

Survey shows 1,296 out of 2,269 ag, city voters read Nebraskan daily

By Art Rivin.

A total of 2,269 students, about 32 percent of the combined ag and city campus enrollment, cast ballots in the DAILY NEBRASKAN survey held Nov. 12. Results of the balloting are as follows:

Twelve hundred and ninety-three students said they read every issue of the DAILY. One hundred and forty, however, do not read it at all. Reading the NEBRASKAN once a week are 168 students; twice, 231; three times, 276; 229 read it four times per week.

In response to the question, "How many times a week do you read a Lincoln city newspaper," voters answered thus: 186, not at all; once a week, 143; twice, 122; three times, 172; four times, 117; five, 134; six, 119; and 1,354 every day of the week.

"Do you approve of adding $1 to fall tuition fees for automatic subscription to the DAILY?" Survey results show that only 768 approve while almost twice that number, 1,476, turn thumbs down.

Four hundred and eleven use the coliseum facilities at present. One thousand two hundred and eighty do not. Those who avail themselves of the coliseum facilities now, however, do so on an average of only twice a week.

Students were asked next whether they would use the facilities if the coliseum were open after 6 p. m. To this query, 702 answered in the affirmative. A small plurality, 913, placed their mark in the "no" column.

Sinfonia admits three from faculty

Three faculty members were admitted to Sinfonia, men's honorary music fraternity, at the weekly meeting Thursday. Myron Roberts, organ instructor, Hermann Decker, voice instructor, and Secretary Tagg, of the school of music staff were those admitted.

The organization also planned for a Thanksgiving dinner. Robert Rouch sang "Home in the Hills" for the society.

Kirsch elected state head of art week opening Nov. 25

Dwight Kirsch, head of the university art department, has been elected state chairman of National Art week which opens Nov. 25. The local program, under the chairmanship of Miss Kady Faulkner, also of the university art department, will feature exhibitions in down town store windows, in the offices of city doctors, and in the galleries of Morrill hall.

A sales room, so that some of the works may find their way into homes, will be open daily from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., at 129 South 13th street. A public auction will

Reward for overcoat

A man's gray-green overcoat with a zipper lining was given to the wrong person Friday, Nov. 16, at the main check stand on the first floor of the Union after the student dance. A reward will be given for the coat's return or any information leading to its recovery.

Awgwan needs business manager

Applications for business manager of the new Awgwan Flash will be received until Wednesday noon, Nov. 20, in University hall 104, announced Gayle C. Walker, chairman of the publications board, yesterday. Material already on file need not be duplicated. The vacancy was created by the resignation of Gerald Spahn, present business manager who is over-pointed.

ties if the coliseum were open after 6 p. m. To this query, 702 answered in the affirmative. A small plurality, 913, placed their mark in the "no" column.

The 702 who answered "yes" to the previous question were cut down to only 568 for the proposal and over 900 against when asked if they would pay $1.50 per semester for a basket and towel at the coliseum. Accompanying many of the "no" votes was the phrase, "no more costs!"

To determine the sentiment of the men barb students toward the

Debate tryouts held tonight

Upperclass speakers argue unity of nations

Tryouts for the annual upperclassman intercollegiate debate will be held tonight at 7:30 in Andrews 126, announced Debate Coach H. A. White yesterday. Topic for debate is, "Resolved: that the nations of the western hemisphere should form a permanent union." All students interested may attend.

Three affirmative speakers, Roy Byram, Harry Rinder, George Blackstone and E. D. Warnsholz will oppose Edwin Carraher, Robert Chambers, Stanley Klein and Clyde Martz, who will uphold the negative side of the question.

Each man will have eight minutes, divided as he sees fit, with the exception of the first affirmative speaker. The latter will have nine minutes, to be divided into a constructive speech of five minutes and a rebuttal of four to be given after two negative men have spoken.

Former intercollegiate debaters will judge entrants on both material and delivery. Each man will compete against all others, regardless of side.

be held there Thursday, Nov. 28, at 7:30 p. m.

"The purpose of the whole program, as exemplified on a local scale here," says Miss Faulkner, "is to make possible the decoration of American homes with American art."

Head Military Ball committees . . .

