101 Huskers gridder to Kansas

Migration takes all footballers

Complete varsity squad, freshmen take annual student pigskin trek

Nebraska's football players—101 strong—will head the list of Cornhusker fans following the team to Lawrence for the battle with the Kansas Jayhawks on Saturday.

At the head of the parade will be Ray Prochaska, Ulysses end, and Walter "Butch" Lather, Cambridge halfback, who co-captain the Huskers.

The game marks the start of the 1940 Big Six season for the Cornhuskers, while the Jayhawks will be making their second conference start. The latter dropped their season opener against Iowa State, 7-0.

Practice in Topeka.

The team leaves this morning at 8:45 from the Burlington station. A light workout will be taken at the Washburn stadium this afternoon and the team will stay overnight in Topeka.

Saturday morning, the team will ride on into Lawrence with the migration special, arriving there at 11:20 a. m. The squad comes back on the Union Pacific leaving Lawrence at midnight, Saturday.

Included in the football group are 36 varsity regulars, 23 squad men, and 43 freshmen. The varsity members leave today, while the others will go with the Cornhusker special that the students will take.

The probable starting lineups:

Nebraska	Kansas
Preston (191)	Ulrich (194)
R. Kahler (220)	Holloway (216)
Schwartzkopf (175)	Massare (193)
Meier (190)	Pierce (186)
Alfonso (188)	J. Kern (200)
Behm (200)	Crowell (222)
Prochaska (198)	Crowell (182)
Petsch (175)	Vandaveer (177)
Hopp (195)	Hall (190)
Lather (190)	Fry (186)
Francis (201)	Suagge (186)

Officials: Referee, Parke Carroll, Kansas City university; umpire, Ted O'Sullivan, Missouri; head linesman, Bob Miller, Missouri; field judge, A. L. Haskins, Oklahoma.

Award Davis pin.
Dorothy White, junior, was awarded the Marie Davis pin to wear for the coming year. This pin was presented for the first time at the annual big and little sister dinner held Wednesday evening and will become an annual presentation. The pin is given in recognition of outstanding service to the organization, high scholarship, and for being partially or wholly self-supporting.

Six juniors, five seniors in KU lineup

Veterans sprinkled thruout Jayhawker team against Huskers

LAWRENCE, Kas., Oct. 18.—Six juniors and five seniors will comprise the University of Kansas' starting lineup Saturday, when the Jayhawks take the field against Nebraska.

At end will be Hubert Ulrich and Ward Crowell. Ulrich, a 19 year old junior, stands 6 feet 1 inch tall and weighs 194. Crowell, a senior shifted from guard, had never played end before until spring practice.

The starting tackles will be two men who alternated at right tackle last fall, Jim Holloway and W. J. Jack Holloway, who scales in at 216, is now playing on the left side of the line, while Jack is doing business at the same old stand.

Fine Kansas guards.

At guard, Coach Gwinn Henry has a pair of men he wouldn't trade for any guards in the conference, Quido Massare and Jay Kern. Massare, a Pennsylvania boy, is now in his third year as a regular, while Kern, who hails from Gary, Ind., is a junior and in the starting lineup for the second season.

Respected Don Pierce holds forth at center for the Jayhawks. "The man from Mars" played ball last year as the KU first string center and now that he can see is doing a whale of a job backing the line.

Quarterback for Kansas is Marvin Vandaveer, a junior from Wellington. He is a fine play caller, good man at returning punts and the passer for the team.

Versatile backfield.

At halfback, Coach Henry will start two A-1 ball carriers, Ed Hall and Jake Fry. Hall is a power runner, who drives into the line furiously, while Fry is the elusive type of back. Both men stood out in last week's victory over Drake. Ed Suagge, Indian boy from Oklahoma, is the Jayhawk's regular fullback. Suagge did not play much the past two seasons, but is going strong in this, his senior year.

Game captain for the Jayhawks Saturday will not be named until shortly before the contest by Coach Henry. It is taken for granted, however, that it will be either Massare or Pierce. Both are seniors and are in line for the honor, inasmuch as Hall and Suagge, other senior standouts, already have been game captains this fall.

Yep, some 44 years ago, KU beat Nebraska at Lawrence; those Jayhawks are overdue

By the Olde Tymer.

Forty-four years ago Kansas defeated Nebraska at Lawrence in football.

Since then, no Jayhawker eleven has ever turned the trick on the Kansas home field over a Husker team. The score of that particular game 44 years ago was 8 to 4.

In 1896, Grover Cleveland was president of the United States. The Spanish-American feuding was about to shift into high gear. And again, it was the time of the Gay Nineties.

Kansas wins four.

The Huskers and the Jayhawks have played every year since 1896 except for a two year layoff (1904-05) and the Kansas lads have defeated the Nebraska boys only four times—all on the Cornhusker state sod.

It's been since 1916, however, that the Kansans have failed to win a victory either on Kansas or Nebraska soil. In the last few years, Nebraska has been hard pressed to come thru with a victory.

In 1937, the Huskers scored a touchdown late in the game against an underdog Jayhawk eleven to come out of the scrap with a 13-13 tie. The Huskers had to wait until the last two minutes of the 1938 game to pull out a 16-7 victory.

Close games of late.

