain ways in which freshmen girls may work up to be members of the board, the organization and activities.

YMCA Reduces 'N' Book Price

All new students have the opportunity to purchase N Books at the reduced price of five cents this week at either Ellen Smith from Esther Ostland or at Temple from C. D. Hayes.

Earl Constable, who is in charge of sales, said, "This reduced rate has been made because of the delay in printing of the books. We expect all new students to take advantage of it."

YWCA Calls Final Drive Report Today

All persons connected with the Y. W. C. A. finance drive must attend the check-up meeting today in Ellen Smith hall from 4:30 to 5:30, according to Campaign Director Josephine Rubnitz. Final reports will be made at this time.

Meet to Draw 130 Kansans

Engineers Conclave Opens Friday Afternoon

More than 130 engineers from Kansas are expected to arrive in Lincoln this week end to attend the 23rd annual meeting of the Kansas-Nebraska section of the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education which will be held here Friday and Saturday.

Sessions will be held in the Mechanical Engineering building, according to Prof. D. H. Harkness, this year's program chairman. Meetings are divided between the three neighboring institutions, the last one being held at Nebraska in the fall of 1935.

Scheduled for Friday afternoon is registration, a tour of campus buildings, and a tea for ladies in the Student Union building. Opening address of the convention will be given Friday evening at 6:15 in the Union by Chancellor C. S. Boucher on the subject, "Professional Education." Following the dinner program delegates will adjourn to different rooms in the Mechanical Engineering building for round-table discussions dealing with current problems in the respective engineering fields.

Chairman of the agricultural engineering round-table will be Prof. C. S. Smith; Prof. L. B. Smith of the department of architecture will preside at the group meetings of this division; Prof. C. J. Frankforter, chairman of the chemical engineering meeting; Prof. L. A. (Continued on Page 2.)

Council Schedules Polling for Oct. 25 In Union Basement

Filing period for candidates in the fall election will open today in the student activities office in the coliseum and close Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Positions to be filled in the election Tuesday, Oct. 25, include junior and senior class presidencies, Honorary Colonel, and Nebraska Sweetheart.

Polling place this year will be the hall running east and west in the basement of the Student Union, according to Bob Simmons, chairman of the Student Council committee in charge of election. Voters will descend the west staircase and identify themselves at the west end of the hall. Pictures will be required on identification cards of all voters, the election having been purposely delayed this year in order to make enforcement of this rule possible.

After being duly identified, voters will then pass on down the hall to the east to cast their ballots. No one will be allowed in the hall during poll hours, except officials and students actually in the act of voting and it is hoped that thus the confusion and resultant illegal voting of past years will be curbed.

Other members of the council elections committee in addition to Simmons are Marion Kidd and Byrle Schuck.

French Club Begins Activities

Misses Talbot Tell Of School in France

Nan and Harriet Talbot will tell of their past year at school in France to members of the French club, when it meets for the first time this year tomorrow night at 7:30 in room 219 of Morrill.

With Mr. Jean Tilche in charge of the meeting, election of officers to serve for the 1938-39 season will be held. Transcribed music of a Brahms sonata will complete the entertainment. All French students are invited to attend.
