

Jones sends team through stiff drill for Gopher game

Huskers go through last stiff workout before Minnesota tilt
By John McDermott.

Coach Biff Jones had his squad working in high gear yesterday afternoon as the Minnesota game draws near. Rain cut short the workout yesterday but the Huskers had about 90 minutes of stiff drill before they were chased inside.

The end and backfield men were working on passes both on the offensive and defensive, and were running through some new plays especially designed for Minnesota. The linemen were on the defense against a freshman team using Minnesota power and line plays. Both outfits spent about 40 minutes working on these two phases.

Stresses passing.
Later Jones assembled his squad into teams and had them working against each other. He was particularly stressing the passing attack and was also pointing out mistakes in the defense of the second team. He then switched and had his first team on the defense and the second outfit was throwing aeriels. Particular stress was also put on protection for the passer, and it was noticed that blocking was picking up.

Jones had almost all of his first three squads working and was giving them all an equal chance to demonstrate their ability. He was mixing the line-ups considerably in working out a satisfactory starting combination. He has made no comments upon his changes and refuses to divulge a probable starting eleven.

To substitute freely.
The "Biffer" was giving all hands a chance and it is indicated that knowing the power of most Minnesota teams he expects to use a number of substitutions. Minnesota's first two elevens remained intact in their workouts early this week. Practice Tuesday was confined to a review of Nebraska offense and aerial strategy. Bierman indicated that he will take 40 men on the Nebraska trip. The Gophers are not due in Lincoln until the morning of the game, remaining in Omaha Friday night.

Eligibility in doubt.
Two top flight ends, Bill Atkins and Bill Johnson, were to tackle a psychology exam yesterday morning to determine whether or not they will be eligible for the rest of the season. If Johnson successfully passes the exam it is expected that he will take over the starting right end assignment. Atkins is one of the best wingmen on the squad although he is a sophomore.

The first eleven for the Gophers, and probable starting line-up lists: Ends, John Mariucci, and Early Ohlgren; tackles, Capt. Win Pedersen and Sy Johnson; guards, Helge Pukema and Bob Smith; center, Bob Bjoreklund. The backfield included Jim Shearer at quarter, Bruce Smith and Harold Van Avery at the halves, and Marty Christiansen at fullback.

Frat gridders play five I-M games

Three contests postponed because of rain; five tilts scheduled today
By Harl Hunt.

Five games were played before yesterday's heavy rain called a finis to the eight scheduled touch football games.

The Sig Eps held a 7 to 0 lead over Delta Sigma Pi at the end of the second quarter when the game was called. Rawalt tallied the lone score and Bors converted for the extra point. This was the only League III game played.

In League II Delta Upsilon and the S.A.M.s played to a scoreless tie in four periods but the rule book says that in case of a tie the team that scores the most yardage or the first touchdown in an extra period game wins the game. D.U. chalked up most yardage when the S.A.M.s failed on a couple of long passes, and the game ended 1 to 0, Delta Upsilon.

Phi Psi win.
The Phi Psi scored a 6 to 0 victory over Pi Kappa Alpha on a pass from McClymont to Radtke.

Barb football set to begin Tuesday

Friday noon is deadline for entry of all clubs in season's grid race

Barb intramural grid play will get under way Tuesday, as various clubs are being formed at present. Schedules will be drawn up over the weekend, and mailed to every club which is competing in touch football this year.

About 15 barb clubs have already been formed, and around ten more are expected to enter before the deadline Friday noon at the intramural office in the coliseum. If a club has enough members, two teams can be entered.

Ten men can start club.
Ten or more men are required to organize a club, and it is desirable that they live in the same house or near each other. Each club picks its own name. The barb clubs thus formed constitute the Barb Union, and it is not necessary to have a membership card in the barb organization to join a club. A man is supposed to continue with one club throughout the year.

Medals will be given to members of the first and second place teams at the end of the season. The five ne wfields near the coliseum will be available for play this year, and most of the games will be played at 5 o'clock.

Yanks nip Reds 2-1 in first series game

Dickey drives winning tally across plate

Bill singles in Keller who had tripled; both pitchers go entire game

The New York Yankees came thru in the first game of the 1939 world series, the last inning yesterday to beat Cincinnati's Reds, 2 to 1.

Paul Derringer, who went the route for the losers, had the Yanks' Murders' Row pretty well tamed until the last half of the ninth, when Charley Keller, second man up tripled, Joe DiMaggio was purposely passed, and Bill Dickey drove a single into left center to score Keller with the winning run. Keller's drive carried well over 400 feet.

Reds score.
Neither team scored in the first three innings, as the Reds scored first in the fourth. Ival Goodman walked on four pitched balls, stole second, and crossed the plate as Buck McCormick singled over third base.

The American League champions got their first run in the fifth as Joe Gordon drove a single thru third, and scored on Babe Dahlgren's double to left field.

Fifty thousand people watched the opening game at Yankee Stadium of the annual classic. It was played on a cold, rainy day. McCormick got two singles for half

Two touchdowns and a safety accounted for the 14 to 0 victory of Sigma Nu over Delta Theta Pi. Anawalt broke loose for both counters and the safety came as the result of a fumble.

Theta Xi tallied a score in the first period on a pass from Lien to Fuller to give them a 6 to 0 lead over Alpha Gamma Rho in the only League I game played. The contest was called at the end of the second quarter.

League IV to start.
League IV teams make their debut in today's games, Kappa Sigma and A.T.O., both favorites in their league, will stage a battle at 4:15 p. m. Acacia takes on the Farm House at 5:00, and the Phi Gams will tackle Zeta Beta Tau at 4:15.

One League III contest will be played when the Betas and the Phi Deltas mix at 5:00.

There's one thing that won't hurt Nebraska any against the Gophers Saturday. Generally speaking, Minnesota's tackles have less experience than the Huskers.

Of course, no Nebraskan can match the 420 minutes experience Capt. Win Pedersen, who also lettered in his sophomore term, got last year. However, the only other experienced tackle on the squad, Syrus Johnson, a senior, and the other starter, got in only three games last year, playing but 15½ minutes.

Neil Litman, 195 pounds, Carl Magnussen, 215, and Urban Olson, 225, were on the squad last year, but had no experience in games.

The Huskers are outweighed, with Royal Kahler being the heaviest at 215. Kahler played less than 100 minutes last year as did Sam Schwartzkopf, altho Sam got a major letter two years ago, and should get another this year if he plays as he did against Indiana. Leonard Muskin won a major letter as a guard last season, while Forrest Behm was the regular Husker right tackle. Tho there's not as much bulk there, the Husker tackles as a whole have been thru tougher battles than the Gophers.
