

Weir has worries about track team Ag campus celebrates annual Farmers' Fair

Worries of Ed Weir, Cornhusker track coach, over his squad were lightened somewhat by performance Wednesday.

Deep in gloom over the loss for the season of Wayne Blue and Bob Kahler, the Nebraska mentor brightened perceptibly over the midweek actions of Ray Prochaska and Don Morris.

Prochaska, senior weight man, made his best performance of the season with the discus. Ed Wibels, crack platter tosser who has had to stay out of competition for a year due to an injury to his eyes stood by Ray's side offering advice and instruction. Prochaska took just eight practice throws. On those tries the discus sailed from 147 feet to a little over 153 feet. That effort was Ray's maximum performance of the year with the discus.

Morris gets in shape.

Don Morris, just beginning to round into shape again after a cut foot put him out of competition at the beginning of the indoor track season, ran 100 yards in exactly 10 seconds flat. On a wet track and against the wind Morris ran this century, his best since he came to Nebraska.

Bill Smutz ran the 440 in a time of 53 seconds. His work in the quarter-mile indicates that Weir may be planning to use him in a mile relay at Minneapolis.

Gene Littler ran a 220 without putting on the pressure, but the stop watch read only 22 seconds.

Weir still worries about the points lost when Blue and Kahler were lost to the squad. He says he's worried about the triangular with Minnesota and Wisconsin Saturday, but more likely he's thinking ahead to the dual with Missouri a week from Saturday and to the Big Six meet which is not far off.

Despite injuries, the Scarlet and Cream team still has a number of first place winners. But the squad is lacking in depth, in second and third place winners which are all important in scoring a meet.

Baseballers play Oklahoma this afternoon

Coach Wilbur Knight's diamond aggregation still looking for a score in which the Huskers hold the heavy end, meet the Oklahoma Sooners, 1940 Big Six champions, on the Nebraska field this afternoon at 4.

Either Angelo Ossino, the former Omaha Central pitcher, or Sid Held will pitch the Friday game. In the repeat game Saturday Ernie Swanson is scheduled to start.

Farmers' Fair to feature full program of boxing, wrestling

A full program of boxing and wrestling has been planned by Farmers' Fair officials with the spotlight on the wrestling match between 225 pound Bob McNutt, Husker footballer and big Dick Peters, heavyweight wrestler.

The boxing and wrestling show, annual feature of the Farmers' Fair will be held at 8 p. m. Saturday, at the Student Activities building.

In addition to fights involving student athletes, matches between top-flight Omaha amateurs have also been scheduled.

In a paperweight match, 100 pounders Alvin DeJaynes and Bob Deveny will go three rounds of boxing. Both boys have fought in Omaha.

Hottest boxing match.

Expected to be the hottest boxing match of the evening is the bout between Ascension Gonzales, midwest Golden Glove bantamweight champ from Lincoln and Larry Klimck, champion featherweight in Omaha amateur ranks.

Clark Rice and Gerald Heusel, both students, will go three rounds and so will Al Miller, light heavyweight champion of Lincoln the past two years, and Jack O'Brian, middleweight amateur champion in Omaha.

Besides the McNutt-Peters wrestling match, Foster Smith, varsity wrestler and Bill Rumbolz, billed as the "Slippery Eel," will grapple in the 165 pound class.

In the 160 pound class, Dick Smith, one of the Smith wrestlers and George Cocker, varsity wrestler, will go three rounds.

Jerry Adams, varsity wrestling coach, will be the referee. Admission is 35 cents.

"My Old Kentucky Home" is sounded on the bugle, the horses come trotting out, they're taken away, now they are all lined up, and THEY'RE OFF!

Yes, tomorrow sees the running of the greatest horse race in this country, the 67th annual Kentucky Derby. This mint-julep classic is expected to bring an influx of 100,000 into Louisville this weekend taxing hotels and establishments serving food and drink.

For the blue grass classic of the sport of kings a field of 11 is expected to start. Horses which probably will go to the post Saturday are Our Boots, Porter's Cap, Whirlaway, Staretor, Spain, Little Beans, Robert Morris, Dispose, Market Wise, Blue Pair, and Val-dine Paul.

Early odds on the nags made Porter's Cap and Our Boots favorites at 2-1. Whirlaway and Blue Pair followed with 5 and 8 to 1.

Whirlaway was an early season heavy favorite but was taken in his last two outings by Our Boots and by Blue Pair. Whirlly is undoubtedly one of the fastest horses running this season. His downfall is that he is so speedy that he cannot make a fast turn and turns out wide losing precious time and distance. In the Derby Whirlaway will have under him a rider who has never ridden him in competition before.

