

★ ★ ★ on other campuses ★ ★ ★

INDIANA Fraternity Officials Oppose Hell Week

In view of the recent discussion of the status of "Hell Week" on this campus, it is interesting to note the official statements of the national offices of the fraternities on this campus with regard to this subject.

ACACIA Because of our character, Acacia has had no difficulty with Hell Week and, consequently, has con-

PURDUE Sig Ep marksmen take fraternity honors in shoot tournament

Scoring a total of 586 points out of a possible 600, Sigma Phi Epsilon marksmen carried away top honors in the recently completed inter-fraternity rifle tournament.

ORE. STATE Faculty praises Dr. Louise Pound

To find Dr. Louise Pound, professor of English at the University of Nebraska and tomorrow's convocation speaker, an authority on not one, but several subjects, and the holder of tennis and golf championships, was too much to let slip by without looking for more about this "super-in-many fields" personality.

While on the library staff of Western State college at Gunnison, Colo., Miss Ruth Krueger, Oregon State circulation librarian, became acquainted with tomorrow's speaker at the time she was lecturing at a writers' conference on the Colorado college campus.

LEHIGH Professor foils holdup attempt

Arthur W. Klien, professor of mechanical engineering, was the victim of an attempted holdup shortly before midnight, when a masked stranger entered Klien's living room and demanded a dollar.

considered no restrictions and no substitutes.—W. Elmer Ekblaw, national secretary.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA Legislation. Section 197. That no chapter shall permit any form of hazing, ritual, ceremony, rough play or initiation other than that prescribed by the Constitution until it shall have been submitted to and approved by the Province Chief.

Section 207. That no requirements for initiation may take the candidate outside the chapter house or grounds or in any way attract public attention.

SO. CAL. Senate plans 'fool-proof' election

Plans for an "honest and fool-proof" ASSC election will be outlined tonight at the Student Senate meeting when the election committee submits an entirely new voting procedure to insure fair play in Thursday's re-election of student body administrative officers.

A proposed complete reorganization of voting procedure will be submitted by the elections committee, and this, if adopted by the senate, will form the rules under which the new election will be conducted.

The re-election, necessitated by the student senate's rejection of the March 30 election as invalid, is scheduled for Thursday, according to Dave Klier, commissioner of elections.

The invalid election, characterized as a "black eye on the university," has necessitated the announcement of strict faculty supervision for the coming re-voting.

The senate hearing on election irregularities was instigated after charges were made of ballot stuffing, illegal voting, and ballot theft, and a generally "disorganized and unfair" election.

NORTHWESTERN International Relations clubs convene for meet

Three hundred delegates representing more than 50 mid-western colleges will convene on the Northwestern campus for the ninth annual Mid-West Conference of International Relations clubs on April 21 and 22.

Aims of the conference are active student participation, full freedom of speech in their discussions, stimulation of thought through the participation of distinguished authorities on international affairs, and creation of direct contact between the clubs and a representative of the Carnegie endowment, the sponsor of the clubs.

DARTMOUTH Fraternity freshmen form own council

Small meetings where freshmen may discuss fraternities with members of the Interfraternity Council will be held in all the dormitories this spring, it was announced yesterday afternoon after a regular session of the council.

These gatherings will be held in addition to the usual large meeting held every year when Davis Jackson, college advisor to fraternities, and members of the council speak to the entire freshman class on fraternity life at Dartmouth.

D. Daniles, executive secretary. BETA THETA PI

We have been waging an aggressive war this year and are having some excellent results. In Beta Theta Pi we are resolved to stamp out these practices or eliminate the chapters which refuse to comply.

You may be interested to know that on the local campus the disciplinary committee of the university placed a chapter on probation for taking initiation practices out of the chapter house and for interfering with the normal sleep of the pledge.

Section 98—Initiation ceremonies into the Fraternity shall be limited by the respective chapters (1) to reasonable probationary measures not materially interfering with a candidate's study or class hours and not in excess of one week duration; (2) to the traditional Wooglin ceremony; (3) to the fraternity examination and (4) to the prescribed and printed ritual of the fraternity.

KENTUCKY Seven gain senior honorary

Seven men were chosen for Omicron Delta Kappa men's campus leaders' honorary, at spring pledging last night.

Those elected to membership were William H. Hall, James Wine, Alan Vogeler, C. P. Johnson, L. T. Iglehart, Joe Johnson and Crit Lowry.

Hall, Nicholasville, senior in the Engineering college, was selected for outstanding work in scholarship and social service.

Wine, Lexington, junior in arts and sciences college, was chosen for work in social service.

Vogeler, Lexington, third-year law student, was elected for outstanding work in the field of scholarship.

C. P. Johnson, Madisonville, junior in the college of commerce, was named for outstanding work in the field of social service.

L. T. Iglehart, Hopkinsville, junior in journalism, was cited for outstanding service to the University and work in the field of publications.

Joe Johnson, Clinton, first-year law student, was designated for outstanding work in scholarship.

Crit Lowry, Princeton, junior in arts and sciences college, was chosen for outstanding work in the field of scholarship.

Common infirmary scenery is a sheet shrouded figure—face puffed and swollen—and a little group of cheerless figures collected around the foot of the bed.

