One of the most unusual letters ever to come our way came into the office the other day. Under the letterhead of the United Hot Clubs of America, Inc., it contains a somewhat scathing denunciation of the present 'swing' fad as distinguished from that which the society defines as legitimate jazz.

The jitterbugs now face scorn on two sides—from the devotees of Beethoven and Bach and even more heatedly from the serious lovers of hot jazz, who evisted before and will remain long after the death of the present swing fad.

Every time we see Frances Rehmier she is either with Arnold Detmer or looking for him. To use her own words, "Ain't love grand though?"

By the way, dates for the Poultry Club's swing session are already being made. Rumor has it that Glenn "Hannah" Thacker and a certain Tassel will be there, discussing the finer things of life, no doubt.

Brokaw to Talk at Farm Banquet

Event to Honor 28 Nebraska Farmers

W. H. Brokaw, director of the college extension service, will be the chief speaker at the statewide Pasture-Forage-Livestock meeting in Omaha on November 22, it was announced today. He speaks on the evening banquet program on the topic: "Pastures Build Land and Men."

The evening banquet will also feature the honoring of 28 Nebraska farmers who have gained recognition for their balanced farming operations during 1938. Three of them getting superior recognition will tell of their own experiences on the evening program at the Omaha Chamber of Commerce. The other 25 will receive honorable mention. Silver water pitchers go to the three and certificates of achievement to the honorable mention winners.

Selection of the 28 farmers is now going forward at the college. A committee is visiting outstanding participants this week. Meantime plans for the afternoon "clinic" at the Paxton hotel are being completed by the Pasture-Forage-Livestock committee. It is to get underway at 2 o'clock and will feature discussions of farming operations in various parts of the state.

War Only Reality.

"Education in relation to weapons is, in point of fact, the very core of our entire education." A typical example of the kind of mathematical problem German children are required to solve, from Otto Zöll's textbook, National Optical Application of Algebra: "How many people can seek protection in a bomb proof cellar, length 5 meters, width 4 meters, and height 2.25 meters? Each person needs 1 cubic meter per hour."

Negroid France!

England out of envy, destroyed her rival in the field of world economics, Germany. Without her colonies, France would today be a power of secondary rank only; with approximately one-sixth colored population, European France today can hardly be regarded as a white people.