His mount will be Eddie Arcaro, one of the country's best and most experienced riders. Eddie may be able to lick this tendency to run wide on the turns and if he does his mount should pound home to win the race of the year.

If there's even a slight sprinkle between now and post-time Porter's Cap will come forward as the certain favorite. A good number, the Cap should be a contender in any weather for he has traveled the mile and a quarter Derby distance in 2:04 4-5 which is better time than Lawrin, Galahadion, Gallant Fox, Omaha and many other horses made in winning the Derby.

Our Boots and Blue Pair must certainly be among those heavily wagered upon for they have both taken Whirlly. Blue Pair did this in the Derby trial while suffering from a popped splint and a saddle burn.

Important as the rider is to winning a horse race, Little Beans and Staretor can't be eliminated from the dangerous challengers. Beans will have Don Meade, the top rider of 1940 up on him and Staretor will carry wise old George Woolf.

I can't predict a winner, but I'd probably be safe in naming the horse that will trail in last: the one I bet on.

Illinois pioneers in air-conditioning

Urbana, Ill. (ACP). Because of pioneering research started nearly 25 years ago at the University of Illinois, thousands of American homes are heated more efficiently and economically today. The research is being increased to cover year-round home air-conditioning.

Study of warm-air heating has gone on since 1924 in a typical ten room frame house, the university operated Research Residence, erected on the campus by the National Warm Air Heating and Air-Conditioning association.

Ag campus is near the mad-house stage as students and faculty members, displaying bright bandanas and old overalls, climax a week of preparation and excitement with their annual Farmers' Fair tomorrow.

Weeks of anticipation have resulted in the following calendar for Saturday's celebration:

10:30 a. m.—Parade from downtown Lincoln to ag campus.

11:00 a. m.—Exhibits open for inspection.

11:30 a. m. to 1 p. m.—Food served at Silver Spur Tavern (cafeteria) and at stands on the midway.

1 p. m.—Style show and pageant.

2 to 2:45 p. m.—Rodeo and polo game.

4:30 p. m.—Indoor show.

5:15 p. m.—Tour of exhibits.

5:30 to 7 p. m.—Dinner served in Silver Spur Tavern and on the midway.

7:00 p. m.—Second performance of the indoor show.

8:00 p. m.—Athletic show.

9:30 to 12 p. m.—Dance.

Tomorrow's parade will begin at 10th and R, then will move west on O street to 33rd, then north to the ag campus. Floats from the various departments will compete for prizes in the parade.

Most of the exhibits which ag students have been preparing for weeks will be situated in the Home Economics and Student Activities building. There will be a few displays in individual buildings, and every building will be thrown open for inspection.

Goddess presides.

Sylvia Zocholl, chosen as goddess of agriculture in March, will preside over the style show and the pageant which begins the afternoon's activities. Work of the home economics students will be featured in the show, and folk dancing will be one of the main acts in the pageant.

The athletic field west of the student activities building will be the scene of a lot of action tomorrow as the annual fun-fest, the rodeo, including horsemanship and polo game, inter-sorority riding competition and some fancy riding, will be presented.

Already signed up for steer riding are Keith Gilmore, Gene Litter, Harold Bacon, Charles Duda, Chris Petersen, Ellis Ruby, Bill Jones, George McMurtrey, Keith King, Phil Grant and Dick Young.

Campuses compete in polo.

A polo game between the men on ag and some of the activity men from the city campus is scheduled as the climax of the rodeo. The traditional game is played on draft horses with players using brooms for mallets, a tennis ball as the middle man.

Also on tap, especially for newly named Innocents, is a special jumping horse contraption which combines an old model T Ford with no air in the tires with an attached pole a saddle and a guy who thinks he's a bronco buster.

The annual indoor show will have the "Gay Nineties" as its theme. It will feature a line of chorus girls, a barbershop quartette, an old fashioned skit and some audience community sings. Harold Bacon will be the master of ceremonies of the show which will be presented twice, at 4:30 and 7 p. m.

500 pounds of wrestlers.

The athletic show in the evening will headline the Bob McNutt-Dick Peters wrestling match. Weight of the two totals close to 500 pounds. Two other wrestling matches will be held, and four boxing matches, pitting experienced fighters from amateur circles in Omaha are on the program.

The 9:30 dance will be held at the Student Activities building with attenders asked to wear overalls and bandana.

The midway with flags, balloons and carnival stands will be open all day between the Student Activities building and the Home Economics building.
