their ropers and in some cases succeeded.

Object of the contest was to lasso the calf and tie it in the shortest time possible. Winner of the contest was a team composed of Mildard Ickes and LaVerne Curry.

Stock saddle contest.

In the western stock saddle riding contest, Don Roth and Isabel Canet placed first; Clarion Buethe and Eleanor Jacka placed second and Charles Marcy and Louise Reed, third.

Probably the title for most wicked bucking goes to Bill Greene's mechanical horse. A saddled barrel tied to a plank that extended to the rear of the Ford caused many would-be cow-punchers to "pull leather" as the blocks tied to the rims of the rear wheels provided the necessary flips, spins, rolls, and reels to outdo the riders.

mining and geology organization, also a first rater last year. Farm-house ran a close second to the scientific honorary's average of 2.877 with a rating of 2.826.

With a ranking of 2.939, Loomis hall rated at the top of the women's halls and fourth in the entire group. Wilson hall, which rated first last year with an average of 3.043, fell this year to third place with a rating of 2.879.

Group average grade ratings are figured by awarding four points for each credit hour carried by members with a grade of 90 or above, three points for grades of 80 to 89, two for grades 70 to 79 and one for grades 60 to 69. In-completes receive zero points while conditions subtract one point, and failures or hours dropped in unsatisfactory standing deduct two points. Total grade points are divided by the number of hours carried by the group to secure the group average rating.

Both women's and men's averages dropped slightly below their respective records of last year, for 2.512 and 2.247. Complete ranking of the groups follows:
