As I See It

Hark, ye brethren; The DAILY NEBRASKAN will soon announce its all Big Six basketball team. In fact, said team will be announced this week, so, to you who love to gripe about the injustices done by all star selectors and selections, this is fair warning.

There won't be any iron man stunts pulled in this spring's high school track and baseball meets, for boys participating in one aren't eligible to enter in the other, so the boys who like both sports will have to make their choice.

According to other information from Wilbur Knight, Cornhusker baseball coach who is directing the baseball tournament, all teams will be entered in the same classification, there being no A, B, C or D divisions.

Should more than 16 teams enter, the tournament will begin on Thursday, May 11, and run three days, instead of being played only on Friday and Saturday in the event 16 or fewer enter. The games will go seven innings, unless ties necessitate extra innings, and will all be played, as far as possible, on the university diamonds. Other Lincoln fields will be used if they're needed.

High school basketball: About the hottest class A regionals were at Norfolk...in the two semifinal games, Norfolk beat Pierce, 28 to 26, and Ainsworth beat Albion, 26 to 25...Then Norfolk won from Ainsworth, 27 to 25 in the finals...yes, we're another of those picking Creighton Prep to win...but the Jackson high team which beat Lincoln 43 to 25 Friday night didn't look bad at all...if Prep wins the basketball tournament, it will give them the first lap on the two championships they have a good shot at this season...they'll be one of the favorites in the baseball tournament, too, with a lineup including a number of stars from the Omaha McDevitt junior legion team.

One of the best high school teams in Dixieland is that of Durham, N. C...they've won 37 games in a row, and beat the Duke frosh, 71 to 45 recently...the Duke boys had previously lost but 2 of 14 games...Bob Voights, star Northwestern tackle, was elected honorary captain of the Wildcats' basketball team...he's been a guard on it for three years...thrill of a lifetime came recently to a North Carolina U. student...altho ineligible for his school's boxing team, he wanted to see the conference championship, so he thumbed his way...he caught a ride with Billy Conn, the newest boxing sensation, who was on his way to Miami in a new Buick.

One Husker rates lowan's 'All' Big Six

Sports editor chooses Werner only 'N' man among top 16 hoopsters

Sports editor John Rohlf, of the Iowa State Daily Student, selected Alton Werner, Cornhusker guard, as Nebraska's only representative on his All Big Six team which he described as a basketball "eight" with everything—speed, spirit, stamina, scoring punch and defensive ability. Werner was the only Nebraskan to be selected on either the first or second Big Six team of the Daily Student.

Oklahoma and Missouri cagers dominated the loop selections of the Daily Student. However, every conference team was represented on either the first or second team. Sooner 'flash' unanimous choice.

Unanimous choices for berths were Jimmy McNatt, Oklahoma's flashy forward, Homer Wesche, Kansas State's great senior pivot and conference scoring leader, and John Lobsinger, captain of Missouri's loop leaders. Rohlf wrote of Werner as the satellite guard in an otherwise drab Husker season who received enough votes to put him in the top flight.

McNatt and Wesche are the lone repeaters from last year's "all" choices. Werner, a senior, led the Cornhuskers with 166 points for the season. His consistent scoring was responsible for his winning a place on the Big Six first team as selected by the Daily Student.

A complete roster of both teams appears below.

Harlan Kiersey, Mo., Sr., 5-11	F

Garnett Corbin, Okla., So., 6-0	F
Ervin Reid, K. S., Sr., 6-1	F

Friday will be devoted to football. In the morning from 10 to 12, members of the coaching staff will lead discussions on the game with emphasis on kicking, passing and the sequence of plays. Movies on six man football will be shown in the afternoon after a football discussion led by Kurt Lenser of Stratton and John A. Quade of Hardy.

Sutherland resigns Pitt coaching job

School's new purifying policy believed to have caused 'Jock's' action

Dr. John Bain "Jock" Sutherland, head football coach at the University of Pittsburgh sent his resignation, effective immediately, to Chancellor John G. Bowman. Bowman accepted with an expression of deep regret at losing this powerful football mentor.

Reasons for the resignation were not stated, though it is believed that the turbulent activities of the university in trying to purify athletics since 1937 have done much to cause this shake up. Four of the under coaches had already resigned earlier in the year.

The question facing the university is who will fill "Jock's" shoes? It has always been the custom to pick the grid heads from among graduates of the staff. At present, with the recent resignations, material from this sector doesn't appear promising.

Prospects for the position lie among Charley Bowser, former first assistant to Sutherland; Tommy Davies, head coach of Scranton, Bill Kern of Carnegie Tech and Andy Gustafson, backfield coach at Dartmouth.

Grad takes position

Walter Stolle of Meadow Grove, who received his bachelor of science degree in chemical engineering last spring, has accepted a position with Eastman Kodak Company.
