

Engineers make annual inspections

105 students leave on tour of industrial plants in middle eastern cities

At 6:50 this morning 105 students from the College of Engineering left for Chicago on the department's annual inspection trip. The tour, which includes visits to Chicago, Illinois; Milwaukee, Wisconsin; Gary, Indiana Harbor, Indiana, and Whiting, Indiana, officially begins this morning and ends at 12:00 noon next Saturday, March 23.

Mechanical and chemical engineers have the largest representations with 33 and 23 delegates respectively. Official headquarters will be at Fort Dearborn Hotel, Chicago. Accompanying the body will be these seven faculty members who make up the inspection trip committee: A. L. Pugsley, architectural engineering; L. W. Hurlbut, agricultural engineering (chm.); C. J. Frankforter, chemical engineering; Ilo Trively, civil engineering; F. W. Norris, electrical engineering; N. H. Barnard, mechanical engineering; and J. W. Haney, mechanical engineering.

Chicago plants.

Among the Chicago plants to be visited are Western Electric Co., the city's sanitary district and lighting institute, Sherwin Williams Paint Co., General Electric X-ray Corp., Illinois Central Railroad, electrification division, International Harvester, Procter-Gamble Co., DuPont Grasselli chemical laboratories, State Line Power plant, Ford assembly plant, Rosen-

(See ENGINEERS, page 2.)

Eugenecist talks in Union

Popenoe speaks on love problems in ballroom

Lecturing at 4 p. m. today in the Union, will be Dr. Paul Popenoe, expert on love and all its

DR. PAUL POPENOE

... he knows when it's love...

angles. For five years Dr. Popenoe has taught marriage and family

(See POPENOE, page 2.)

Which of these -- Nebraska's choice?

Gerry Wallace

Marjorie Adams

Pat Reitz

Jean Cullinan

Beth Howley

Bettie Cox

University coeds elect AWS board

Bradstreet, Simmons vie for presidential post at polls on Monday

AWS officers and board members for the coming year will be elected at the polls Monday by university women. Presidential candidates for the organization are Marion Bradstreet, Gamma Phi Beta, and Jean Simmons, Tri Delta.

Eight candidates from each of the three classes, sophomore, junior and senior were announced by the nominating committee headed by Virginia Clemans, retiring president. Four of each will be elected to board membership.

The junior woman polling the highest number of votes will become vice-president. The sophomore and freshman receiving the highest vote will become secretary and treasurer respectively.

Senior candidates

Candidates for senior board members are juniors Annette Blernbaum, Alpha Xi Delta; Ann Husted, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Margaret Krause, Delta Gamma; Moneta Newman; Betty Roach, Pi Beta Phi; Patricia Sternberg; Marion Stone, Kappa Delta, and

(See AWS BOARD, page 8.)

Irish use fifes, drums to greet patron in 1766

Those loyal Nebraska Irish students who are at a loss to know how to celebrate St. Patrick's day today might take a tip from a group of their ancestors who celebrated the day in New York City 174 years ago.

According to a report of the festivities in the New York Gazette of 1766, "Monday last being the Day of St. Patrick, titular Saint of Ireland, was ushered in at Dawn with Fifes and Drums which produced a very agreeable Harmony before the Doors of many Gentlemen of that Nation and others."

The news flash stated that many loyal Irishmen gathered around the tavern fire and drank a number of toasts (20 to be exact). The Gazette recorded the 19th toast as follows: "May the enemies of Ireland never eat the bread or drink the whiskey of it, but be tormented with itching, without the benefit of scratching."

More in keeping with the life of this great Irish Saint is the three day pilgrimage that many people all over the world make to the island in Lough Derg where St. Patrick went through "Purgatory" for 40 days and nights. These pilgrims fast on bread and black tea, walk barefoot over harsh stones, pray all day, and watch in the great, dim church all night.

NU women to choose May Queen

To elect 30 candidates for Mortar Board in Tuesday's polling

May Queen, traditional ruler of the annual Ivy Day ceremonies when new Innocents and Mortar Boards are tapped, will be elected Tuesday from among the six senior candidates filed. University women will also nominate thirty candidates for Mortar Board from which thirteen will be chosen for the senior women's honorary.

Candidates for May Queen are June Bierbower, unaffiliated; Virginia Clemans, Pi Beta Phi; Faith Medlar, unaffiliated; Selma Hill, Sigma Delta Tau; Maxine Lake, unaffiliated; and Priscilla Wicks, Delta Delta Delta.

The election will be held Tuesday, March 19, from 9 to 5 in Ellen Smith on the city campus and Home Ec hall on the ag campus. All junior and senior women may vote for both May Queen and Mortar Board nominees. Each girl may indicate from five to twenty choices for Mortar Board, and the members will be selected by this year's Mortar Boards from the 30 candidates with the most votes.

