

Dawn of wintry weather for the biggest upside fun of the year... with wider than ever corsages and hair ornaments planned, like the bird cage tiara from a Pi Phi to a Sig Alpha, or the last weeks flowers from Delta Gamma to DU's... and among the looks forward are to a going steady between Casey Kappa Campbell and Bob Conrad, quite soon... seen along O' street, Professor Winnaker, being led by seven little boys, all the same size... SDT Jo Rubnitz raving over the memories of Johnny Hamp's music in New York... a Fiji who recently hung his pin receiving every sort of ducking to promote cigars... Tri Delta Olive Smith and Ruth Ludwick sending boom-boom monogrammed popguns to their DU and Beta dates... an announcement of the engagement of Alpha Xi Delta Arlene Orent to Dr. Merlin Mason... Saturday afternoon fun to be taken care of by the W. A. A. play day at the bowling alley... Kappa Epsilon taking a rush trip to the hospital for "penicillin"... DG "Speed" Smyth receiving numerous tubbings for candy to the rest of the girls... "I Lost You" composition of SN Harold Atherton, to be played at the Mortar Board party... so be there to hear it and see the big fun...

Mortar Board Fun Brings Males' Worries
Fellows will steal the spotlight this evening and girls will pay at the Gala Mortar Board Party. This past week members of the fairer sex have been making plans for the boys entertainment. Gamma Phi Helen Kovanda says that Lynn Myer's corsage isn't a birthday cake, flowers or Christmas tree, but a combination of all three. The SDT's won't divulge their plans for the evening, yet warn some of the fellows, Art Hill, Bob Cohen, and Stewart Ganz to eat three hearty meals today, for food is scarce around 12 midnight.

Funeral Wreath, Pretzels.
A funeral march should be dedicated to Beta Gene Burchess. He is scheduled to receive a wreath from Rosanne Sheehan, Kappa Phi Psi, Werner Buch, may demand some kind of liquid refreshment from Jeanne Newell—she plans to adorn his lapel with a corsage of pop corn and pretzels. Chi O's Barbara Dale, Ruth Stephens, and Dixie Davis had better copyright their original designs for corsages so that the boys won't be embarrassed if they meet any doubts. With the best of intention and no subtle meanings attached, DG's Polly Perkins and Gene Harmon have ordered panies for Neal Felber and Bud Luther of Delta U.

Calla Lilies, Suckers.
Marg Krauss has gone scotch and is using the same corsage for Don Carlson that he sent her last week—mighty clever. Alpha Phi Phyllis Curtis has specified calla lilies, violets, and panais for SAE John Keating, and has gone poetic by writing a verse for each flower. Lucky Elton Wiley, Tri Delta Fris Wick's date won't go hungry—if he likes life-savers, suckers, and gum drops, his corsage.

Johnny Hamp just breezed in from the Junior League party in St. Paul Minn. He furnished the music there last Wednesday to complete another fine engagement.

Alpha Phi is having a dinner at the Cornhusker hotel preceding the Mortar Board party for Phi's and their escorts.

Theta Xi pledges will entertain active at a Christmas party at the chapter house Saturday night.

Sigma Alpha Mu is having its 12th annual Founders Day banquet Saturday at 7:30 at the Cornhusker. Alumni from Sioux City, Kansas City, and Omaha will be present.

Students wishing Christmas photographs from Cornhusker sittings should place their orders immediately.—Townsend Studio.