OREGON Poison oak spoils fun on weekend picnics

The university infirmary is rapidly becoming the day-after-meeting place for week end picnickers. In fact, it is reminiscent of last spring when a certain killjoy was plaguing outdoor social life.

Common infirmary scenery is a sheet shrouded figure—face puffed and swollen—and a little group of cheerless figures collected around the foot of the bed.

INDIANA Petition deadline set in Union Board election

With the deadline for candidates' petitions set for noon today, leaders of both the Coalition and Independent Students association limited to) physical punishment of any sort, efforts to inspire fear and distasteful practices generally, are hereby forbidden; provided, however, that any prevailing initiation practices conflicting with the express provisions hereof may be continued with the consent of the Board of Trustees.

DELTA UPSILON Delta Upsilon has no regulations on the subject. All chapters are coached in the direction of abandonment of obsolete practices.

CALIFORNIA Easter produces crime wave

Crime refused to take a holiday over the Easter vacation as far as the university was concerned, and struck four times at the university and its citizens.

The crime wave started Wednesday noon. A stranger stole a small amount of money and several Oriental coins from a bedroom in Barrington hall.

Zeta Psi fraternity wilted next before the wave. Hamden Forkner, '40, reported to the police Friday that someone had stolen $36 from the house Thursday night.

The next shocking occurrence was the affair at Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, which Virginia Adams, '40, obligingly reported the same day.

The climax came in the case of George Quentin, ex-'41, who Thursday confessed to stealing two loads of books from the Architecture building, among other things.

The architecture atrocity, however, occurred out of Easter season; the date was March 25.

NO. CAR. 'Politician' makes only four campaign vows

Reddy Grubbs, nominee for president of the junior class on the university party ticket, announced a four-point platform yesterday, headed by a plank which would seek to stimulate interest in class activities by more socials and more class meetings.

- His complete platform follows: 1. Stimulate interest in class activities by: (a) More class social activities. (b) More class meetings. 2. Democratic selection of committeemen. 3. Careful supervision of expenditures. 4. Support of student government.

NORTHWESTERN Snyder succeeds Scott; is eleventh president

Climaxing 30 years on the Northwestern faculty as instructor, professor, dean of the graduate school and then dean of the faculties and vice president, Framlyn Elias Snyder has been named to succeed Walter Dill Scott as president of Northwestern university.

The announcement was made Thursday night by Kenneth Burgess, president of the board of trustees, following a special meeting. Dr. Snyder will become the eleventh president of the university since 1853.

met in separate caucuses last night to lay out plans for spirited campaigns this week for the Union Board election Friday in Alumni hall.

sporadic outbreaks are to be expected for some time yet, yet it can be said that Delta Upsilon has turned from the abuse referred to.—John D. Scott, vice president.

DELTA TAU DELTA The following provision is contained in the constitution and by-laws of Delta Tau Delta: There shall be prior to or in connection with the initiation of any neophyte no ceremonies, exercises or assigned feats which might work injury to the health or morals of the neophyte, or which might tend in any way to injure his respect for the fraternity or its ideals.—Hugh Shields, comptroller.

LEHIGH Three honorary fraternities hold joint pledgings

The first interhonorary pledging exercises held at Lehigh will take place Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in Packard auditorium.

Three honorary fraternities will take part in the joint pledging exercises. The fraternities are: Alpha Kappa Psi, national honorary business administration society; Pi Tau Sigma, national honorary mechanical engineering society; and Sigma Nu, national honorary classical society.

TEXAS Rubinoff charms audience of 1,000

Rubinoff and his violin, aided by duo-pianists Fray and Braggiotti, charmed a crowd of over 1,000 persons in Gregory Gym last night with a well played and well received program of popular and light classical numbers, including many of his own compositions.

Above all, the concert proved that Rubinoff is still the master showman he was when in Austin last spring. The Russian violinist knows what the public wants and doesn't hesitate to give it to them.

To Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, who was not present, and to Victor Herbert, who gave him his start in America, Rubinoff dedicated Herbert's "Sweet Mystery of Life" from "Naughty Marietta." In making the dedication, the violinist explained that he understood Texas's new governor also played the fiddle and that "Sweet Mystery of Life" was one of O'Daniel's favorites.

Rubinoff also paused between encores to pay tribute to the Austin high school band, which he conducted in rehearsal yesterday afternoon and the members of which were his guests at the concert last night. He declared it was one of the finest high school bands he had seen anywhere and insisted that the members take a bow before the large audience.

Sharing honors with Rubinoff was the duo-piano team of Fray and Braggiotti, who furnished many of the evening's highlights. Especially good was their rendition of Ravel's "Bolero" and Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue."

CALIFORNIA Billiard artist can find no competition

Prof. Charles Peterson, the man who can't find anyone to give him competition, will give an exhibition of trick shots of billiards all day today, in the men's clubrooms in Stephens Union.

Better known as "show me a shot I can't make Charley," Peterson's colleagues prefer to call him "Professor" Peterson. This odd title was given to him because for the past five years he has acted as instructor, lecturer and demonstrator of billiards in many of the larger universities throughout the country.

Peterson is especially interested in getting co-eds to learn the game as it is an excellent form of relaxation from studies.