

As I SEE IT!

by June Bierbower

It's Iowa State Saturday, and nobody around this heah state can think of anything that would be quite so humiliating as a Husker loss to the Cyclones after beating Minnesota.

There's a little matter of an 8-7 defeat of last year that the boys would like to even up, but the Cyclones feel about the game Saturday like the Huskers felt about the Minnesota game, as witness this excerpt from an Iowa State press dispatch:

"No lineup changes are contemplated by Coach Jim Yeager as he prepares his Iowa State Cyclones for the BIG HOME GAME of the year with the Nebraska Cornhuskers, Saturday.

From what we hear the Ames boys are ready to give the Huskers a surprise party this fall. The uppermost thing in their minds is to make it two in a row over the Huskers and to beat the team that beat Minnesota.

Two years ago the Huskers came perilously close to humiliation at Ames after beating Minnesota 14-9. A tired Nebraska team, suffered a let-down, and before they knew it the Amesmen had scored. Paul Amen's 80 yard end around touchdown tied it up, but it wasn't until the last quarter that Marv Plock ran 75 yards on a punt return to score the winning touchdown. The Huskers added another one, before the game was over, but there were a lot of weak hearts in Nebraska until after the final whistle blew.

Yale lost one of its most rabid devotees and alums as Samuel Hoyt, national president of the AAU died after an auto accident over the week end.

Hoyt was state's attorney for Connecticut, and lived in New Haven where he could follow the Eli's to his heart's content. Hoyt, who was here last summer for the AAU track meet, had been a little apprehensive about Yale football chances for the year, but the New Haven boys started out all right as they beat Columbia. Hoyt's three sons had attended Mercersburg where they were members of the famous Mercersburg prep school swimming teams, and one of them later became a star at Lehigh.

We'd like to see what the Huskers could do with their aerial attack now that they seem to have found a running game to go with it. Of course,

Iowa State works hard for Saturday . . .

Iowa State's football team which entertains the Huskers Saturday has lost its stars from last year—including Everett Kischer, Ed Bock, Gordon Reupke, Paul Morin, George Bazik and Henry Wilder among others.

They will be working hard for the Huskers, having had three games under their belt already. They beat Coe, and lost to Denver and Kansas university, but none of those games was as important to them as the game Saturday will be.

Martin Boswell, veteran end from Roswell, N. M., is the Cyclone captain this year. The starting lineup against K. U., which may also get the call against Nebraska, included Boswell and Bill Bliss at ends; Bernard Mickelson and Bob Moody at tackles; Ernest Mueller and Tom Smith, guards; and Jack West, center. Bill Wallace, Lindsay Vinsel, Don Griswold and Merle Osborne were in the backfield. Moody won a freshman numeral as a first year center at Nebraska three years ago.

Every man on the Cyclone team with the exception of sophomores Mickelson and Wallace is a letterman, with Boswell, West and Bliss the only seniors.

Rally committee offers $1 for best game slogan

Persons with slogans for the Baylor football game, next home contest, should bring them to the DAILY office. An award of $1 will be given the person whose slogan is selected by the rally committee. All slogans should be submitted by Tuesday, Oct. 17.

18-0 for Betas in Intramural; Phi Sigs, 1-0

Beta Theta Pi showed their heels to the Alpha Sigs, 18 to 0, in yesterday's fraternity football game. Phi Sigs eked out a narrow victory over Theta Xi, 1 to 0, in an extra period contest. These League I games were the only ones scheduled, Tonight, Theta Xi will attempt to down the Sig Alphas in League I.

The League II card has Sigma Nu pitted against the Sammies, DU versus PiKA and Delta Theta Phi paired with Phi Psi.

In League III the Sig Eps play Chi Phi, Sigma Chi tackles the Phi Deltas and Delta Sigma Pi tangles with Beta Sigma Psi.

The Phi Gams, League IV surprise leader, will attempt to keep their record intact against Farm House; Acacia vies with ZBT, and the Kappa Sigs will try to break out of the loss column in a fray with Delta Tau Delta.

Of Capital university's 1939 education graduates, 72 percent have been placed in teaching positions.

L. di Benedetto succeeds Hoyt

AAU president dies after weekend car wreck

Louis di Benedetto, city recreation director of New Orleans will automatically fill the post of national president of the AAU left vacant by the death of Samuel E. Hoyt, sr.

Hoyt, state's attorney in New Haven county of Connecticut, died Monday night after injuries sustained in an automobile accident over the week end. Hoyt suffered a fractured skull and a brain concussion and failed to regain consciousness before his death.

Yale grad.

A graduate of Yale law school, he was prominent in his state's republican politics as an attorney and former state legislator.

Hoyt, 64 years of age, was in Lincoln last summer for the national AAU track meet, and was serving his second term as national AAU president. DiBenedetto was first vice president at the time of Hoyt's death and has been in Lincoln several times at the AAU meet.

It's been the No. 1 backfield which has looked good at passing, and the No. 2's which gained on the ground against Minnesota. However, Hermie Rohrig completed 6 of 13 passes against Indiana, and one out of one in the Gopher game, which gives him a .500 average, which isn't so bad.

Barb girls urged to enter sports

All unaffiliated girls are urged to join independent sports teams and enter into the all season intramurals. Deck tennis tournaments are now in session, and basketball, archery, bowling, ping-pong and Nebraska ball will follow.

Baseball, soccer-baseball, tennis and badminton will not be played until spring. All notices concerning inter-mural practices and contests will be posted on the W.A.A. bulletin board in Grant Memorial.

A special course in the Russian language and literature has been added to the Cornell university curriculum.

University of Wyoming students last year spent $64,500 in membership dues in student organizations. $23,373.75 was for national dues, pins and initiation fees.
