Ping pong tournament.
By April 23 these matches in the finals and semi-finals of leagues 1 and 2 are to played off: Kathryn Kellison and Cleo Meier, league 1 singles, while the Theta team of Betty O'Shea and Barbara Stewart is slated against Alice Becker and Mary Wilson, Alpha Phi, in the league 2 doubles.

Pris Wicks and Marian Nicholson, Tri Delta, will oppose Eleanor Lutz and Helen McPherson in league 1. In league 2 singles Harriet Black and Marjorie Schrader are matched.

Jim Bagby shuts out Senators 7-0; Reds nip Cubs, 2-1

Boston's Red Sox came thru with another shutout, Thursday afternoon, at the expense of the Washington Senators. Young Jim Bagby allowed five hits as his mates downed the Nationals 7 to 0.

The Detroit Tigers behind Tom Bridges' fine hurling stopped the St. Louis Browns 4 to 2 in the only other American league game. All other junior loop frays were cancelled due to cold weather and wet grounds.

Gene Thompson edged his Cincinnati Red mates past the Chicago Cubs 2-1. This score duplicated the opening game by the same National league clubs. Claude Passeau was the losing pitcher.

Ball team falls to Ames by 8-2, 5-3

Nebraska's ball nine lost its second Big Six start, Saturday afternoon, to Iowa State at Ames by 8-2. In the other weekend game the Huskers started the season off right, however, by defeating Luther college.

The Cyclones bunched seven runs in the first three innings to pile up a lead that was too much for the Huskers to overcome. Then, too, Willard Mylenbusch held Nebraska to only three safeties in his six innings on the mound. His successor gave up a pair of runs and six hits, one a homer by Dow Wilson with nobody on base.

Bob Searle started on the hill for the Huskers and gave way to Bob Garey. Vance Ray led the Nebraska hitters with two singles while Secondbaseman Gordon led Iowa State with three safe blows, one going for three bases.

NU drops first game of series 5-3

The Huskers dropped the opening game of the Iowa State series, 5-3, as the Cyclones scored three runs in the last of the eighth.

John Thompson of the winners homered in the second, but Husker pitcher Sid Held clouted a circuit drive in the fifth to even the count.

Iowa State added one in the fifth when Doug Strohbehn doubled and Bob Dappen singled.

The Huskers got two runs in their half of the eighth to go ahead temporarily. Dow Wilson singled, stole second, and went to third after John McDermott grounded out. Warren Gabelman made first on a fielder's choice as Wilson held third. Oscar Tegmeier singled Wilson in, then Ames' second baseman, Fred Gordon, threw the ball over the catcher's head, and Gabelman scored.

The Cyclones, though, came back. Thompson's double drove in Bob Benedict, who had also doubled. Then Paul Visser drove out a home run to tally the two winning scores.

Unlike last year when the high man in the junior division scored an upset by winning the entire contest, the first ten men in the senior division this year outranked the top scores in either of the lower divisions. And nine of them had higher scores than the championship ranking last year. In fact, only 22 points out of 1,400 separated the top-man from the tenth in this year's senior bracket—a good omen for next year's intercollegiate crops team.

Second place in the senior crops division—and the entire contest—went to Jack Carter of Chappell who was announced last week as the dairy products judging champion of the college. Next in order in the crops event were Weston Pielstick of Gibbon, Dwight Cherry of Cortland, Wayne Ehlers of Roca, Daniel Atkinson of Pawnee City, Eugene Liggett of Shelton and Marion Pederson of Hardy, tied, Richard Crom of Pawnee City, and Dwight Pumphrey of Lyman.

Red Littler second in hundred at KU relays; Harold Hunt gets tie for third in pole vault

By Jim Evinger.

Rundle leads NU to net wins over KU

Harold Rundle led Nebraska to double victories over Big Six opponents in tennis play this weekend. The Husker No. 1 man, after dropping his first set Saturday, came back to defeat Howard Englemann as Kansas university dropped a 5-1 decision to the Huskers.

Johnny Huston and Harry Ankeny also came up with singles wins, but Charley Eberline dropped his match to give the Jayhawks their only point. However, Eberline teamed up with Ankeny to win a doubles match as did Rundle and Huston. Results:

Singles: Harold Rundle (N) defeated Howard Englemann (K) 4-6, 7-5, 6-0; Harry Ankeny (N) defeated Jack Floyd (K) 6-1, 6-1; John Huston (N) defeated Kermit Franks (K) 6-1, 4-6, 6-2; Connie Voecker (K) defeated Charley Eberline (N) 2-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Doubles: Rundle and Huston (N) defeated Floyd and Englemann (K) 6-4, 6-3; Eberline and Ankeny (N) defeated Warren Shupe and Bob Minor (K) 6-3, 6-3.

Split even at K-State

The Husker golf and tennis teams broke even Friday with Kansas State, as the tennis squad won 5-1, and the golfers lost 16-2.

Harold Rundle, John Huston and Harry Ankeny won their tennis matches; Jack Horacek, who beat Charles Eberline, won K-State's only victory. Both Husker doubles teams won.

Ben York, K-State No. 1, had the medal score in the golf match, 68. Bill Mowbray, his foe, had the lowest Husker score, 72, two under par. The Huskers lost every golf match.

Sham battle--

valley was almost impossible. The valley itself was filled with a spray of machine gun and rifle fire. But only at close quarters and in skirmishes were the bullets effective and there was much of this close fighting.

We dropped down behind a group of evergreens with a detail of Brown soldiers who were firing at a section of the enemy to the west. The officer in charge decided upon a flank attack but at the moment they rose a withering fire from the Blues rained upon us from our flank. The press members were almost numbered among the casualties. Two details were completely wiped out.

A strange incident of hallucinations or ghosts, which we absolutely verify, is reported. A soldier, seemingly alive, came up behind a group of soldiers hidden on a hill and ordered them to surrender. The soldiers looked up amazed, remarking, "We won't do it! You have already been killed four times."

"Oh, no, I'm not," replied the mysterious one. "Bullets don't hurt me. You'll have to get me with a bayonet."

Kappa Sigs swamp Delta Theta Phis

Sig Alphas take Chi Phis into camp by score of 9 to 2; DU's victorious

In Saturday's softball games, there were five scheduled games but only three were played, the League Two game between Acacia and the Phi Deltas was postponed until Wednesday, and the League Three tussle between the Betas and Sigma Alpha Mu wasn't played due to initiation ceremony at SAM.

The only other game to be played in League Three was between the Kappa Sigs and Delta Theta Phi, Kappa Sigs winning by 21 to 6 count, Bryce Smith the Ivy Day Orator, pitched for the losers while John Sullivan hurried for the victors; there were two home runs made by the winners Hitchcock and Crews driving them in.

There were two League Four battles, the first was between the Chi Phi's and the Sig Alphas, the Sig Alphas winning by a 9 to 2 score, four runs were made in the first time up, stellar pitching by Harold Osborn was the necessary factor in the victory for the SAE's.
