

Engineering student . . .
Millard Carlson wins $100 award

. . . for design

A draftboard, a few pencils and an idea won a $100 scholarship in the architecture department for Millard Carlson, a senior in engineering, whose design for a women's residence club won him the prize offered by the Nebraska chapter of the Associated General Contractors of America.

Carlson's design was made especially for the women's division of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce which is planning to erect a club for business girls in Lincoln.

The contractors grant the scholarship annually to some outstanding student in the university architecture department, and this year it was decided to base the award upon the best design submitted by students on the prob-

—Sunday Journal and Star

MILLARD CARLSON, Phillips, senior in the University of Nebraska architecture department, was awarded a $100 prize by the Nebraska building chapter of the Associated General Contractors of America for his design for a women's residence club.

Center: Carlson's entry in the competition.

Judges in the contest were, left to right: Ellery Davis, jr.; Miss Harriet Towne of the Lincoln chamber of commerce women's division, sponsor of the club project; V. J. Haggart, Omaha, secretary of the Nebraska building chapter; Miss Gertrude Hoagland, also of the Lincoln women's division; Everett Kingery, Lincoln, and Ervin Vrana, president of the chapter.

Committee plans
museum change

Prof. C. B. Schultz, head of the newly formed museum advisory committee stated Tuesday that steps were being taken to change the present museum, which now is more or less under the policies of the geological department, to an all-university museum.

Duties of the new committee will be to handle the policies of the museum which previously were handled by Dr. Barbour, former head of the geological department.

Judges were Ellery Davis, jr., Lincoln architect, past president of the Nebraska building chapter of the contractors' association; Ervin Vrana, Omaha, president of the chapter; V. J. Haggart of Omaha, chapter secretary; Miss Gertrude Hoagland of Lincoln, chairman of the housing committee of the women's division of the Lincoln chamber of commerce; and Miss Harriet Towne, board member of the committee.

In scarlet and cream . . .

'N' book makes its annual appearance to educate frosh

Brilliant with scarlet lettering on a cream-colored cover, the new "N" book will be on sale Friday. The book is issued annually to acquaint incoming students with the university. "N" book cards will be distributed following Friday morning examinations.

The book is issued by the university YMCA and YWCA and is edited by Louise Frolich. Assistant editor is Carol Champman, and business manager, Robert Mizera. A new feature added was several organization pages not included in last year's book.

"N" book cards and five cents for new students or twenty-five cents for all others may be exchanged for one of the books. They may be secured by men students at the university YMCA in the Temple, and women students may get them at Ellen Smith Hall.

Contents of the book include a greeting from the chancellor, maps of the campuses, a page devoted to each major organization, a list of university pastors, calendar of the university year, yells and songs, and a list of the organized houses.

Hamil directs
UN school
of journalism

Hastings Tribune man
succeeds Gayle Walker

Harold Hamil, former managing editor of the Hastings Tribune, was chosen to succeed Prof. Gayle C. Walker as director of the school of journalism. Hamil will also

—Journal and Star
HAROLD HAMIL
... leaves Tribune.

serve as director of university publicity.

According to an announcement by the board of regents thru Chancellor C. S. Boucher, Walker was relieved of his duties as director because of ill health, but will continue to teach in the school.

Hamil received his B. A. degree cum laude from Hastings college in 1928 and joined the staff of the Hastings Tribune as reporter immediately after graduating. In 1929 he became city editor and in 1931 was named director of sales and promotion for the Tribune's photo-engraving and photograph service.

He became managing editor of the paper in 1932 and was closely identified with irrigation promotion and other enterprises of general interest in southwest Nebraska. In 1940, under his direction, the Tribune rated first in general excellence in the national better newspaper contest.

Regents appoint
45 new advisers
for freshman class

Expert advice for the class of '45 will be plentiful and easy to get during the coming year as a result of a recent action of the board of regents. They nominated 27 full time and 18 part time advisers to work with the Junior Division.

Advisers are T. T. Aakhus, M. A. Alexander, Esther S. Anderson, L. A. Bingham, F. C. Blood, L. K. Crowe, G. M. Darlington, Hazel Davis, David Fellman, Kenneth Forward, E. A. Gilmore, T. H. Goodding, D. H. Harkness, B. C. Hendricks, F. D. Kirsch, A. L. Lugh, C. E. McNeill, E. J. Marmo, Marcella Mason, Ruth Odell, J. A. Pfanner, L. L. Pike, Mrs. Harriett Platt, E. F. Powell, A. L. Pugsley, C. H. Rosenquist and E. B. Schmidt, all full time.

TYPEWRITERS
For Sale For Rental
The Royal portable—the ideal machine for students.
Nebraska Typewriter Co.
130 So. 12th St. Lincoln, Nebr.
Phone 2-2157

WELCOME
N U STUDENTS

When garment problems arise, don't hesitate to call the Modern Cleaners—we will help you.

This is our 37th year in Lincoln . . . We probably cleaned garments for your mother and dad if they went to Nebraska.

Modern Cleaners

Soukup & Westover
21st & G Phone 2-2377

Check—these things

- Corn Crib
- Cafeteria
- Main Dining Room
- Music Room
- Game Room
- Book Nook
- Commuters Club
- 3-Meals-a-Day Club
- Ping Pong
- Concerts
- Lectures
- Variety Shows
- Movies
- Dances

they're all yours at
The
STUDENT UNION