Biting off two firsts, a second, and two thirds in the seventh annual all university gymnastic meet held in the coliseum last night, Guy Johnson, promising frosh, captured 367.50 points and the gold medal position in the tourney. Kenneth McAferty ran a close second with 348.75 and Ray Griffen trailed with a score of 214.75 and the bronze medal rating.

With all lettermen and holders of former metals excluded from the meet, the night's competition previews the hopeful mat material from which tumbler of the 1940 season will be named. "Almost always," Charlie Miller, coach and tournament sponsor, explained, "the all around gold medal winner of the annual meet nabs for himself a major letter the following year."

Jim Allen wins high bar event.

Opening the meet with high bar exhibitions, Jim Allen scored 78.50 points taking the initial position in this event. He was followed by Vincent Kean, tallying 74 and "high man" Guy Johnson with 73.25.

On the rings McAferty tabulating 75.50 in the one required and one voluntary exercises pushed out the other two competitors and captured for himself the first place token. Consolation positions went to Herb Kaufman, second, with 74.50 and to Guy Johnson, third, with 70 point score.

Johnson wins high horse.

"Champ" Johnson edged out a lead over other contestants by a full cycle exercise in the side horse event. Jim Griffith trailing by 5.5 points with a 70.5 score, took second honors and Ray Griffen and Ken McAferty held twin scores for the bronze medal position.

Simple tumbling exercises in which Ray Griffen showed his superiority over Guy Johnson and George Cockle, second and third place rivals, ended the competition for the all event high point gold medal winner. Exhibition

Judges of the matmen tourney consisted of various members of this year's varsity team, including Don Seidel, Roy Proffitt, Pete Kreisler, Gay Caswell, Jake Guyer and Ed Bignell, second year letterman in charge of competition judgments.
