London paper among journals in Book Nook

Files of Sunday editions of leading newspapers is the latest addition to the reading material now available in the Union Book Nook. A London paper, the Manchester Guardian, is included, as well as the New York Times, the vivid, yet re-Omaha World Herald, the Kansas City Star, the Chicago Tribune and various student publications.

"Out of the Night," Jan Valtin's new Book of the Month, which is the story of a communist in Ger- country's demmany, is now also on the Book ocracy, Nook shelves.

The water-color sketches will her book to her remain on display for another week. These were done by a student, Robert Wolfe, and picture scenes near Red Cloud, Neb.

Daily critic sees . . .

Clare Boothe's 'Europe in the Spring' . . . as writer's best work

By Marjorie Bruning.

Playwright Clare Boothe achieved unusual heights for a woman in her field when she wrote her recent book, "Europe in the Spring," which rolled off the presses this fall, giving to Americans served piece of reporting which shows its author as an alert, n telligent woman with fears for the safety of her Miss Boothe,

who dedicates

band.

derstood why" she wanted to go to riod, spent February to June, on her typewriter is typified by its 1940, in Italy, France, the Low sanity, clarity, and the important Countries, and England, trying to truth it carries. She is so sincere determine exactly what was going in her belief that democracy can on in Europe. She talked with be saved if quick action is taken peasants and diplomats; had a and backs up her argument so well wild ride across the Spanish border, chauffeured by two Portu- France and stories of corrupt gese; witnessed the German inva- politicians and weakened public sion into Belgium and air raids in London; saw Paris, stripped of its they may not agree in full, at gaiety, its democracy, and its least see a lesson for America in morale; and then returned to the futile struggles of France and America to write a brilliant, the Low Countries against invastartling book about Europe and sion and are ready to follow her its fears and hopes.

-Journal.

Sometimes a man's work.

charming, woman.

What Miss Boothe wrote of what she saw turned out to be a book bearing shocking reality and truth, intermingled with phrases of hope and enthusiasm. Her chief purpose in writing this bit of timely European history was to explain why what she saw happening to Europe is so important to Americans, and their position in world affairs.

An interventionist.

Miss Boothe is frankly an interventionist but certainly not a radical agitator for her cause.

4:30 p. m. - Merryle Stanley Rukeyser, financial news columnist discusses the national economy as affected by the present world disturbance- CBS.

6 p. m.-Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians in "Chesterfield Pleasure Time"—WOW.

6:30 p. m.-Al Pearce and his Gang-KFAB.

7:55 p. m. - Elmer Davis and the News KFAB.

8:00 p. m.- "Johnny Presents" with music by Ray Block's orchestra and the Swing Fourteen-

8:30 p. m. Campbell Playhouse starring Douglas Fairbanks, jr., in an adventure drama in the Car-9:45-News of the World, a summary and analysis of the development of the news of the day by CBS corres; ondents—CBS,

Family complains of drafts, prof

William Jewell college, Liberty, ture shown in 1940, a poll con-Mo., has qualified as a college professor.

His family complained that cold drafts were coming from the attic of their home, so the self-sufficing prof took hammer and nails and went to work.

he had sealed himself in and no half that many-"Rebecca" was favorites mentioned were not manner of prying could get the boards loose again.

Then he pounded for help. His two daughters and a boy friend rescued him.

Week's ten best sellers

FOR WHOM THE BELL TOLLS, by Ernest Heming-

OLIVER WISWELL, by Kenneth Roberts.

SAPPHIRA AND THE SLAVE GIRL, by Willa Cather. MRS. MINIVER, by Jan

Struther. RALEIGH'S EDEN, by Inglis Fletcher.

Non-Fiction. TREASURY OF THE WORLD'S GREAT LETTERS, edited by M. Lincoln Schuster. TRELAWNY, by Margaret

Armstrong PILGRIM'S WAY, by John WINSTON CHURCHILL, by

Rene Kraus. REPORT ON ENGLAND, by Ralph Ingersoll.

Europe during such a crucial pe- Every thought which came to life with her accounts of the fall of morale, that her readers, though lish world democracy. Hard-boiled, cynical critics, with Although Miss Boothe, as an an aversion to giving women writanalytical, sometimes cynical New ers credit for achievements which Yorker, does the job of a man in rank with those of men, acclaim her interpretative account of Eu- Miss Boothe, without reservation, rope in the spring, the reader is as a woman worthy to be placed ever aware that he is also seeing in the ranks of today's most ag-Europe as it was through the eyes gressive and talented historians, sympathetic the foreign correspondents.

