display Goodhue sketch collection Morrill galleries

Architecture at its best is represented in a display of some 60 drawings of the late Bertram Goodhue, designer of Nebraska's capitol, which will be on exhibition in the fine arts galleries of the university today thru Friday.

This collection represents some of the great architect's best known and most popular achievements, and was loaned to Prof. L. B. Smith, chairman of the department of architecture, by William Emerson, Boston architect, who spoke here last March. This group of drawings is particularly prized today for it is all that is left of the artist's work. All his other sketches have been destroyed by fires.

Capitol climaxed career. Goodhue, whose celebrated career was climaxed with the completion of the Nebraska state building, died in New York in 1924.

Among the interesting drawings included in the gallery A display are those of a Nassau street office building, a pen and ink perspective sketch of an apartment house, pen and ink rendering of Hartley House, Duluth, Minn., and drawings of several noted churches—Calvary church, Pittsburgh; Christ church, Hyde Park, Mass.; All Saints, Brookline, Mass., and the Episcopal cathedral of St. Matthew, Dallas.

Werkmeister reviews appear in 'Ethics'

Dr. W. H. Werkmeister of the department of philosophy has two book reviews appearing in the current number of Ethics. One is a review of "The Philosophy of John Dewey," edited by Paul A. Schilpp, the other "Intelligence in the Modern World," edited by Joseph Ratner. He has reviewed Joseph Maier's "Hegel's Critique of Kant" for the next issue.

Orchesis dances 'demonstration' in Union Tuesday

Orchesis, modern dance group, will present a demonstration of dance movements, instead of its usual recital, Tuesday evening at 7:15 in the Union ballroom.

A program of eight divisions will be presented; the opening demonstration, explained by Miss Shirley Bennet, instructor in physical education, will illustrate principal techniques of modern dance. Following that will be Pavanne, Black Shadow, Circles, Percussion, two-part invention, Carioca, and 'O Susannah.'

Betty Mueller and Betty Groth have created a novel dance in their version of Carioca. The dance interprets the rhythms of the music. 'O Susannah' is a folk suite presented by the entire group, who will wear different

Law student wins contest

Clineburg writes winning essay on copyright law

William A. Clineburg, Lincoln, Nebraska, member of the graduating class of law college, is author of the $100 prize-winning essay on copyright law in the school's annual Nathan Burkan Memorial Competition, according to the announcement of Dean Henry H. Foster's committee for the award.

Clineburg's subject was "The Protection Afforded by the Law of Copyright to Recording Artists in Their Interpretations of Musical Compositions." Similar awards are made in nearly one hundred of the leading law schools of the country.

These essay contests are sponsored by the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers (ASCAP) in tribute to the late Nathan Burkan, attorney and general counsel of the society from 1914 until his death in 1936, who led the society's successful legal campaign for the protection of performing rights under music copyrights.

Science men elect Brunig president

State academy's 50th annual convention stars Carveth Wells speech

The Nebraska Academy of Sciences, convened for its 50th annual meeting at Chadron, May 9 to 11, elected M. P. Brunig, of the university ag engineering department, president to succeed V. C. McKim.

Marcus Weldon of ag college was named treasurer, and Dr. A. L. Lugn, university geology professor, was named councillor for a three year term. The academy also decided to hold its next meeting here.

Principal speakers at the meeting were C. H. Bright, who attacked the recent legislative planning commission report as the product of "mavericks," and Arthur Schweitzer, German refugee, who attacked the regime of the Third German Reich under Adolf Hitler.

The meeting was held jointly with the Nebraska section of the mathematical association of America, the Nebraska Council of Geography teachers, the Nebraska Council of Mathematics teachers, and the Nebraska Science teachers association.

Carveth Wells talks.

Program for the meeting included addresses by Carveth Wells, who told of "My Return to Malay," and J. B. Kincer; group meetings of the various organizations and divisions represented, and presentations of papers to the organization.

Dr. Lugn addressed a joint meeting on "Scientific Method of Geology." Field trips to Sow Belly, Agate, Rushmore, and the Nebraska Badlands were also a part of the program arranged for the scientists. Music was furnished for the meetings by Chadron college orchestra and chorus.

"A Study of Family Traits," was presented by Dr. D. D. Whitney, of the department of zoology, while "An Analysis of the Inheritance of Certain Human Traits," was the subject of a paper by Eugene F. Powell. C. Bertrand (See SCIENTISTS, Page 3.)

1940-41 registration begins tomorrow at 8

First semester registration for 1940-41 will begin tomorrow and continue thru noon of Saturday, May 18. On the ag campus registration will be from Tuesday thru Friday only.

Late fees will be charged students who do not see their advisers or whose applications are not in the offices of their respective deans by noon of May 18.

Early registration, however, applies only to students who have been registered and attending the university during the second semester of 1939-40.

Adviser conferences may be had during the days of registration, during the advisers' hours listed in the catalog for the first semester of 1940-41.

Credit books may be obtained at the registrar's office upon the presentation of the student's identification card and picture. Ag students may get their credit books from Dean Burr's office.

Applications to dean.

Applications for registration must be filled out and left with a statement of the student's outside activities with the dean of their college for the dean's approval.

Miss Helen Hosp, dean of women, may be consulted regarding women's registrations, but her signature is not required.

