

Prom Girl election set for Feb. 28

Door voting abolished; candidates must file between Feb. 20, 23

Election of the 1939 prom girl will be held in the Union on Tuesday, Feb. 28, according to prom committee members. Candidates for the honor must file their names in the student activities office in the coliseum between Feb. 20 and 23.

"We feel that by holding a general campus election before the prom, a more representative expression of student opinion can be gained than by the old method of voting at the door on prom night," stated Roger Cunningham, co-chairman of the prom committee. Last year was the first time that an early election has ever been scheduled.

Presentation Contest Closes.

Presentation of the girl elected on the 28th will be featured as the highlight of the annual junior-senior prom on Friday, March 3, the official closing dance of the formal season. A contest to obtain a suitable presentation scheme is now being conducted under the direction of Fred Stiner and Elizabeth Waugh.

Entries in the contest must be in by Friday, Feb. 17, and must be accompanied by a detailed list of expenditures necessary for the scheme. Filings may be submitted to the editor of the Daily Nebraskan. A prize of $10 will be awarded to the best entry, although if cost of the presentation exceeds $35, prize money must be forfeited.

Finkelstein talks at vespers today

Choir services honor Jewish religion at 5:30

Aaron Finkelstein, junior law student, will be featured speaker at the Lincoln Cathedral choir vesper service today at 5:30 o'clock in the Cornhusker ballroom.

With the program honoring the Jewish religion, Finkelstein will speak on the famous Temple of Solomon in Jerusalem. Houghton Furr, junior in the university, will be guest organist, and will play "Ave Maris Stella," by Harvey Gaul, and Caesar Frank's "Chorale in A Minor."

The choir, directed by John Rosborough, will sing three numbers: "This is the Hour of Prayer," by Jarm; "O God, Hear My Prayer," by Gretchaninoff, and "Nunc Dimittis," by the same composer.

Vesper programs, open to the public, are broadcast by stations KOIL and KFOR.

Carnival

(Continued from Page 1.) bull's eye contest.

The Seven Wonders of the World will be shown by Rosa Bouton hall; Barb A. W. S. will have caricature shooting. Wilson hall has planned a penny throw, and Carrie Belle Raymond hall, a telegraph office.

The Coed Counselor board will itself sponsor the refreshment booth and a dancing concession for which music will be furnished by a public address system.

Tickets for the carnival are 15 cents and may be obtained from any Coed Counselor, board member, or from special ticket sellers in each organized women's house. Each ticket will entitle the holder to one vote for the best concession, which will be presented an award at the end of the carnival.

Lincoln schools give credits outside vocational training

Employers cooperating to diversify education

In an effort to give junior and senior high school boys, who are compelled to work part time, training in the particular vocation in which they intend to spend their lives, a program of diversified occupations has been adopted this year in the Lincoln and Havelock high schools.

With co-operation of employers in the city, these schools offer a credit for a certain amount of the boy's work on placement. Some registrants are studying salesmanship in association with training given them in filling stations, garages and grocery stores in the afternoons.

Training in definite trades will make it possible for the students to hold down skilled jobs after graduation. Too many of the part time occupations for young men leave them with nothing which they are able to do. It is felt that this program will turn out workmen, skilled in their employments as well as trained in general arts and science courses.

Must Meet Regular Requirements.

All students must meet the constant requirements necessary for the high school diploma. Such courses include history, English, science education, music and art. With these courses as a general background, the student is expected to major in the field of technical instruction, devoting his elective hours to the study of industrial relations and employment problems. Ten hours of additional credit, applicable on graduation, is given for each 15 hours of placement work at the business in which he is employed.

All students registering for the diversified occupation program must be working in some trade that requires sufficient education to warrant a two year course of instruction. In some cases the faculty will try to find employment for others who desire to train themselves for some particular job.

Taubes' art work to show in Morrill

Exhibition has appeared in leading galleries of U.S., foreign nations

From Honolulu comes the Frederic Taubes exhibition which will be hung in Morrill from Feb. 12 to 26. Taubes is considered one of the ablest artists in America today, and has had exhibitions in leading galleries in the United States, Vienna, Munich, Paris, Warsaw, Bucharest, Jerusalem, Prague, and other cities.

After seeing his work, reviewers commended it for "superior technique, attractive sensuous quality of color and brushwork, and originality which makes him a first rate painter." The red appearing in many of his paintings is quite noticeable and lovely in treatment. Among the twelve pictures now at Morrill are landscapes, figures, and still life.

Began Study at Six.

