

Footballers--38 strong--entrain for Oklahoma

Huskers seek fourth season win from high flying, potent Sooners

Nebraska meets the midpoint of its 1940 campaign on the gridiron Saturday.

For on this day, the Huskers will play their fifth game of the season. Four are behind them and after Saturday, four will remain to be played.

Oklahoma is a real threat to the Cornhuskers' chances of finishing the season without a defeat. The Sooners are ready for the Huskers and have been pointing for this game for several weeks now.

The outcome of the game is believed to forecast the shadow of the Big Six champion for this year. Thusly, all the anxiety on the part of both teams to win this game Saturday.

Only setback on the Sooner schedule is the 19-16 reverse handed to it by the University of Texas. Two conference foes have succumbed and one Missouri Valley team.

Leading the squad of 38 varsity performers to Oklahoma are Co-Captains Theo Thompson and Harry Hopp, senior backfield performers. Johnny "Bull" Martin will captain the Sooner eleven.

Sigs with a students health bureau. The Deltas have a "Kitty's Quiz" and the Gamma Phi Betas "Nellies Gone Away." The Chi O's will delve into surrealism and the AGR's have a musical number centering around a whistling routine.

Armand Hunter, the suave master of ceremonies last year, will be on hand again this year. Johnny Cox and his band will furnish the music for the affair.

at 10:45 by train for Norman, via Kansas City. A workout will be held this afternoon at Taft stadium, home of Classen high school football team, in Oklahoma City.

Due back Sunday.

The Nebraska squad will leave earlier for Lincoln on the return trip than the student special, arriving in Lincoln at 1:50 Sunday afternoon.

Listed in addition to Coach Biff Jones' three full teams are Jack Vincent, triple-threatener, and Freddy Metheny, sophomore quarterback. The latter has yet to see service this year.

Coaches Jones, Link Lyman, and Glen Pressnell, Student Manager Monk Meyer, Team Physician Dr. Earl Deppen and Trainer Elwyn Dees will accompany the Nebraska varsity.

Coaches A. J. Lewandowski and W. H. Browne will be on scouting trips.

Injuries slight.

The squad took a light warmup drill, Thursday, as the heavy practice sessions tapered off. The whole team was in near perfect physical condition. Handicapped by injuries still are Hermie Rohrig and Jerry Kathol.

The starting problem of the Huskers is still in doubt at the left halfback post. Hopp may start in place of the ailing Rohrig. Novel Wood may creep into the Sooner lineup for Clifton Speegle at center for the only Oklahoma change at game time.

Husker two-milers to run vs. Sooners

Nebraska's undefeated Big Six two-mile quartet departs for Norman, Okla., this morning for a harrier race with the Oklahoma Sooner cross-country runners.

Bill Lyda, Sooner mainstay, will be the chief opposition to the Husker foursome. Little Bobby Ginn, Madison sophomore, and Harold Brooks, Gothenburg junior, will head the Nebraska quartet.

Others making the trip are Bill Cook, letterman, and Darrell Garrels, Diller.

Frosh and Scouts in gridiron battle

One of these afternoons, Coach Harold Petz's freshman footballers are going to beat the Scout club of Ad Lewandowski. To date, the frosh have gone to bat three times against the Scouts and have been retired each time without a win.

The fourth Scout-Frosh football battle will be played this afternoon at 4:05 on the freshman practice field west of the coliseum.
