Huskers—

stop us). Center Freddie Meier centered the ball to Francis. The Viscount headed back into the line. Then, BOOOM, things began to happen.

Francis shoved the ball to his side in crashing the line and Meier took the ball from him and followed Vike in the latter's wake. The result was a first down on the 1-yard line.

On the next play, Francis drove thru center for the touchdown. Rohrig added the final point from placement.

From then on, the Huskers settled down to good old defensive play and batted down the many tosses by Jacobs. Shortly before the game ended, Coach Biff Jones inserted his seconds and thirds to finish the battle.

In recounting the skirmish, the names of backfield performers—Harry Hopp, Vike Francis, Hermie Rohrig, and Butch Luther—stand out above the rest.

The line—the complete first team front wall—was a tower of strength in halting the feared running attack of the Oklahomans.

From end to end—Fred Preston, Royal Kahler, Eddie Schwartzkopf, Bob Burruss, Warren Alfson, Forrest Behm and Ray Prochaska—the whole line, with Alfson in particular, functioned to perfection.

Oklahoma's vaunted running attack, headed by Jack Jacobs, Creek Indian triple-threater, failed to run smoothly against the formidable Husker line. The passing failed to materialize because of the alert Husker secondary and fast charging line.

Standing out for the Sooners were Jacobs, Marvin Whited, Johnny Martin and Orville Mathews in the backfield, while Bill Jennings, "Tree-top" Sharpe, Roger Eason, Harold Lahar and Novel Wood shone in the line play.

The least we Husker fans can do now for the champion-playing Cornhuskers is to meet the conquerors at the Missouri Pacific station at 1:50 Sunday afternoon.

Quite a few were these who took off for Oklahoma, missing by that way a weekend full of house parties, picnics, and other clubby little get togethers that comprise a lot of fun...but if jaunts into foreign places are still the great sport the Minnesota and Kansas tours were, maybe everybody had something there...a feminine contingent constituted the majority of those "training" down...Alpha Phi's V. Way and V. Chambers, Theta Tess Casady—wonder what Junior Oldfather did this week-end—and DG Betty Holtorf...the Brant twins, Chio's, have been looking forward to going home to Soonerland since early this fall 'cause they went to school down there last year...

Two private pledge gatherings were, Friday evening...Phi Gams had a barn party in a barn, someplace in Nebraska...no one, much less their actives knew where...

Delta Omicron formally pledges new members

Formal pledging of new members of Delta Omicron, national honorary musical society, will be held Nov. 6. The new pledges are: Nina Armstrong, Antonette Skoda, Roma Biba, Dorothy Huffman, Ann Fickling and Ruth Ferguson.

Hank Green played host to the Phi Delt pledges and they picniced...

Bob Poe hung his Phi Delt pin on KKG Mary McCarthy...the 18th of September...they celebrated its appearance on the exterior of her dress with a couple of glasses of milk, at the Pike... Friday night was the coming out party...

These Sigma Chi's get more and more music on their minds...they serenaded Friday and last night... they're good...plug...but they have got six boys who can really sing...

Interested in batting in that league of Mary Larkin is Mitt Meyer, DU...

This morning a flock of Chio's are breakfasting Mary Fialar at the Cornhusker...pre-nuptial courtesy stuff...

Chained together are the Chi Omega pin of Ruthie Miller and the AGR emblem of Eric Thor... We'd like to send a few posies the way of the local florist who sends out pretty bouquets to the best girl of every footballer who makes a touchdown...keen gesture...

Out came the hayracks and the Kappa Sigs picked up their dates for their Barn Dance...the Alpha Phi's had a fine time in their Jungle and it was a Saturday night...

The Pi Phi's ate chocolates from Dorothy Dehner, pledge this year who left college for married life...

Today the KKG girls will honor Mrs. Catlin at tea...
