

The Churches This Week

Roger Williams club, Baptist student organization, is planning a guided discussion covering the problems suggested by its three previous speakers. John Jay Douglass is to lead the discussion in the First Baptist church, 14th and K, at 6:30 Sunday evening. A social hour from 5 to 6 p. m. and refreshments at 6 will precede the worship service led by Rolland Purdy.

Newman club, Catholic student organization, will hold its regular monthly social hour from 4:30 to 5:30 p. m. Sunday in Room 315, Union.

First Christian church, 430 So. 16th, is sponsoring two Sunday classes for university students. Upperclassmen will convene under Mr. L. R. Gerber at 9:45 a. m. for discussion of the topic "The Bible and Social Living." Mrs. Ray Hunt will teach freshmen at the same time on the theme "Discovering Jesus." Planned recreation at 5:30 p. m. will be followed by a supper at 6:15. Gerven King is to lead the Vesper Service in the chapel at 6:30.

First Plymouth Congregational church, 20th and D, will highlight its Thanksgiving service with a sermon entitled "With Thankful Heart." Miss Catherine Turner is slated to be the soloist when the Carillon Choir sings. Dick McConnell and Elaine Jordan are in charge of the evening program. Vesper service at 7:30 will follow a buffet supper at 7.

University Episcopal church, 13th and R, will hold Holy Communion at 8 a. m. and a Choral Eucharist at 11.

Nebraska Evangelical club will have its monthly meeting in Parlors X and Y, Union, at 7:30 Saturday evening. A group of musicians from Nebraska Wesleyan will furnish entertainment in the social activity following the business meeting.