June Bierbower is sports editor

(See MAY QUEEN, page 3.)

Names of six Nebraska coeds, selected from a filing list of 23, will appear on local ballots for men students to vote their choice for the university's entry in the All-American Campus Queen contest being sponsored by Paramount Pictures. Marjorie Adams, Bettie Cox, Jean Cullinan, Beth Howley, Pat Reitz, and Gerry Wallace were the six selected to compete.

Barney Oldfield, motion picture critic and commentator, sat in with the student judges who narrowed down the entry field on the basis of beauty, talent, personality and screen possibilities. The other judges were Dick deBrown, editor of the DAILY which is sponsoring Nebraska's participation in the contest, Grant Thomas, Ralph Reed, Merrill Englund, Bob Poe, Fred Stiner, Walt Rundin, Bill Mowbray, Orval Hager, John Mason, Roger Cunningham and Leo Cooksley.

Quite a time

"The judges had quite a time narrowing the number of entries down to six," stated deBrown, since all candidates seemed well-qualified for the honor." He expressed the thanks of the DAILY for the interest shown by the large number of entrants in the contest, and stated that candidates may obtain the return of their pictures by calling at the DAILY offices.

Marjorie Adams is a sophomore in teachers college and lives in Lincoln. She is a member of University Players. Bettie Cox is a sophomore in arts and sciences college and is from Pierce. A Beauty Queen in the 1939 Cornhusker, she is also a member of University Players and the Barb Activities board.

Jean Cullinan is a freshman in teachers college from Lincoln, and a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. She has been active in freshman work including A.W.S. and tanksterettes. Beth Howley is a junior in arts and sciences

(See QUEENS, page 5.)

SAM beats PiKA team

Trio wins semi-final of interfraternity quiz

Sigma Alpha Mu met and defeated Pi Kappa Alpha yesterday in the first semi-final match of the interfraternity quiz. The Sigma Alpha Mu team, composed of Norman Harris, Henry Greenberger, and Steve Fraenkel, had a score of 80 out of a possible score of 84, the highest score in the tourney thus far. Pi Kappa Alpha was close behind with a score of 72, losing the quiz on the question, "What famous woman novelist is the daughter of a former chancellor of the university?"

Runoff Tuesday

The remaining semi-finals will be held Tuesday. The fraternities which will compete are Alpha Gamma Rho, Delta Tau Delta, and Kappa Sigma. In the sorority contest, Alpha Xi Delta will meet Delta Delta Delta, and Gamma Phi Beta will compete with Kappa Alpha Theta.

The finalists, two fraternities and two sororities, will meet in the final quiz to be held Sunday, March 31, in the Union ballroom. A sorority woman and a fraternity man will act as the masters of ceremonies, and will quiz the teams. The judges, who will make

(See INTERFRAT QUIZ, page 8.)

Dean announces junior division counselors

Appointment of ten faculty members to the board of counselors of the new junior division was today announced by Dean N. A. Bengtson. The appointments will become effective next fall if they are approved by the board of regents at their next meeting.

Men appointed to serve as advisers for students in the junior division in the colleges are Dr. Earl S. Fullbrook, business administration; Dr. Joseph B. Burt, pharmacy; Dr. R. C. Bedell, teachers; Prof. J. P. Colbert, engineering; Dr. C. C. Wiggins, agriculture; and J. R. Wadsworth, arts and sciences.

Students who enter the university with deficiencies will be advised by Dr. James N. Reinhardt, sociology. Dr. C. O. Swayzee, business organization and management, will counsel students desiring to take the two year terminal course. Advisor for special adult students will be Dr. K. O. Broady, school administration; and Dr. O. H. Werner, history and principles of education, will be counselor for unclassified students.

Function described.

"The primary function of the board is to serve as senior advisers for new students," says Dr.

Bengtson, "and to act in advisory capacity to the dean. The new program does not involve any change in entrance requirements. All students who are fully qualified to enter the college of their choice will do so under the guidance of the counselor of that college and will be enrolled both in a college and the junior division. Students showing deficiencies will be referred to the counselor assigned to that duty, and will be registered only in the division."

Dr. Reinhardt will attempt to help students make up their deficiencies as quickly as possible so that they may be immediately registered in the college of their choice.

Committees available in fall.

Development of two year terminal course, open to everyone but especially designed for students who do not care to take four years of college work, will be under the direction of Dr. Swayzee. Committees from the colleges are now preparing terminal courses which will be available next fall.

Dr. Broady will be in charge of the first step in the development of a complete program of adult education with definite objectives, and will advise adults taking university work.

Students doubtful of the wisdom of their college preference or who do not know which college they want to enter will be advised by Dr. Werner. Aptitude tests and interviews will be given these students to help them make a wise choice.

Recommendations from each counselor involving major reclassification of students will be submitted to Dr. Bengtson who will make the final decision after consulting with both the student and the counselor.