Pictured are committee chairman for the Military Ball in the coliseum Dec. 6. First row, left to right, are: Richard Miller, stage decorations; Thomas Horn, programs and invitations; Gerald Wilson, refreshments; Edward Huld, ticket sales; and Gerald Adams, main floor decorations. Back row, left to right, are: Robert Nourse, parking; William Millek, floor management; Robert McConnell, music; James Martin, check room; and Phil Weber, publicity. Harry Seagren, chairman of the honorary colonel presentation, is not in the picture. Maj. Ralph E. Cruse of the engineers' corps is director of this year's ball which officially opens the formal season.

ing and playing periods allotted to them for purposes of constructive criticisms of their efforts. This is a service the department of music is now able to offer musical groups through the cooperation of the athletic and military departments."

Don A. Lentz, director of university bands, will conduct the football game mass band. Registrations have been received from the following conductors:

13 high school

Bands to participate in first annual all-state day Nov. 23

Selleck originates plan

Thirteen high school bands from as many Nebraska cities will participate in the university's first annual all-state band day in Lincoln Saturday, Nov. 23.

The bands will march and play exercises, for the purpose of critical review, said John K. Selleck, originator of the plan. As guests of the university at the Iowa State game, the bands will combine in a mass formation to play two numbers at the half.

Col. C. A. Thuis, commandant of cadets, has charge of accommodations, and Dr. A. E. Westbrook, director of the school of fine arts, will direct the musical performance.

Not a contest. "The day is in no sense a contest," Dr. Westbrook said. "The bands will register, enter march-

Dafoe gives barb review of election

Speaking for one hour last night in the Student Council meeting, barb leader Bill Dafoe reviewed the barb issues concerning the election of last Tuesday.

Other business of the council could not be taken up since it was dinnertime and a quorum of the council was not present when Dafoe finished. Business to be taken up centered around the collection of identification cards by factions.

Dafoe held the floor during the entire meeting, yielding only to questions from the floor. He began by explaining the appeal sent to the senate committee which asked that the election of last Tuesday be approved, providing the ag college votes were approved. He said the appeal was made on the grounds that there had been no violation of rules by the barbs.

Want clean election. Members of the council contend that since rules were broken by all factions involved that a new election should be held with the stipulation that it be made as clean an election as possible. Chris Petersen, progressive, council member, stated that the council members were sincere in stating that they wanted a new election so that they could make it more honest and clean.

In retaliation, Dafoe stated that he thought the election of last Tuesday was clean from the barb standpoint and that people who violated the election rules were ignorant of the fact that they were breaking them. He recommended that the persons breaking the rule and not the whole party be punished.

Many interested students viewed the proceedings of the meeting. The new election which was approved by the council in special meeting last week cannot be held until the university senate takes action on the appeal from the barb party. The senate meets a week from today.

Ag students invade city campus for night of festivity

Ag night, a night of festivity at the Union for all ag students, will be held Nov. 29, announced Pat Lahr, Union social director.

Henry Mattison's orchestra will play for the dance in the ballroom from 9 to 12, and from 8:30 p. m. to 10:30 p. m. movies will be shown in room 316. The music room will also be open for ag students who wish to hear selections from the record collection.

800 tickets have been printed for the affair and are now available at ag hall. For admission, tickets must be presented with an ag identification card. One of a couple must be an ag student. A bus will leave the Union for the ag campus at 12 midnight after the party.

Teachers write articles in new Alumnus issue

Three short three-minute discussions are presented in this month's "Nebraska Alumnus," out last week under the general heading, "The U. S. A."

Authors of these articles are Dr. Eugene A. Gilmore, Jr., assistant professor of economics, on "The U. S. A.—two economic problems; Dr. O. H. Werner, professor of principles of education, on "The U. S. A.—and the teachers;" and Dr. Glenn W. Gray, associate professor of history, on "The U. S. A.—and the future."

The address given by Dr. Michael Ginsburg, associate professor of the classics, at the homecoming dinner this year is printed in full. Under the title "Campus Cycle" are articles condensed from the DAILY NEBRASKAN which contained campus news.

This issue of the "Nebraska Alumnus" also had general alumni news, reproductions from the scenes of "Cheers for Miss Bishop" shot on the campus, the words and a portion of the music of the Fred Waring song, "Dear Old Nebraska U.," pictures of alumni, school events and the faculty, and other news of general interest to alumni.

Vespers to have films of Estes conference

A film showing the work and activities at the Estes conference will be shown at YW Vespers tonight. Vespers are held at 5 in Ellen Smith. All women who have attended or plan to attend the conference are urged to attend this meeting. YMCA members are invited.

—Lincoln Sunday Journal and Star.