

By June Bierbower.

Now for some more looking to next year, in a track sort of a way. It's almost too good to be true, because even if the Huskers didn't have a single freshman coming up, they would be hands-down favorite to win the 1941 track pennant, what with not a one of their 58.1 points being lost thru graduation of a trackman.

To aid this year's sophomores and juniors, the standouts among whom were necessarily overworked because of lack of numbers, will be some extra-snappy looking frosh.

To look at the hurdles, for instance. Bill Smutz and Bob Kahler are both back, but ready to go next spring, too, will be Ralph King and Clyde Taylor, who fought it out for state high school supremacy last year, and who have been looking very, very good for the yearlings this spring.

Then there is a sprinter, Jack Bengier, who was ineligible this spring. Not only can he sprint, but he broad jumps around 23 feet (winning jump in this year's Big Six meet was 22-6), and high jumps six feet. Which brings up the fact that Taylor has cleared six feet in the high jump. Bengier will be a big help to Red Littler. What a sprint crew that will be, if Lloyd Wright makes a comeback next spring—Littler, Bengier, Wright and Abel—not so bad, my hearties!

Don Morris, the Scottsbluff sprint champion of last spring, has been converted into a quarter miler. A pretty fair relay team could be picked up, then, at least for the relay meets, with Littler, Morris and Warren Radtke, if Radtke is back next year.

Then, there is one of John Bentley's beloved Lilliputians, in the form of Bob Ginn. The little Madison runner has run both the mile and the half mile faster than any Husker frosh, and has come very near to the varsity record in the mile. He also has turned the 2-mile in close to 9:40, and with him to help out Brooks, it means points and points for the Huskers.

As for weightmen—we can't think of any javelin or discus men, but, too, we can't see that they're sorely needed. Francis and Wibbels, who placed in the Big Six meet, will be back in the shot along with Rohn and Prochaska, in addition to two new gridders.

The DAILY NEBRASKAN

Dear everybody, etc. . . .

Students and Athletes, U. of N., Dear Sirs:

Calling all students! . . . Calling all students! . . .

When vacation time rolls around, the cry of the travel bureaus and transportation lines is "See America first" . . .

And at this time in the course of world events, the best place to stay is—right here at home. . .

But just as sure as my name is Yahudi and as sure as I have written this open letter, there will be a number of you who will get the wanderlust and start out to see the United States. . .

That feeling to satisfy the travel bug is all well and good, but when the good ol' summertime is over, don't forget to come back to Nebraska U. . .

And when you return to your home towns this summer in the state of Nebraska, be sure to contact the graduating high school students and impress on their minds that they should come to this school to carry out their university career. . .

Taking this attending Nebraska from a sports angle—the main reason this letter was written—above all, encourage the athletes of this state to come to Nebraska U. . .

Maybe the pastures on the other side of the fence do look greener. . . But will they always remain as fertile? . . . The fields right here in Nebraska have always been good enough to roam in for the greater part of us. . .

This appeal is to athletes of this state to complete their athletic endeavors in this university. . . In the past, as there will be in the future, many promising athletes of this state have transferred their talents to other schools in other states. . .

Subsidization of athletes of Nebraska high schools have felt the urge to show their prowess on fields remote from Nebraska U. . . However, this university does not dip out of its element—the state of Nebraska—to corral by subsidizing methods promising athletes. . .

Nebraska has a hard enough time alone to keep high school athletes attending the state university without dipping its colors by dangling monetary sums in front of the eyes of other states' athletes. . .

Every so often during the spring months, rumors reach the sports offices that several of the star high school athletes are heading out of state to attend college. . .

The DAILY office has also heard tell of these rumors. . . And some of these athletes have really grabbed a good share of the athletic headlines in the past year. . .

To mention just a few instances, a couple of Jackson high athletes are going westward to "look over" the California coast this summer. . . a Gothenburg stailite has also heard the call from the Razorback state. . .

And then, lastly, the athlete who has gained the widest attention—a Lincoln high product—has had his head turned by flowery words from both far and near. . .

Two students in this school right now know of the pitfalls of competition in out state schools. . . Just ask Bob Sauer, younger brother of All-American George, about the southern climate. . .

The other one in passing is Eugene "Red" Littler. . . A California junior college had the speedy Redhead for a year, but after that, Littler returned home. . . What has happened for Littler and Nebraska track is 1940 history. . .

So, you students of Nebraska, impress on the minds of these high school athletes that they owe their loyalty to this state to make a name for themselves in college in Nebraska athletics—not in some other school. . .

Let this letter prey on your minds this summer to encourage these promising Nebraska high school athletes to attend Nebraska. . . After this call to all students, we are going to issue a call for all athletes—Nebraska athletes. . .

Signed, YAHUDI.