In the "good old days," the Kansas-Nebraska gridiron battles often ended in a fight. Each school charged the other with "dirty tactics" and some games ended with the coaches taking their teams off the field before the game was finished.

But now, it's a different story. Sportsmanship prevails and congratulations are showered on the winner. Kansas are wondering if this will be THE year. Twenty-four years of drouth-filled years of having never beaten Nebraska are bound to back water sometime.

Forty-four years of never beating Nebraska on Kansas soil is also bound to come to a halt sometime. All Nebraskans hope, naturally, that this won't be THE year.

Sig Eps, Delta Upsilon win I-M football games

Thursday afternoon saw five intramural games played, three in the fraternity leagues and two in the barb leagues. League 4 had two games in the fraternity schedule and one in league 1. The latter, between Acacia and Phi Kappa Psi, was not scheduled but was a hold-over. The Phi Psi's won 7 to 0, showing a good attack.

Sigma Phi Epsilon literally bowled over the Phi Gams 28 to 0. Searle was the player of the afternoon, in running, passing and making extra points. He was assisted ably by Krikac and Wenke, an end who caught two touchdown passes.

The last game in this league was a 13 to 0 victory for Delta Upsilon over Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Weekes passes to E. Pankonin and E. Green accounted for the 13 points. Fraternities are again reminded to keep a list of outstanding opposing players to be turned in to the DAILY at the end of the season.

Barb football had two games with identical results, 10 to 0. Pioneer Coop club outdid Omega club to win their tilt handily while Lincoln Barb club was no match for the efforts of KKK. Both of these games were close. The first game was in league 4 and the last was in league 3. The Husker Kolonels have dropped all of their intramural games.

The games for Friday afternoon are all barb games, there will be no more scheduled fraternity games until next Monday. Thursday saw the conclusion of activities in league 4. The schedule for tonight:

League 1.

ACBC vs. Baldwin Hall at 5:00.

Barb Cats vs. Brown Palace at 5:00.

League IV.

Madmen vs. Mad Russians at 5:00.

League V.

Termites vs. Union Leaders at 5:00.

Tappa Keega vs. Tappa Nu Keeg at 5:00.

Child education group elects Johnson prexy

Officers for the Nebraska branch of the Childhood Education Association, a departmental club in elementary education, were elected at a meeting last night. Betty Jean Johnson, a senior, was elected president, and an advisory board of three was chosen. Members of the board are Ruth Cook, junior, Barbara York, sophomore, and Joan Long, freshman.

It's the Nebraska migration to Kansas Saturday that will be causing all the excitement down around Lawrence... Cornhusker followers will number almost a thousand strong by game time down around the stadium on the Kaw river...

Last Saturday, Drake completed six passes—right into the hands of Jayhawkers... Chester Gibbons, ace Kansas dropkicker, nearly missed a placement against the Bulldogs last week... The ball hit a Drake player's helmet and still wobbled over the goal posts... That's 10 in a row now...

Nebraska's first string line will be outweighed for the third consecutive Saturday when it meets Kansas... Hank Rohn is Nebraska's high scorer thus far this year—a grand total of 7 points...

Pittsburgh has marked up 32 first downs in the last two games in beating Missouri and tying Southern Methodist... Kansas State has a player named Billy Quick who is the finest triple threat back on the Wildcat squad... He weighs only 175 pounds...

Don Wagner, associate editor of the DAILY about four years ago, is still stationed with the United Press in Minneapolis... Nebraska's band has some crack new formations and tunes which it will spring Saturday and again on the following Saturday when Missouri plays in Lincoln...

Oklahoma proselyted Bill Cluen to work during the halves of the Kansas State-Sooners game this Saturday... He comes from the Northeastern State Teachers' college of Tahlequah... He'll do the baton twirling...

Mathias Volz and Herb Gish both officiated in the Kansas State-Missouri game a week ago... The cry around the Wildcat campus was "Stop Christmas," just as it is on every other campus that opposes the Tiger star...

Kansas State claims a truly Kansas ball club... Only one man on the squad of 46—Bernie Weiner—is from out of the state... He comes from New Jersey and his aim is veterinary medicine...

Oklahoma looms as a passing threat this year... Headed by Jack Jacobs, the Sooners completed 16 out of 21 aerial tosses against Texas last week... The yardage by benefit of the flips totaled 171 yards...

"The man from Mars" that will be opposing the center of the Nebraska line, Saturday, is Don Pierce, Jayhawk senior center... The Orson Welles' creation appearance arises from the helmet which is especially constructed to house a pair of glasses that cover Pierce's eyes...

Nebraska hasn't been defeated by Kansas on the next-state-south soil in the past 44 years... According to the Daily Kansan, Butch Luther resembles a Whirlwind Dervish... And further, "Roy Petsch would rather fight than eat..."

And this is "30" for now... Except, no matter whether it's a win, loss, or draw at Kansas, let's welcome the team home—maybe not at 5 a. m. on Sunday but later on in the day... Right now, it's off for Kansas...

Students enjoy ag social hour

Ag students enjoyed the second of their "social hours" Thursday at the college activities building. Ping pong and shuffleboard contests attracted students to the lower gymnasium where card games were also played. Square dancing occupied the upper gymnasium. Demonstration groups showed how to perform the dances after which students joined in.
