Husker Cagers In Intra-Squad Game Today

Varsity Hoopsters Work on Pass Phase; B Team Meets Luther

Stressing passing and offense, Coach Browne last night put his varsity hoopsters thru a brisk set of drills to perfect their floor work. Individual drill has been receiving the most attention this week along with a certain amount of team drill.

Coach Browne takes two teams of his varsity cagers out to the Ag college court this afternoon to help accustom their drill work and team play to a strange floor. Tallman, Thomas, Werner, Pitcaithley, Kovanda, Randall, Fitz, Grimm, Elliot and Taylor are the men who will go with Browne.

The remainder of the squad will remain with Assistant Coach "Chill" Armstrong at the coliseum and practice for the B team against Luther, Saturday afternoon. Only those who have not lettered in basketball are eligible to play on the B team. Those who will probably see service in the B team are: Dunker, Therion, Duncan, Jackson, Schulz, Yaffee, Hulbert, Rubino, Solden, Van Buskirk and Wertman.

Football Aspirant 'No Good,' Gives Back Scholarship

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (ACP). They don't pass around medals to people who do things like Ed Waszak did some two weeks ago, but when they do, this 21 year old college man who hoped to be an outstanding football player at the University of Florida this season, ought to get one.

Ed was one of the 28 soph on Coach Josh Cody's Gator football squad when September 1 rolled around. He hoped he could be a sophomore linesman who learned rapidly and acquire the necessary skills to meet the competition of college football today.

Because he was on the varsity squad, Ed was provided, in accordance with conference rules, room and board. Though he dreamed of being a star, Ed was disappointed in the realization a fortnight ago he simply did not have the abilities and talents necessary to make him the kind of player Florida needed.

And so Ed Waszak, on his own, went to Coach Cody and admitted he didn't have it in football—as much as he loved the game, and as much as he loved the thrill of the personal contact which the game provided.

"If I can't help you, Coach," the 205 pounder said, "then I don't think I should receive scholarship assistance."

The assistance Ed received was a factor in his college life, but he took the course that a less courageous student would never have taken. But Ed has the courage and today he is continuing his college education, still refusing to accept any more than he can repay in service or ability.

Cadets Accused of Gold-Digging

Wentworth Students Study Rating Book

LEXINGTON, Mo. (ACP). If you think all the gold diggers are blondes and live on Broadway you are wrong, for Captain Tom Emerich will tell you that they are cadets and they live at Wentworth Military academy here.

Captain Emerich's curiosity was aroused by the increasing number of cadets who have come into his office to consult his Dun & Bradstreet rating book. In interrogating one cadet who came in with a long list of names of business men in several states whose credit rating he wished to ascertain, the captain asked him what he was doing.

"Well, captain, I have dated 17 girls this past summer," the cadet replied, "and I want to find out which one of the girls' fathers has the most money. It's his daughter that I expect to marry."

Alpha Chi Omega Defeats Phi Mu

Gamma Phi, K. D.'s Play Ball Tonight

One team to compete in the finals of the intramural Nebraska ball tournament was determined last night in Grant Memorial when the first Alpha Chi team won from the Phi Mu's. The score of 34 to 12 would not demonstrate the kind of a close game that it really was. Both teams fought to the very end for supremacy. Betty Sue Myers led the victors and Woodie Campbell the losers.

The other semi-final game will be played tonight between Gamma Phi and Kappa Delta. The finals will then be held on Monday in Grant Memorial.

Biff and Babe Hold Confab

Biff Jones and Babe Hollinberry exchanged grins and light pleasantries Thursday at Hollinberry's Washington State squad worked out en route to Norman, Oklahoma, where the Cougars will meet the Sooners Saturday. As co-coaches of the West eleven in the annual New Year's day East-West game at Frisco, Jan. 2, Biff and Babe also took this opportunity to lay a few plans for selecting the personnel.

Brock Misses by Narrow Margin U. P. All-American

Big 6 Players Make Up Half of 3rd Team Line

The annual United Press poll for All-American football players placed Charley Brock, Gill Duggan and Waddy Young, both of Oklahoma, and Ed Bock of Iowa State on its third team. Ki Aldrich of the undefeated Texas Christian eleven and Dan Hill of Duke's Rose Bowl team won over Charley by one of the narrowest margins in recent years. Big Six players made up one entire side of the third team line.

Pitt Gets Two.

Two of the greatest teams of the nation, Texas Christian and Pittsburgh landed two men each on the first team. The Horned Frogs placed Davey O'Brien at quarter and Ki Aldrich at center. Pittsburgh contributed Marshall Goldberg at fullback and Bill Daddio at end.

Eric Tipton, Duke's kicker, and Parker Hall, Mississippi's burly halfback, completed the backfield along with O'Brien and Goldberg.

Bud Holland of Cornell, last year's choice for All-American at end, was on the second team. Bob MacLeod of Dartmouth and George Cafego of Tennessee, on many other All-American elevens, were placed on the second eleven by the United Press.

Wosycki, Daddio at Ends.

On the first eleven John Wosycki of Villanova and Bill Daddio of Pittsburgh were on the flanks, Joe Benior of Notre Dame and Al Wolff of Santa Clara at tackles, Ralph Heikkinen of Michigan and Bob Suffridge of Tennessee at guards, and Aldrich at center. O'Brien, Tipton, Hall and Goldberg make up the backfield.

Cougar Squad Stops Here

Washington States on Way to Oklahoma

Coach Babe Hollinberry and his Washington State squad of 29 men stopped off here yesterday for a brief workout on the stadium field before leaving for Norman, Okl., for a game Saturday with Coach Tom Stidham's Big Six champions.

Hollinberry, with Major Biff Jones will coach the all-West team again this year for the San Francisco, and so this visit gave the two coaches a good opportunity to talk over selections for this year's team.

Washington State will depend upon their strong forward wall to win from the undefeated Sooners. The Cougars have had a losing season and would like to wind up with a win. Dick Farnanz and George Hubert, a pair of fine tackles, are expected to give Oklahoma running plays trouble.

Sig Alphas Cop Volley Crown

Champs Defeat Sig Eps 2-1 in Hard Fought Tilt

Sigma Alpha Epsilon broke the monopoly held on intramural championships this year by Sigma Phi Epsilon when they defeated the latter team 2-1 in a nip and tuck match Wednesday night for the volley ball crown.

The game was featured by the outstanding work of three members of the basketball squad, Bruce Duncan for the Sig Alphas, and Bob Elliott and Bill Kovanda of the Sig Eps. Superior team strength was the decisive factor of the match.

The Sig Eps advanced to the finals by a victory over the Phi Psi in the semifinals while the Sig Alphas defeated the Sigma Chis, 2-0, to earn the right to play for the championship.

In the playoff for third place Wednesday night the Sigma Chis defeated the Phi Psi.