Taubes began the study of art at the age of six and continued under such eminent painters as Franz von Stuck, Bauhaus, and Doerner. Travelling extensively through the Orient, he lived in Paris and Berlin, finally settling in this country—where he has lived for the past eight years.

Surrealism which caused so much comment on the campus not long ago can be detected in a few of the landscapes, the "atmosphere of reverie, elusive landscapes full of mysterious eminence." Keeping the romantic touch, Taubes still attains fine form and composition.

"Girl on the Terrace" is to be shown in the Nebraska Art Association's annual exhibition in March.

Awgwan

(Continued from Page 1.)

the time of this writing, was unknown even to the Awgwan editor. There are rumors that the article is so daring in its revelations, that the author feels his life may be endangered if premature knowledge of it reaches the criminals, who are, as yet, still at large.

Pulp vs. Slick.

The Awgwan will be, physically, probably the most unusual magazine published during February, having its fiction pages of pulp, and advertising pages of slick paper. The provision for the gloss paper had to be made to satisfy advertisers who were reticent about advertising on pulp paper.

Intramural debate tourney to begin

Meet to include Greek, non-fraternity teams

Intramural debate teams will meet March 9 in the first round of the annual competition. The topic which will be debated is: Resolved, that the president of the United States should be elected for a term of six years, and be ineligible for renomination.

The tournament will be divided into two sections, one for the Greek men and one for the non-fraternity group. Any man interested in the debates may enter, the only restriction being that fraternity and non-fraternity men cannot pair together.

Material may be found in books held on reserve in the university library next week. Bibliographies of the books and pamphlets from which material may be taken will be obtainable at 111 Andrews as soon as they have been collected.

Abbott

(Continued from Page 1.)

staff members will be held at 6:30 in the Union, with V. C. Hascall of Omaha, president of the Nebraska Alumni association, as toastmaster. Highlighting the evening's program will be addresses by Chancellor Boucher and Miss Abbott. All reservations for the dinner must be made before 5 o'clock Tuesday.

Victor B. Smith of Omaha, president of the University Foundation, will preside at the organization's annual business meeting Wednesday noon in the Union. Reports will be given covering the year's activities.

Miss Abbott, principal speaker at Wednesday's convocation, has been president of the National Conference of Social Work, the American Association of Schools of Social Work, and is a member of the American Economics association and the American Institute of Criminal Law.

Ferguson directs celebration.

Alumni of the university in Albion, Alliance, Broken Bow, Clay Center, Columbus, Curtis, Fremont, Geneva, Holdrege, McCook, Norfolk, North Platte, Pierce, Scottsbluff, Sidney and Tecumseh will take part in celebrations similar to those scheduled in and around Lincoln. Thruout the country, in cities on both coasts, loyal alumni will also unite for the alma mater's birthday.

Arrangements for the celebration in Lincoln are under the direction of Dean Ferguson with Ray Ramsay, alumni secretary assisting. Ramsay is directing preparations for the evening program and banquet arrangements.

Union harmony hour set for tomorrow, 4 to 6

The Union Harmony hour will be from 4 to 5 o'clock Monday and Thursday at the Union. Sponsored by Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, men's professional music fraternity, program and commentary notes are arranged by Leonard Peltier. The program:

1. Berceuse from "The Tempest," Schubert.
2. "The Afternoon of a Fawn," Debussy.
3. "The Dance of the Hours," Ponchielli.
4. The Prologue from "Pagliacci," Leon Cavallo. Sung by Lawrence Tibbett.
5. "Frühlingsstimmen," Johan Strauss.

Be her best beau—give your Valentine something to wear! Any of these new, new accessories will delight her—keep you in her thoughts! Expensive-looking, they cost little.

Bags she'll carry proudly! Shining patents, doesuedes. Vivid new colors, black 1.95 and 2.95

Gloves to match her bag—a grand gift! Doeskins in vivid new colors, white. All styles. 1.95 and 2.95

Costume Jewelry—surprise gift! Enchanting flower and semi-precious jewelled types. Bracelets, pins, clips, necklaces. 1.00 and 1.95

"Flower" Gloves she'll love

Choose a gay glove in one of the season's lovely colors, and a gay nosegay she can tie about her wrist.
The Glove.....1.95
Posies.....50c

Come to the Sunday
Laugh
Session

4:30

No Charge

Student Union

IT'S THE COMEDY OF ERRORS

For One Week . . . February 14-18

Written By . . . WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE

Produced By . . . UNIVERSITY PLAYERS

Showing At . . . Temple Theatre, 12th & R

Nightly at 7:30, Tuesday Thru Saturday

Always a Seat for 25c