Fate played a backhanded trick on Jim Knight, Nebraska wrestling star, in Knight's windup of his collegiate career. Expected to be one of the leading contenders for the national 128 pound title, Jim who scored 133½ points in three years of college competition, was struck with the flu bug, during last week's Big Six meet.

Knight first fell not quite up to par as he was wrestling Hoy Stone of Oklahoma in Friday's round. He couldn't sleep Friday night, and was ill while losing to Ray Stone, star Iowa State man, in the championship round. He was forced to default in the second place match as well, and entered the infirmary upon arriving in Lincoln. Although he was released yesterday afternoon, he's still far from being in shape to wrestle for some time yet.

Bill Luke, Husker 136 pounder, is carrying Nebraska's colors into the meet this week end, tho, and, along with Coach Adams and Dr. R. G. Clapp, has left for Franklin and Marshall college at Lancaster, Pa., where the meet will be held.

Nebraska might put a line on the field next fall with four Omaha Central boys side by side—George Seemann, end; Leonard Muskin, tackle, Hubert Monsky, guard, and Bob Burruss, center. Seemann, veteran end, looks like Nebraska's best bet for fame next year, while Muskin has been changed to tackle from guard where he played last year, his first in competition. Monsky, big guard who transferred last fall from Creighton, hasn't used any eligibility yet, tho, for he didn't compete at the Bluejay school. Burruss, who won a major letter under Charley Brock, last fall, will be fighting it out with Bob Ramey for the starting center post next fall.

Bob Voigts, Northwestern tackle and basketball ace, says Ozzie Simmons is the best back he's ever played against...best linemen is Ed Wideth...we've seen them both, and can't find any fault in either of Voigts' picks...Enrollment of the Texas school where Davey O'Brien teaches is 65...the football squad numbers 16...there were but two heavyweight entries in the Big Six wrestling meet...winner Howard Buck and runner-up Elmer Hackney...George Seemann, Husker, stayed home and Waddy Young, Oklahoma, the other possibility, was ineligible...Kansas and Missouri didn't have teams...Al Blozis, giant Georgetown freshman, who was a sensation in New York high school shot putting circles last spring, got off a 48' 8" heave the other day...last spring with the 12 pound pel-

Phi Chi, last year's medical college intramural champions, challenges the winner of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon-Gately's basketball game, to a championship contest. The Phi Chi's are at present entered in a tournament in Omaha, and will be unable to schedule a game this week, and, if they reach the finals, will also be busy in the tournament the next week. Representatives of Phi Chi said any other time would be suitable for them. This year's med college tournament will not be held until several weeks hence, so the Phi Chi's, as last year's winners, are making the challenge.

Championship of Nebraska U's intramural basketball is at stake tonight in the coliseum at 8 o'clock as Gately's, winner of barb play, squares off against Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Class A champion of the fraternities.

Gately's, who won the unaffiliated teams' crown recently with a victory over Blue Heaven's, lists in its starting lineup three men who played together in Ceresco high school—Ernie Swanson, Louis Ordson, and Vernon Bulling, a forward.

Ordson and Swanson are guards. Sam Salerno, star wrestling prospect from the frosh ranks, is center for the outfit, while Julius Wolta of Weston handles the other forward position. The team holds a narrow victory over the Husker B team, and lost by one point in a scrimmage to the potent Husker frosh.

SAE's Class A winners.

The powerful Sig Alphas went thru Greek competition without a loss, beating the Phi Deltas for the Class A crown. Forwards are Harry Hopp, football star, and a leading frosh cager of last year, and Bruce Duncan, who has played with the Husker B team, and who sparked the SAE's to their victory over the Phi Deltas.

At center is Paul Brown, Duncan's team mate at Broken Bow high school, and at guards are Mike Francis and John Huston. Grid hopeful Francis was a basketball star in high school, and Huston was a member of last year's Lincoln high state championship crew.

Starting lineups:

Simmons scores for winners

Underdogs triumph as Porter to Thompson passing threat clicks

A highly touted Harvard aggregation fell before the underdog Yale team 6 to 0 yesterday afternoon in the first scrimmage of the spring practice season.

Coach Biff Jones started two evenly balanced lineups, so that scoring was possible only when the second teams took the field. With the subs in it was only a short time until the Yale squad pushed the oval across on a sustained drive featured by a 25 yard pass from George Porter to Theos Thompson and the plunging ability of Kenneth Simmons, diminutive halfback, who scored the day's only touchdown.

Starting the contest was a Harvard team composed of George Seeman and Ray Prochaska, ends; Forrest Behm and Royal Kahler, tackles; Warren Alfson and Wayne Blue, guards; and Bob Ramey, center. In the backfield was Walt Luther, substituting for Bob DeFruiter, an influenza victim, Roy "Cowboy" Petsch, Hermie Rohrig, and Vike Francis.

Herndon Starts.

The Yale first team was composed of Jack Ashburn and Bob Kahler at the end positions; Leonard Muskin and Clarence Herndon, tackles; Hub Monsky and George Abel, guards; Bob Burruss center. Theos Thompson, Bus Knight, Harry Hopp, and Jacob Ferguson made up the backfield foursome.

The Harvard first team made consistent yardage against the underdog Yale eleven yet were unable to reach pay dirt. With the inception of the second eleven the tables were turned and Yale scored. The backfield combination of Kenneth Simmons, George Porter, and Ray Smith, aided by Theos Thompson of the first team, combined to make the winning score. Opening the holes for this quartet was a line composed of Burdette Wertman and Glenn Schluckebier, ends; Sam Schwartzkopf and Francis Leik, tackles; Adna Dobson and Arlo Klum, guards, and Bob Burruss, center.

Opposing this pay-dirt aggregation was a second string Harvard eleven with Vernon Braasch and Bob Ludwick, ends; Vic Schleich and Ralph Whitehead, tackles; Sam Feunning and George Stearns, guards, and Fred Meier, center. Backs on this crew were Vernon Kennedy, Marvin Thompson, Eldon Neuernberger, and John Sandall.

Tech relays draw Huskers

Weir to name squad for Chicago trip today

Nebraska's track squad enters real big time competition this week when several of the top notch performers accompany Coach Ed Weir to the new Chicago field house for the Armour Tech relays. Weir will nominate his squad after today's practice session.

Kansas State will represent the Big Six along with the Huskers at the Windy City carnival, while Michigan, indoor champion of the Big Ten, will enter a large team. All of the midwest's better track performers are expected to be present.

Because of R. O. T. C. drill Friday afternoon, the freshmen dual color will be run off Thursday. With many of the frosh cinder men out for spring practice, Weir has been forced to revise the dual color teams.

The Nebraska-Minnesota freshman telegraphic meet is slated for the last week in March. The Scarlet yearlings will be attempting to average a 75½ to 23½ pasting they took at the hands of the Gophers last spring.

Former Husker athlete dies in Madison, Nebr.

For years he was a director of the alumni association. He was graduated from the college of law and practiced in Madison, where he was county attorney.