Fees must be paid at the office of the finance secretary not later than Sept. 4, 1940, or a late registration fee will be charged. Graduate students and Lincoln city teachers will be charged late fees after noon of Sept. 28. Registration is not complete until fees are paid.

Fees.

The finance secretary will send a statement of fees to each student before Aug. 12. If a student does not receive his statement by Aug. 17, he should notify the finance secretary's office at once. The office will accept no responsibility if the statement is not received if a student fails to do this.

A student's summer address or any change in this address should be given to the finance secretary.

Registration for new students and former students not in school at the period of early registration may register Sept. 16, 17 and 18. Order of registration at this time is to see the registrar in the coliseum, see the adviser and dean, and pay fees.

McGee, Koehler sing, play today in Temple recital

Miss Martha McGee of Columbus, one of the outstanding student singers at the University of Nebraska, and Miss Betty Jo Koehler of Lincoln, pianist, will present their senior and junior recitals respectively at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Temple.

Miss McGee, a senior in Teachers college, has been prominent in university music circles for several years and has sung leading roles in various school productions. She took the part of Carmen in the Bizet opera which was presented recently by the University Choral Union. Miss Koehler is a well known student pianist, and is a junior in Teachers college. Henry Brahinsky, of Kansas City, Mo., Teachers college senior, will play violin obligatos on the Sunday program, which follows:

Ave Maria, Bach-Gounod; Plaisir d'amour, Martini; Vissi D'Arte, Puccini, Miss McGee.
Sarabande, Rameau-McDowell; Fantasy, C minor, Bach; Rhapsody, B minor, Brahms, Miss Koehler.

Forgotten Waltz, Liszt; Snow is Dancing, Debussy; Etude, C sharp minor, Op. 25, No. 7, Chopin; Etude, G flat, Op. 10, No. 5, Chopin, Miss Koehler.
Life, Curran; The Homing Heart, Malotte; A Memory, Ganz; Song of the Open, LaForge, Miss McGee.

Gerry Wallace, Leota Dennis accept positions in physical education

Two seniors in the department of physical education for women have positions for next year. Miss Geraldine Wallace, of Lincoln, will teach swimming and sports in the Sophie Newcomb college of Tulane university, and Miss Leota Dennis, of Grand Island, will be assistant superintendent of the city recreation department at Alton, Ill.

Miss Wallace is a member of the Delta Gamma sorority and was the Junior-Senior Prom Girl of 1939.

Curfew rules for women persist, but men live under few bans in American colleges

By Paul Dinnis.

In order to compare the regulation of women's hours at the University of Nebraska with similar rules at other coeducational universities, Dick deBrown, editor of the DAILY NEBRASKAN, last week completed a poll of 14 major universities. DeBrown found that all universities surveyed have some sort of regulations imposed upon women students, altho many are much less stringent than at Nebraska. There are no men's requirements at any of the institutions, and women's hours apply only to those living in official campus residences, as at Nebraska.

California

California U. at Berkeley allows women living in organized houses to remain out until 12:30 week nights. They can remain out until 2:30 on weekends.

Indiana

At Indiana U. girls must be at home by 10:30 each night except Friday and Saturday nights, when the time is extended to 12:30. On special occasions, the Dean of Women extends hours to 11:30 or 1:30 as the occasion may justify.

Iowa State

Iowa State college insists that parties close down at 10:30 on Friday evenings, and at 11:30 on Saturday. Women must be in their residences by 10 during the week, 11 on Friday, and 12 Saturday evenings. Freshman women must be in by 8:45 on all but Friday, Saturday, and Sunday nights.

University of Iowa

Hours for women at the University of Iowa are 10:30 p. m. on week nights, and 12:30 on Friday and Saturday nights. Exceptions are made for students whose extracurricular activities keep them out later than these hours. Women may stay out until 1:30 on occasions of big school dances.

University of Illinois

Coeds at the University of Illinois must be in by 10:30 week nights, but may stay out until 1 a. m. on weekends. However, on nights of the big Varsity dances, which last until 1 a. m., they have until 2:30 to get in.

Kansas State

At Kansas State college co-eds must be in their residences at 10 on week nights, by 10:30 on Sunday, and by 1 on Friday and Saturday nights. On week nights men may not be at girls' rooming houses later than 8. Other nights they may be entertained until the closing time already stated.

Kansas university

At Kansas U., girls must be in by 10:30 on week nights. On Friday and Saturday nights, they may remain out until 12:30. Individual extension of these hours is granted only after parental permission is obtained.

Michigan

At the University of Michigan, freshman women must be in on week day nights by 9:30, all other women by 10:30. Week-end nights for all women are 1:30 a. m. on Friday, 12:30 on Saturday, and 11 o'clock on Sunday. For class dances 2:30 permission is given.

Minnesota

Freshman women at the university of Minnesota may have two evenings a week until 1 a. m., and all other students, except seniors, may have in addition one 11:30 permission. Permission may be obtained from house chaperones for two additional late evenings a month, and seniors may obtain more than three evenings a week with permission from house chaperones. ## Transportation convo wins praise of Detroit official

The university's recent transportation conference was one of the best ever conducted, in the opinion of Leslie Allman, vice-president of the Fruehauf Trailer company of Detroit. The Detroit official was one of the discussion leaders this year.

"This was one of the most constructive meetings rendered by each form of transport agency," he writes in a house organ published by his company. "Great credit should go to Prof. G. M. Hicks who served as chairman and to his able associates."
