Daily Draculas, Husker Hooeys meet Friday

Cornhusker staff predicts smashing win

Cornhusker staff members are proudly and confidently predicting a series of smashing, ruthless victories by scanning the line-up of the All-Cornhusker football team.

A tremendous amount of beef on the hoof, coupled with a program of extensive training on long hours, little studying and much "coking," has produced this 9-man threat to the DAILY NEBRASKAN'S little discussed, and less bragged about team of so-called football players.

Lineup.

The following lineup has been tentatively announced as the starting team by Coach "Rawhide" Russell. This team, altho known as the third team, will be used so that the first and second teams may rest for future games of real contesting ability: Dangerous Dalton, left end; Racehorse Rydman, right end; Hackem Hwaldt, left tackle; Roughhouse Rundin, right tackle; Alka Selzer, center; Axe-man Aden, quarterback; Flatfoot Forke, fullback; Snakehips Stewart, halfback; Manglepuss McDermott, halfback. Other players who might appear are Slug Sloan, Gunner Graham, Mangler Meier and Cutthroat Calhoun. On to victory is the cry, that is, if the RAG members will show up.

A SMALL WORLD.

The old saw about how small the world is after all—at least the show business world—was borne out last week when the new Fred Allen show (KFAB) began its fall series.

It all started in 1925 when Allen was playing Broadway in a show whose hit song was "I Love Me," written by Jack Hoins. The song made the show, but somehow Allen never got to meet the composer. In 1938 Hoins was hired by 20th Century Fox to do the publicity for "Sally, Irene and Mary," starring Allen, who thought he would finally get a chance to meet the old time composer. Yet, the meeting never materialized, and they didn't meet until last week when Hoins was assigned to do publicity for Allen's program—after 16 years of working together.

Two programs to watch, if you are looking for novelty, is the Vox Pop program over KFAB at 7:30 tonight and the Ask-It-Basket program immediately following it.

Wally Butterworth and Parks Johnson will interview prospective brides and bridegrooms in the former program, which will originate from Lewis and Conger's department store in New York. The store has been sponsoring a clinic or school for those contemplating marriage for some time, and tonight the regular session will be aired over the Vox Pop program.

Community singing will be the big feature on the quiz program. Ed East and Nelson Case will conduct it.

Rag ruffians claim line-up formidable

A stray dog wandered into the DAILY NEBRASKAN office today with the Cornhusker lineup for the game of the century—between the manglers of the NEBRASKAN and the morning-glories of the Cornhusker—tied to his tail.

The DAILY NEBRASKAN has planned—a humane thought—not to release its lineup at such an early date because it did not want to scare the brutes off the week-kneed Husker Hooeys. When the boys in the cubby-hole read the NEBRASKAN lineup there will be, no doubt, a rush among them to sign up with the draft, where a war will be heaven compared to the working over they'll get in Friday's game at 3 p. m.

Nebraskan not egotistic.

The NEBRASKAN, not being of an egotistic makeup, as is a certain publication which manages to come out only once a year, has not spread misleading propaganda over the campus. The RAG ruffians are much too intelligent to reveal the true greatness of their strength.

Secret drills, well-planned signal practices, strenuous work-outs (the NEBRASKAN team takes a brisk walk around a chair every morning just before their breakfast of two aspirins and a "bromo" chaser) have developed the Draculas of the DAILY into men of steel—they'll steal anything.

Coach does wonders.

Dribble-puss Duree, NEBRASKAN line coach—boy, what lines! thru these training regulations has done wonders. When Hatchedhead Harris first came out for the team he was a 97-pound weakling—today, he's 100 pounds of fighting nicotine and alcohol!

The rowdies of the DAILY follow: Emil-mouth Evinger, left end; Blaster Bower, right end; Sizzler Segrist, right guard; Avalanche Abbott, right tackle; Hatchedhead Harris, quarterback; Swishy-swashy Svoboda, right half; Psychopathic Petersen, full back; Kit-ten Kanton, left guard; Mountain-chest Martz, left tackle; Lightning Lewis, left half; Dynamite Dinnis, left end; and Catastrophe Combs, left over. Cavalade Kerrigan will be the inspiration.

Clean sportsmanship will be the rule of the game. Brass-knuckles may be used only on line-plays. Pistols are outlawed except a pass-receiver is open to a pot-shot at any time. Referees and linemen will be chosen in nationwide talent search of state prisons.

How important is backing up the line?

Any prep school youngster knows it's absolutely vital in football. And it's just as vital in the telephone industry. Backing up the nation's line of communication is Western Electric's responsibility on the Bell system team. This assignment includes manufacturing telephones, switchboards, cable and thousands of other kinds of apparatus—purchasing all manner of supplies for the telephone companies—seeing that all these things are available when and where needed.

By handling this assignment, Western Electric helps to maintain telephone facilities at maximum efficiency—helps, when emergencies arise, to restore them in minimum time—and thus contributes to the efficiency and low cost of your Bell Telephone service.
