Daily pays five winning combinations

Dale Anderson dopes Saturday's ball games 100 per cent correct

Dale Anderson wins three dollars and the first place position in the DAILY football doping contest, with 100 percent of the teams coming thru as he predicted. Betty Jean Ferguson, Mylan Ross, Jack Rohrbough and Norman Krupicka split a four way tie for second third and fourth places.

Contest prizes amounted to $2 for second place, three tickets to the Varsity to see "They Shall Have Music" for third place, and one Varsity ticket for fourth place. Because of the tie, each of the four will get one ticket to the show, plus 50 cents in cash. Prizes will be given out at the DAILY office.

Anderson's pickings, were as follows for the week end games:

- Yale over Army.
- Notre Dame over Navy.
- North Carolina-Tulane (tie).
- Duke over Syracuse.
- Nebraska over Baylor.
- Tennessee over Alabama.
- Texas A. M. over Texas Christian.
- Ohio State over Minnesota.
- Missouri over Kansas State.
- Texas over Arkansas.

June Bierbower, DAILY Sports Editor, supervised the correction of entry sheets.

Amusing to the staff was the entry of George Abel, N. U. star, who picked Nebraska to tie Baylor.

PBK hears Dean Hosp

Dean's survey shows prisoners are students

Speaking before the first fall meeting of Phi Beta Kappa last night in the Union Miss Helen Hosp, dean of women, presented a ten year summary of adult education in penal institutions. Miss Hosp emphasized the great advances that have been made in adjustment of prisoners for outside life, and the work of universities in this line of education.

Dean Hosp traced the various means available to prison inmates—prison schools, libraries, education in shop work, and most important, correspondence courses. These correspondence courses are the most feasible means of education for penal institutions, Miss Hosp believes, as they helped men prepare themselves for social living when released, and also prepared them to earn their livelihoods.

Miss Hosp cited a study which she made in New York prisons proving the value of correspondence courses, and quoted numerous letters she received in the course of this study. She found when comparing scholastic records made in this type of work of men in prisons and of those who are free, that the prison inmates had made far better records.

More prisoners study now. This she believes due to the counseling system which attended these projects, and guidance and help given in personal interviews by prison authorities.

During the last ten years, the number of prisoners studying these courses has greatly increased.

Dean Hosp also lauded the universities for their co-operation in preparing and offering these courses. She particularly mentioned the Universities of Wisconsin and California, and told of the work Nebraska is doing along this line.

Miss Hosp headed the PBK program planned for the entire year. Prof. Clifford Hicks, secretary, has announced the program as follows: E. B. Schultz, Dec. 5; Prof. D. C. Cabeen, "The French and American Revolution," Feb. 12; joint meeting with Sigma Xi in March; annual initiation, April 30.

Weather

Cooler weather is forecasted for today. The leaves are turning to their autumnal colors which proves that fall is on its way for sure.

ADNA DOBSON TO LEAD NU AT KANSAS STATE IN SATURDAY'S GAME

Huskers meet Wildcats in second conference tilt; Hackney still out

Adna Dobson, senior from Lincoln, will captain Nebraska's Cornhuskers as they make their second Big Six start of the season Saturday against Kansas State at Manhattan. Dobson, who played center, guard, tackle and fullback in high school, and who won all-state honors in his last year at Lincoln High has won two letters at guard in college, but has been moved to fullback this fall.

ADNA DOBSON—Lincoln Journal.

The Huskers came through the Baylor game in good shape, except for a shoulder injury to Vike Francis. Ray Prochaska, Roy Petsch, and Hermie Rohrig, on the injury list last week turned in great performances, while Bus Knight was kept on the bench all afternoon because of a shoulder injury.

See Movies.

The Huskers looked at movies of the game yesterday, and took a few easy drills outside afterward. The first and second teams took it easy, but the third team worked against a combination squad of fresh and fourth stringers. Jones has not as yet announced any lineup changes, but those made, if any should be forthcoming today.

RAY PROCHASKA—Lincoln Journal.

Kansas State, playing without their ace fullback Elmer Hackney, lost for the first time this season as Missouri beat them 9-7. The Tigers piled up 9 points, then the Wildcats scored their touchdown on a disputed pass play in the final quarter. Hackney will be unable to play against Nebraska.