P. S. Tell those Nebraska athletes to "See Nebraska first."

Big Six marks better Big Seven's

NU's league holds advantage in eleven of fifteen events

In making a comparison of the track and field teams of the Big Six conference, in which the University of Nebraska has emerged victorious in the last two years, with the various institutions of the Big Seven conference the Huskers hold quite a convincing margin over the best athletes the mountain states, and Colorado in particular, have to order. Last Saturday at the same time the Huskers were winning the Big Six title, the members of the Big Seven were competing against each other at Boulder, and Colorado won. Comparison of the figures made last week between the Big Six and Big Seven is as follows:

| Track events— | Big Six | Big Seven |
|-------------------------|-----------|-----------|
| 100-yard dash | 9.9 | 10.0 |
| 220-yard dash | 21.3 | 21.7 |
| 440-yard dash | 49.6 | 50.3 |
| 880-yard run | 1:57.7 | 1:57.7 |
| 1 mile run | 4:24.7 | 4:36.0 |
| Two-mile run | 9:54.8 | 10:28.1 |
| High hurdles | 14.9 | 14.6 |
| Low hurdles | 25.1 | 24.3 |
| 1 mile relay | 3:23.7 | 3:28.0 |
| Field events— | | |
| High jump | 6-00 1/4 | 6-3 |
| Broad jump | 22-6 1/4 | 22-5 |
| Pole vault | 13-5 1/4 | 13-1 |
| Shot put | 51-1 1/2 | 50-5 1/4 |
| Discus | 160-5 1/2 | 149-1 |
| Javelin | 216-4 | 181-3 |

These figures show the Big Six to have an advantage in eleven of the fifteen events, one being even and the Big Seven holding three best, despite the fact bad weather sorely handicapped the Lincoln meet. In four events won by Huskers, the 440 pole vault, discus and javelin, the marks are better than those of the Big Seven.

Tennis team beats Gophers 4 matches to 2

Nebraska's tennis team, Big Six runner-up, continued undefeated in dual match play, as they downed Minnesota, 4-2. Harold Rundle, Husker No. 1 man, met his first defeat in dual competition, as he bowed to Ed Von Sein of the Gophers, 6-0, 6-2.

Mike Lieberman of Minnesota had to go three sets to beat the Huskers' Charles Eberline in the other Gopher victory, as he won 4-6, 6-4, 6-4.

John Huston beat Ed Olson, 8-6, 6-3, and Harry Ankeny beat Charles Johnson 6-4, 6-1, in the Huskers' singles wins.

Both Husker doubles teams broke the two-all tie as they came from behind to win. Rundle and Huston beat Olson and Johnson, 3-6, 8-6, 6-2; Ankeny and Eberline beat Von Sein and Brain 4-6, 6-4, 6-4.

shot putters, Gulliver Schleich and Wayne Blue, who mopped up things in frosh meets. What with Hackney, Vanderbilt, and Potter, the other three Big Six placers graduating, the Huskers may be having lots of fun in that shot event next year.

Jim Knight, Husker wrestling star from 1937-39, is back in town. . . he's been with the army in South Carolina since last summer, and is now up here learning to fly in the air corps. . . Harold Rundle's loss to Ed Von Sein of Minnesota in a tennis singles match, is his first loss in a dual meet in his college career. . . Rundle's only other defeats have come in the conference finals at Oklahoma hands. . . Joe Ben Champion beat him the first year, and Ed Lindsey has won the last two years.

YW cabinets end year's activity with picnic

YWCA ended their activities for the year last night with a picnic at Pioneer's park, the ag college cabinet and city cabinet together. After the picnic each member gave an evaluation of the work of their staff and made plans for work next year.

The picnic planned by the freshman cabinet has been postponed until next week.

Among the state and national organizations are the United States Children's Bureau, the Bureau of Prisons of the department of justice, the Nebraska Council for Crime Prevention and Rehabilitation of Offenders, the National Probation association and various courts and school districts.

Free to everyone interested in the subject, the conference is being held in response to the interest shown by individuals over the state. The program will consist of both addresses and roundtables with opportunity for discussion from the floor.

Former NU biologist dies

One of the original members of the Nebraska Academy of Science, Dr. Clarence J. Elmore, died at Liberty, Mo., where he had been head of the biology department of William Jewell college for a number of years, last Sunday.

Dr. Elmore was assistant in the botany department at Nebraska, where he took his A.B. degree in 1895, and his master of arts the following year. He was awarded a Ph.D here in 1915.

Russo pitches Yanks to 10-2 win over Indians

Marius Russo pitched New York's Yanks to their first win in the last three days, as he limited Cleveland to three hits, in winning 10-2. The Yanks got 12 safeties, as Charley Keller hit for the circuit. Al Milnar lost his first game for the Indians.

Four homers gave Boston's Red Sox an 11-3 victory over Detroit, as round-trippers accounted for nine of the runs. Jim Foxx homered with the bases loaded, while Doc Cramer, Bobby Doerr and Ted Williams also hit four-basers. Denny Galehouse and Emerson Dickman pitched for the winners.

Chicago came from behind with two runs in the ninth to beat Washington, 9-8, in the only other American league game yesterday.

In the lone National league game, Brooklyn rallied in the last inning to beat Chicago, 4-3. Chicago got three in the third, after which Van Mungo held them scoreless until the ninth, when Tots Pressnell finished. Dolph Camilli singled in the winning run off Claude Passeau, who went all the way for the losers.
