

Librarians plan two day meet bringing five noted speakers

Local chapter will be host to 250 guests this month as state association meets here

Holding its 45th annual convention in Lincoln Oct. 17-19, the Nebraska Library association will be addressed by five speakers coming from outside the state. Prof. Stephen A. McCarthy of the university library is president of the group.

At the opening session, Dr. Leon Carnovsky, professor of library science at the graduate library school of the University of Chicago, will speak on "Democracy's Claims on the Public Library." B. F. Coen of the library at Fort Collins, Colo., will speak at the first day luncheon.

Other speakers include Dr. Carl M. White of Illinois university, Miss Hanna Logan of University of Chicago high school, and Miss Edith Gantt formerly of the U. S. office of education. Also appearing will be Dr. R. A. Miller, director of the University of Nebraska libraries and Prof. E. B. Schmidt and Prof. G. W. Gray of the Nebraska faculty.

A tour of the Lincoln libraries has been planned for the 250 guests who are expected. Past presidents of the American Library association will be honored at a tea given by the Lincoln chapter for members of the convention.

Officers of the library association for this year are Prof. McCarthy, Mrs. Ellen D. Smith of Hastings, Miss Mildred Palmer of Fremont and Miss Laurine Anderson of Auburn.

I-F Council-

(Continued from Page 1.) will be Clark Kuppinger. Other men who will serve on that committee are Clint Jurgenson, Walter Cropper, Ben Novicoff and Jack Galloway. It will be the function of this committee to revise and enforce rushing rules and regulations.

Following the plan initiated last year, the Council will publish a magazine, The Nebraska Fraternity Digest, explaining the part which fraternities play in university life, which is to be distributed to men over the state planning to enter the university this fall.

Digest appears second semester. Editor of that publication will be Chris Petersen, with Jack Cole as business manager. The publication is scheduled to appear at the beginning of the second semester.

Placing the improvement of fraternity scholarship as its chief goal this year, the judiciary committee appointed Charles Roberts to serve as head of the scholarship committee which is made up of Winegarten, Dick LaMarr, Warren Day, and James Selzer.

Jane Shaw tells frosh women aims, purposes of YW

Jane Shaw, president of the YWCA, discussed the aims and purposes of the organization at the meeting of the freshman AWS yesterday in Ellen Smith hall. She told of the origin of the YWCA and traced its development through several countries.

Part of the YWCA funds designated for relief of people in foreign countries has been used to aid in the migration of Chinese universities from Japanese occupied territory to the western part of the country. One of the important activities of the group on this campus is the annual publication of the "N" book.

Susan Shaw, in charge of the meeting, named a committee which will present a skit on Roberts' Rules of Order at the next meeting.

YM plans retreat for ag students

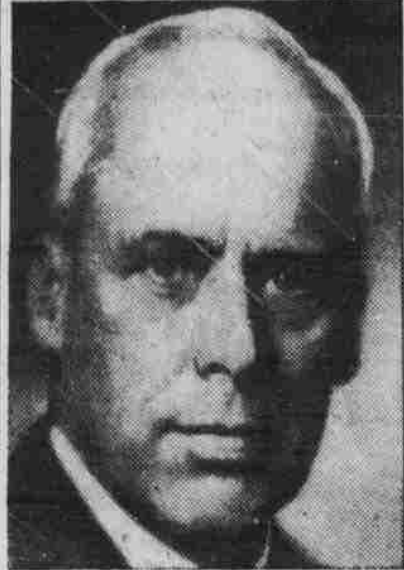

Freshmen will engage the upperclassmen in touch football as the feature of the ag college Y. M. C. A. retreat to be held Saturday at 5 p. m. in Peter Pan park, said C. D. Hayes, general chairman of the Y. M. C. A. of both campuses.

Milton Gustafson, graduate student, will lead a discussion on "The Highlights of Y. M. C. A. work." Weiners, marshmallows, cider and doughnuts will be served. Those planning to attend should leave their names at the "Y" office in ag hall.

Theater awaits 'Double Door'

'See My Lawyer' has last showing tonight

With the final performance of "See My Lawyer" scheduled for tonight, work on the next University Theatre production is already under way, Armand Hunter, director of the theater, announced yesterday.

Hunter requests those who wish to try out for the second play, "Double Door," to read the play carefully. He has placed two copies in the reserve room of the library where they will be accessible until Oct. 14 or 15.

Tryouts for "Double Door" are to be held Oct. 16 and 17, and the play will open Nov. 16, allowing a full month for rehearsals.

UN grad goes to Randolph

Dick Joyce '40 arrived in Lincoln Wednesday to spend a few days before leaving for Randolph Field, Texas. Dick enlisted as a flying cadet the latter part of July, was accepted and sent to the Oxnard training field located at Oxnard, California where he remained for five weeks.

He was then moved to Glendale, California where he has just finished sixty hours flying time and is now being transferred to Randolph Field where he will receive advanced training and then moved to Kelly Field where his education as a pilot will be completed and he will be assigned to a regular army air base.

New officer wins over Hiatt as factional ties enter into close race

In an election largely dominated by factional ties, Wendell Bayse, liberal, was elected vice-president of Corn Cobs over Dick Hiatt, progressive, Wednesday night.

Since this office was the only one open this year a proposal was made last week that the vice-president be appointed by the other officers. This could not be agreed upon, necessitating the vice-presidential election.

Voting by faction affiliation the electors created a 9 to 9 tie. The deciding vote of the president elected Bayse.