Good passing.

The Huskers showed that their passing attack was gone but not forgotten in the Minnesota and Iowa State games as they put on an aerial display that gave the southwesterners something to write about. Passes from Herman Rohrig to Ray Prochaska scored two touchdowns, while Bob Ludwig slipped as he was ready to catch another Rohrig pass which had had the touchdown label on it. Nebraska's running attack was driving through the big Baylor line, too, and the forward wall, although outweighed, held the Bears to 61 net yards, both through rushing and passing.

8,329 knotholders in crowd of 28771 at Baylor game

Twenty-eight thousand seven hundred seventy-seven people watched the Huskers take Baylor Saturday afternoon according to a statement by Business Manager of Athletics John K. Selleck Monday.

Eight thousand three hundred and twenty-nine knothole youngsters attended the game, the knothole attendance being the largest in history. The kid fans upped the expected attendance figures, as officials had predicted a crowd of 22,000 or 24,000.

Dental alums plan reunion

Grade will honor Dean Hooper, Nov. 24-25

Plans for the first University of Nebraska dental alumni reunion honoring Dr. B. L. Hooper, new dean of the college, are announced by Dr. A. H. Schmidt, chairman of the department of prosthetic dentistry. The event, which will be held November 24 and 25, will become an annual affair on the campus.

Sponsors are expecting at least 250 dental college alumni from outside of the city, in addition to the 75 alumni living in Lincoln and vicinity.

The morning of November 24 will be given over to registration, with a luncheon that noon in the Student Union, and a dinner Friday evening at which Chancellor C. S. Boucher will speak. On Saturday morning returning grads will be taken on an inspection of the college of dentistry laboratories and clinic facilities, and in the afternoon they will attend the Oklahoma-Nebraska football game.

Another highlight of the two day gathering will be a special dental clinic on Friday, with a nationally known dental expert in charge of demonstrations.

Group hears Dr. Bachmann

Specialists in cancer lectures to chemists

Dr. Werner E. Bachmann discussed "Cancer Producing Compounds" to members of the American Chemical Society in Avery laboratory Monday evening.

Dr. Bachmann a cancer specialist from the department of chemistry at the University of Michigan, told about the discovery of cancer producing compounds, the relation between chemical structure and carcinogenic activity, and the synthesis of these compounds. He also told of recent work with various substances which are used in cancer cure.

The lecture opened the fall meetings of the Nebraska section of the society.

The Michigan chemist has been a Rockefeller foundation and a Guggenheim fellow, and has received the Henry Russel award.

Alumni heads end state tour

DuTeau, Reeder visit northeast three days

E. F. Duteau, alumni association secretary, and Ralph Reeder, editor of the Nebraska Alumnus, have just returned from a three day trip to the central and northern part of the state.

They visited and spoke at alumni gatherings in Grand Island, North Platte, Broken Bow, Norfolk, and Columbus, the object of the trip being to promote and organize more alumni clubs throughout the state and to acquaint the alumni with the problems and needs of the university.

Other towns at which they stopped to visit individual alumni are Seward, York, Aurora, Hastings, Kearney, Lexington, Burwell, Arnold and Neligh.

While on their trip, Duteau and Reeder were interviewed over station KGNU in North Platte on a half hour program.

SEE IT!

By June Bierbower

The Huskers are once more up in the select group of the country's football teams, and if they keep playing like they did Saturday they'll still be up there for a while. The Nebraska team won the game, and the good old statistics, too; and they out-dazzled Baylor on the ground and in the air, and all along the line.

But Kansas State, who persists in pestering the Huskers is in a swell spot—for the Wildcats, that is. If Nebraska runs true to form, the Huskers will be a little "down" next Saturday, and Kansas State, even without Elmer Hackney, will be laying in wait for the game just like Iowa State was.

However, Nebraska has the stuff to win, and if they do—well the next game is Missouri with Paul Christman and the next is Kansas on Homecoming Day and the next is with a team named Pitt, and the next one with the Oklahoma Sooners.

And while speaking of the Sooners, sports editor Clavelle Holden, in his story of the Oklahoma-K. U. battle in the Daily Kansan called them "Biff Jones' defending champions, the Sooners." Heaven forbid!