Afternoon of art bores freshmen English students

Discovered yesterday in mysterious gallery B-Morrill hall, third floor, left-was a group of fellows apparently engaged in the old-fashioned African sport-

But alas, what seemed to be a cultural afternoon of dice throwing turned out to be an afternoon of mental inspiration for half a dozen freshmen English students,

Waiting for an inspiration to overwhelm them while they looked at the Midtown art exhibits in the gallery, members in all the fresh-men English classes taught by Prof. Melvin Van Den Bark were in an American crusade to estabrather dubious of the inspirational value of art as emphasized by their teacher. He required them to gaze at the pictures until struck by an idea for a theme.

Final tally revealed: One student had a vague feeling that an inspiration would hit him any moment: four students' minds were tota! blanks; the last was sound asleep on the gallery floor.

Bob Montgomery, as Mr. Smith, submits to being shaved with an old-fashioned razor by Carole Lombard, Mrs. Smith, while Gene Raymond, the loyal friend, looks on in a scene from Alfred Hitchcock's comedy, "Mr. and Mrs. Smith," now playing at the Varsity.

'Gone With the Wind' movie ranks first in student survey

AUSTIN, Texas, Feb. 4-Choice Were: of more than one-fourth of the nation's college students, "Gone With the Wind" was easily ranked Professor Chester J. Prince of the collegians' No. 1 motion picducted by Student Opinion Surveys of America, reveals.

Based on a scientifically representative cross section of the U.S. college enrollment, the survey showed "G. W. T. W." the choice of 27 percent. Only one other pic-When he was done he found that ture was the preference of even selected by 14 percent.

Other national surveys of critics last year. and editors in the motion picture field have not included "Gone With the Wind" because it has not yet been released for general distribution over the entire country. Among college students, however, David O. Selznick's production was such an overwhelming favorite that it could not be ignored until the 1941 poll comes around. The top ten pictures of the year,

By Student Opinion Surveys. according to collegiate opinion,

- Gone With the Wind.
- 2. Rebecca.
- 3. Grapes of Wrath. 4. All This and Heaven, Too.
- 5. Foreign Correspondent. 6. Knute Rockne, All-Ameri-
- 7. Northwest Passage. 8. Northwest Mounted Police.
- 9. The Mortal Storm.

10. Boom Town,

Interviewers asked students to name the best picture "they had seen" during 1940; so many of the necessarily released during the

YOUR DRUG STORE

For that date tonight, get her a box of Gobelin's Chocolates.

The OWL PHARMACY 148 No. 14th & P Phone 2-1068

DANCE TONIGHT

AND HIS ORCHESTRA 9 'til 12 10 Cents Per Person

Orchestra leader acquires rhythm of Oklahoma Indians seals self in attic the rhythm section of his orches- other boy. tra as a result of Joe's first ac-his kindergarten days. six, he saved the life of an Indian put together. schoolmate who was near drown-

The influence of solid, exciting Joe with a beautifully wrought Indian ryhthms can still be heard tom-tom and inducted him into the in Joe Sanders' arrangements for tribe as a blood-brother to the

After that Joe was trained by quaintance with rhythm, back in the best drummers in the tribe, learning from each his specialty. Joe went to kindergarten in By the time he was 14, he knew Centralia, Oklahoma, then still more ways of beating a tom-tom Indian territory, and when he was than any three Indian drummers

Sanders, the "Ole Left Hander," ing in a river. As a reward the and his orchestra will play for the chief of the child's tribe presented Interfraternity Ball, Feb. 15.

Group elects professors sional geologists in the United of Omaha. States. Election is considered the highest honor which a geologist can receive in this country except for the Penrose medal, which is given by the society to one distinguished geologist every year. This year it was awarded to Nelson H. Darton of the United States Geological Survey who spent some time doing survey and map work in Nebraska and adjoining states about 1900. Sponsors for Professor Reed sary,

Eugene C. Reed, conservation and Mr. Schultz were Prof. A. L. and survey division and assistant Lugn, Dr. G. E. Condra, and Dr. state geologist, and C. Bertrand M. K. Elias, all of the University Schultz, assistant director of the of Nebraska and fellows of the university museum and instructor society. In addition, Professor in the geology department, were Reed was sponsored by R. C. honored by election to fellowship Moore, state geologist of Kansas, in the Geological Society of Amer- and Carl O. Dunbar of Yale uniica at the annual meeting of the versity, and Mr. Schultz was sponsociety in Austin, Tex., according sored by W. B. Scott and Paul to official confirmation received McClintock of Princeton univerfrom the secretary of the society. sity. Other Nebraska members of The society has a membership the society include Dr. E. H. Barof only about 700 out of the total bour, director of the university five or six thousand active profes- museum, and Dr. C. H. Wegemann

> Vassar college is completing a topographical map of the world, covering a wall space 16 by 48

Texas Technological college is holding a "give a brick" campaign to complete its West Texas museum building.

Connecticut college recently observed its twenty-fifth anniver-