Intramural debate filings due today

White calls for Greek, barb teams to argue auto insurance question

Names of all entrants in the intramural debate tournament to be held next week must be left at Andrews 111 immediately, if the teams wish to enter. Prof. H. A. White, debate coach, announced yesterday.

Subject for the debates is "Resolved, that the various states should adopt a plan of compulsory automobile insurance to cover personal injuries."

If there are sufficient entries in each group, two sections will be provided, one for fraternity groups, and one for non-fraternity organizations. The two groups will not compete. Bibliographies will be supplied by Professor White, and the books listed will be on reserve in the library.

No veterans allowed.

Annual graduate fellowship open to bizad seniors

Seniors in the bizad college must have applications for the John E. Miller graduate fellowship filed in the Dean's office by March 15th. This $500 fellowship is given annually to the member of the senior class who has made the most outstanding record and who desires to do graduate work in business administration.

Only those filing applications are considered, and since top-ranking seniors often have other plans, those with slightly lower average should have no hesitancy in making applications. The graduate work may be done at Nebraska or any other approved college of business administration.

Ag Goddess to make debut Saturday

Spring party features 'southern lawn festival' theme; to be broadcast

Presentation of the Goddess of Agriculture of 1940 will climax the annual Ag Spring party to be held Saturday night in the Activities building. Open to all university students, the party also features Lee William's and his stepping tone music.

Broadcast of the presentation will be made over KFOR from 10:30 to 11 p. m. Saturday. According to Ben Alice Day, chairman of the presentation committee, a "southern lawn party" theme will be carried out for revealing the Goddess, and for decorating the building.

Rules Farmers' Fair.

The Goddess, who is to reign for a year, and preside royally over this year's Farmer's Fair, was recently elected by the popular vote of all home economics students. Her identity and that of her attendants will not be revealed until the presentation Saturday night. All candidates for the throne were senior women majoring in home economics and will at least an 80 average.

Sponsored by the ag executive board, the party is being directed by Co-chairmen Ople Hedlund and Ganis Richmond. Marvin Kruse and Oscar Tegmeier comprise the publicity committee. Gwen Jack, Rhoda Chesley, Milo Tesar and Ellen Ann Armstrong the decorations, Betty Jo Smith and Will Pitner, presentation, and Ruth Sheldon and Keith Gilmore, tickets.

Daily calls reporters for meeting tomorrow

All members of the DAILY staff will meet in the NEBRASKAN office for a staff meeting tomorrow at 5 p. m. Students wishing to become reporters are asked to attend the meeting. New beats will be assigned to reporters.

Rosita Royce to show chorus big time dance

Kosmet Klub's male dancers see dove girl Friday; tryouts for chorus positions set for 7:30 today

Rosita Royce, doves and all, will take a night off Friday to show the pony chorus of the Kosmet Klub how dance routines are produced in the "big time." The tryouts for the chorus will be at 7:30 tonight in 201 Temple at 5 p. m. There will be a meeting of all interested in writing songs for the show, in the Kosmet Klub office in the Union.

The former Lincoln girl skyrocketed to fame last summer with her specialty dance, a major hit attraction at the New York World's fair. She is here spending several days at her home, and at the invitation of Armand Hunter, director of the show, will attend the Kosmet Klub rehearsal Friday night in the Temple to give the pony chorus professional tips on their dance routine, and to help make selections for the chorus.

She brought the doves!

Miss Royce will bring along several of her doves to give the boys an idea of how they performed in her New York debut.

The Kosmet Klub show, "The Ski Stealers," will be presented in the Temple the week of April 8 to 13. It is a satire on the Russian-Finnish situation written by Robert Leadley of Lincoln.

Leads are being taken by Louis Wilkins, Fremont, senior in business administration; Jim Minnick, Edwin Smith, Robert Aldrich and Tom Phillips, Arthur Kleinhaus, Jack Bittner, and Jack Cole.

The weather

Partly cloudy and little change in temperature is the weatherman's prediction for Lincoln and vicinity today.

Beauty queen ballots select NU candidate

Dewey speaks on ag policy here tonight

—Journal and Star.

Thomas E. Dewey, New York republican presidential candidate and racket buster, will announce his national farm policy tonight in the University Coliseum before a Nebraska founders' day audience of approximately eight thousand. The occasion of observance, which is sponsored by the republican founders' day organization, is the anniversary of the admission of Nebraska to the union.

Tassels will greet the visiting nominee and will hold a brief confab with him in the Student Union at noon today prior to the annual Founders day luncheon.

His talk this evening will be broadcast over the NBC blue network. Dewey is a close associate of Herbert Brownell who addressed the university Charter day audience three week ago.

Waring will write song for Nebraska-IF!

Fred Waring will write a song for Nebraska and present it on a program dedicated to the Cornhuskers, if students show enough interest.

Dick de Brown, DAILY editor, received a telegram from the leader of the Pennsylvanians Tuesday asking if student interest warrants his doing the original song. The DAILY will have petitions circulating within a day or two.

De Brown aroused Waring's interest in the idea a few days ago when he asked the band leader in a letter whether he would do a song for the Cornhuskers.

Fred told de Brown he would be glad to do a Nebraska song but that similar songs had been done at the request of students, usually by means of petitions.

Waring's telegram Tuesday shows his interest in the idea. Aware of the importance of the project from the standpoint of value to Nebraska, the DAILY is backing the plan full force.

Waring and his Pennsylvanians are on the air Monday thru Friday from 6 to 6:15 p. m.

Coeds choose Counselors tomorrow

Bullock, Clark compete for president; polls open 9 to 5 in Ellen Smith

Women of the campus will go to the polls tomorrow to elect the officers of the Co-ed Counselors, and the Counselor board.

Candidates for the prexy's position are Mary Bullock, Alpha Chi Omega, and Ruth Clark, Alpha Xi Delta.

The election will be held from 9 until 5 Thursday in Ellen Smith and in Home Economics building on ag campus. In charge of the election are present officers and board members.

Positions to be filled at Tuesday's election are those of president, six senior board members, four junior board members, and two sophomore board members. The junior board member who receives the highest number of votes automatically becomes vice-president of the organization, and the highest candidate for sophomore member becomes secretary and treasurer. Board positions are divided equally between affiliated and unaffiliated girls. The two affiliated candidates for the presidency automatically fill two of the senior affiliated posts.

Candidates for the one open unaffiliated senior post on the board are Pris Chain, Theta, and Irene Hollenbeck, Gamma Phi Beta.

Unaffiliated candidates for senior board members, of whom three will be elected, are Ruth Ann Sheldon, Jane deLatour, Beth Howley, Victoria Ekblad, Betty Schmidt, and Betty Pierce.

Candidates for the two junior posts open to affiliated women are Frances Keefer, Tri Delta; Natalie Burns, Phi Mu; Harriet Talbot, Delta Gamma, and Ellen Wilkins, Kappa Delta.

Unaffiliated junior candidates for the other two posts are Ruth (See COUNSELORS, page 3)