Charley Brock, we see, intercepted another enemy pass to set up the pins for a Green Bay Packers touchdown... it was against Detroit's Lions Sunday and Brock ran 20 yards with it to the Packers' 21... Lee Seeman, George's little brother, is a substitute center at Santa Clara... Fred Meier appears on both ends of that long squad picture which decorates so many down-town windows... he was at the right end of the group, and after the panoramic lens camera had got his picture, he ran around back of the cameraman and got in line at the other end... the grins on the faces of Hermie Rohrig and Harry Hopp who are standing near Meier on the left end help tell the story.

It's a little late, but it still sounds funny... Jack "Bucket" Warner, writing in the Denver Clarion, said after watching the Minnesota-Nebraska game that he had come to the conclusion that Rocky Mountain football was as good as that played by the big name teams, and better in some respects... says the punting in the Denver-New Mexico game was better... that's all very sweet, but listen to what he says is the ONLY difference in the type of play... it's the blocking and tackling which he says is "absolutely vicious, and timed to the split second"... for that matter, when it comes down to the final analysis, that was probably the main difference between Michigan and Chicago Saturday.

Rifles announce 14 new pledges

New pledges to Pershing Rifles, national honorary drill organization, were announced yesterday by Bob Pillsbury, captain of the Nebraska unit. The first regular meeting of the group will be held in Nebraska hall at 5 this afternoon. The following men pledged: Lewis Seybold, Clark Ashton Joe Raznick, Sheldon Coffman, Paul Kroutze, Ralph Batty H. M. Sinclair, Phil Ford, Mac Dow, Bill Stult, Orin Ruhlow, Leroy Buzard, Dean Horn, Frank Brakel.

Freshmen and sophomores interested in military science are asked to contact a Pershing Rifle active and arrange for special tryouts.

Members who will be in the training unit this year are: Dick Lindberg, Francis Cox, Jim Roberts, John Hill, Walter Bohramblust, Don Higley, Neal Himes, James Lovelady, Robert James, Dale Hurley.

Nebraska geologists have named 101 of the Pennsylvania and Permian subdivisions, more than have been classified by any other institution. Together with the Kansas survey, the University has named and described more of these formations than any other state.

Farm House nips Delts in 7-6 tussle

Ag boys win as Davis intercepts pass, tallies Fitzgibbon converts

Most exciting intramural game yesterday was the Farmhouse 7-6 victory over Delta Tau Delta in league IV. The Farmhouse touchdown was scored by Norman Davis who intercepted a pass and ran about 50 yards for a touchdown; John Fitzgibbon kicked the winning point. The Delts score came when they blocked a kick in the enemy end zone.

Also in league IV was the Alpha Tau Omega-Zeta Beta Tau game, which the Alph's won by a 13-0 score. It was Bob Jungman that gave the victors their first score with Sid White kicking the extra point. Bob James who received a pass from Sid White went across the double stripe for the last 6 points.

Little "Whizzer" Mack went on a scoring spree in Kappa Sigma's 25-0 blackout of Acacia. Mack accounted for two Kappa Sigma's 25-0 blackout of Acacia. Mack accounted for two tallies, both on end runs. Rothwell and Seimson caught a pass apiece for the other counters.

In league I of Barb football, Brown Palace howed to the Commanders to a 15-0 score. Blaine Lord who shined in the game made both touchdowns, one being made in the last 5 seconds of the last quarter. A pass from Lord to Hugh McKenna accounted for the extra point after the first touchdown. Two more points came when the Palace team was deep in their own territory and a bad pass from center went across the end zone which made an automatic safety.

Alum comes clear from 'Frisco for Baylor tilt

The Nebraska-Baylor game brought many alumni to the game and to the alumni association office in the Union building.

Some of the grads that traveled long distances were: Marie Sorenson Flanagan '20, who came from San Francisco; H. L. Pressly '17, who traveled from Clarinda, Ia.; and Hartman Goetze of St. Joseph, Mo., who brought up a party of six.

Dr. Brenke heads education society

Dr. W. C. Brenke, mathematics department chairman, was elected president of the Kansas-Nebraska section of the society for the promotion of engineering education at the recent convention at the University of Kansas. Last year Brenke was chairman of the mathematics section of the organization.
