Jackson fans

For true basketball critics and fans, you have to hand it to Jackson high supporters. If the red and white quintet comes thru the state basketball tournament, you can credit the Card rooters to having a hand in the victory.

Those Crimson fans stick by their Cards thru thick and thin (I know, I received a "note" from some Wednesday). If Jackson high rooters have anything to say about their winner of the state tourney, they'll be verbally blasting the Cards to the fore. Rabid railbirds, those Jackson rooters!

Hum, hum—Greenberg

Another day, another story about big Hankus Pankus Greenberg and his draft board physical exam. For want of something to write about, the baseball scribes send reams of copy about the country concerning Hank and the draft.

First, he's going, then he isn't, and now he will be classified for immediate service—except he may be not fit physically. Big Hank has flat feet. What will be the grave and fateful report tomorrow? Can hardly wait—huh—

Cuban uprising

...or rather "The Humiliation of Brooklyn." Tuesday, the Dodgers played an exhibition ball game with the Cuban All Stars in Havana. The final score found the Brooks on the short end of 9-1 count.

Gilberto Torres, ex-Washington hurler, held the Daffy Dodgers to five hits. One, a home run by Dolph Camilli, spoiled the shutout pitching.

This and that

Nelson Potter, former Lincoln pitcher in the Nebraska state league, is going great guns on the early firing lines in the Philadelphia Athletic spring camp... Don Gutteridge, another ex-Link, is helping Pepper Martin materially in bolstering the Sacramento infield....

Sid Held is one of the "glamour boys" of the Big Six basketball conference... An Iowa State coed picked a "pretty boy" five.... Others were Center Dan Howe, Kansas State; "Doc" Carlile, Oklahoma and Vance Hall, Kansas,

Husker frosh cindermen nip Iowa, 57-47

Running against competition 250 miles away, Nebraska's freshman indoor trackmen beat the University of Iowa frosh 57 to 47 in a telegraphic meet held the past two weeks.

Clyde Taylor grabbed three first places for the Cornhuskers by winning the high jump and both the high and low hurdles. Husker Howard, Debus vaulted 12-6 for the best mark with the pole, while taking second with the shot.

Connor wins two.

Kirwin Eisenhart's 45 foot, 8 1/2 inch toss in the shot put won him first place and was one of the best marks of the competition. A win in the 440 and a tie for first in the 60 was Bill Connor's contribution to Nebraska scoring.

Iowa swept the 880, mile and 2 mile, but the Cornhuskers fared well in all other events.

Merlin Stackhouse took second in the high jump and third in the low hurdles while Al Brown took third in the 60 yard dash and the 440.

Greek ping pong leagues commence

Sixteen fraternity intramural ping pong teams were on deck for the first evening of play. The fraternity that wins the majority of five matches wins the contest.

Acacia and Delta Upsilon were the winners in league 1. The Acacias won by default from Alpha Gamma Rho while Delta Upsilon tripped Delta Tau Delta in straight games, 5-0.

Betas win easily.

In league 2 Beta Theta Pi disposed of Kappa Sigma by a 4-1 final and Sigma Alpha Epsilon dropped the Sigma Phi Epsilon team by an identical 4-1 margin. In league 3, Alpha Tau Omega went right to work and defeated Alpha Sigma Phi, 5-0.

In the other game of this league Beta Sigma Psi took a 5-0 win due to Phi Kappa Psi forfeiting. In league 4 Phi Gamma Delta lost to Farm House 3-2 after winning the first two games. In the other tussle Sigma Nu beat out Sigma Chi by a 3-2 count in another close one.

Bonnie Wennersten, and Louise Woerner.

Sophomores: (vote for four) Marilyn Fulton, June Heilman, Eleanor Jacka, Jeanette Kahle, Donna Kriutzfield, and Althea Ware.

All women students may vote for the AWS and Coed Counselor boards, all bars for BABW, and junior and senior women for May Queen and Mortar Board nominees. In casting votes for Mortar Boards, girls should select not less than five nor more than 20 candidates or their ballots will not be counted.

Five trackmen depart for two relay carnivals

While Gene "Red" Littler goes alone to defend his two records at the Armour Tech relays in Chicago four Nebraska indoor trackmen will be competing with 300 athletes representing 24 schools at the ninth annual Butler relays in Indianapolis, Ind.

Leaving today for the meets held Saturday, Littler will go by train and the others by automobile. Bob Ginn, miler; Harold Hunt, pole-vaulter; and Bill Smutz and Bob Kahler, hurdlers will uphold the Scarlet and Cream colors in Indiana.

Littler eyes record. Littler defends Saturday his 7.1 meet record in the 70 and the winning mark last year in the 440 of 51.8. "Red" predicts that he will run the 440 in 50 seconds or less at Chicago.

At the Butler relays, Michigan has 33 men entered. Other schools with many entrants are Notre Dame, Purdue, Miami, Indiana, Pittsburgh and Ohio State.

South trips Norfolk.

Lincoln Journal.

Omaha South showed why it was one of the seeded teams in whipping Norfolk 37-25. The Packers led 19-9 at the half. Opposing South tonight is Falls City who poured it on North Platte, 47 to 26. The Tigers held a 22-10 margin at halftime.

Elkhorn polished off Sutherland 44-31 to promise its supporters a fine chance to go far in Class B. Thayer romped over Loomis 41-19 in Class C to strongly indicate the defending champion will be hard to defeat.

Favorites come thru in Class A prep cage meet

Jackson of Lincoln demonstrated a superb defense Wednesday afternoon in the coliseum to lead the first round winners in the state basketball tourney.

The Class A Cardinals tromped over Sidney 44-9 to reach the quarterfinals. Facing Jackson today is Fremont which was a victor over York, 39-35.

Sheep-shearing champ performs at livestock show

The Junior Ak-Sar-Ben livestock show to be held at ag college Saturday night will feature an exhibition of championship sheep-shearing by Lee Hester, Washington county farmer who holds a national agricultural championship in this event.

Sponsoring the annual student show is the Block and Bridle club, honorary animal husbandry group. Co-managers of the 1941 exposition, to be held in the Equine Manor, are Don Baird, Wayne, and Oscar Tegtmeyer, from Burchard.

Raymond Ruppert, journalism freshman at Washington State, is making profitable use of several letters written in the 1870's by the Hudson's Bay company to the Canadian police.
