Several battles that have epic earmarks are on tap when the nation's teams line up Saturday afternoon... Nebraska and Kansas U. will be uppermost in all Husker

No Quantity, No Men, No Team; Year-bookies Ask for Trouble

... From Daily Strong Men

To the Editor of the alleged publication in the waiting room of the Cornhusker:

We, the 1942 CORNHUSKER, challenge the Daily Nebraskan to a football game Friday, Oct. 17, at 5:00 p. m. It so happens that the Cornhusker football team was on deck waiting on the last Friday and those slackers from the Daily office did not have the intestinal fortitude to show up. If the Nebraskan wishes to re-establish their reputation (?), they will accept this challenge with the utmost sincerity.

In former occasions of this nature, it has been generally acknowledged that the Cornhusker staff has been far superior to the "Rag Rats." This year is no exception. The "Year-Bookies" may not have quantity, but their quality is unsurpassable.

Since you employ the common newspaper jargon in your publication, "The Daily Ne-Blah-skan," you indubitably will not comprehend the high quality of literary ingenuity exemplified in this challenge.

Yours,
THE YELPING YEAR-BOOKIES.

fans' minds, but don't forget several weeks hence... There are eight more big contests looming before the equipment is checked in and most anything can happen.

Against Kansas, I can see nothing but Nebraska if they can perfect the pass defense which was so poor against Iowa... The Huskers saw Ralph Miller in action last year for the Jayhawkers, but he had a bum knee along with it... With Nebraska expecting nothing besides passes when Miller dropped back, the Kansas passing star still completed the largest percentage of his passes.

This year his knee is in good shape and when he lines up in the tailback position it won't be just to pass... In the Washington game his running attack overshadowed his passing... Another newcomer this fall to watch in the Jayhawk backfield is Ed Linquist who made a touchdown against Washington.

The fact by itself isn't too enticing but the fact that it was the chunky junior's first attempt with the pigskin during the game and he carried it 18 yards to pay dirt certainly looks good in his record book... Average yards per try, 18.

One game I am going to be plenty interested in is the game this weekend featuring Oklahoma's Sooners and the Longhorns of Texas... This is one contest to strike very close to home both for practical and sentimental reasons.

The practical aspect comes from the fact that it will enable Nebraska to get a good line on the resources on which Oklahoma will draw... Every sports forecaster before the season started listed the Sooners as the team to beat for the conference crown and Nebraska in my book is the team that will beat them... If the Sooners win Saturday it will mean that they really do have the team they are said to have.

Texas will be my favorite tho...

COACH DANA BIBLE
—Lincoln Journal.

Coached by Dana X. Bible, the Longhorns finally have come up with a team that appears to be of Rose Bowl timber... For ten years the south-erners from Texas have been wanting this honor but the only thing that stopped them was the lack of a team.

Last season, the soft-spoken Bible had a team that was good but not good enough to start the experts raving... They were beaten in games but on the last game of the season, they knocked off the high riding Texas Aggies along with All American Johnny Kimbrough...

Correction, Please!

The score of the Beta-Sig Ep intramural touch football game was 1-0, not 6-0, as printed in yesterday's Daily Nebraskan. The Betas completed a pass for the only scoring in the overtime period, giving them one point and not the usual six.

Barb IM Loop Gets Underway

Barb intramurals will open tonight with two powerful leagues, totaling nine teams, participating. League 1, with Baldwin hall, A. C. B. C., Ag Cafeteria, the "S" St. Owls, and the Cornhusker Co-op, lines up as the strongest, but League 2, composed of Pioneer Co-op, Brown Palace, Tappa Nu Kegg and Stratford, might surprise.

Following the completion of regular play, the champions of the two leagues will carry on warfare for the barb championship.

Present plans call for the playing of all games before the end of Oct. but if interest warrants the league will continue in a double round robin, to definitely settle their football differences.

Feature Games Provide Red Hot IM Race Scores

There was plenty of close, tough touch football played in the intramural league play Wednesday with three out of five games going into overtime periods.

In the day's opener the Kappa Sigs fought just a little farther than the Phi Deltas in the overtime to win 1 to 0. With a long pass from Lindgren to Palmer gaining good yardage, the AGRs were able to squeeze past Theta Xi 1 to 0.

The ATOs and Alpha Sigs threatened each other consistently in the regular playing time, but neither could score. In the overtime the Taus went 67 yards in four downs. The Sigs didn't have a chance after that.

The Sigma Nus had an easy time with the Sigma Chis, winning 16 to 0. In the other game, the Betas earned a tough 7 to 0 victory over the Deltas.

Hollander Hudson Seal-dyed Muskrat... youthful and smart for date wear... practical for campus wear

"... in a haze about lots of things, but not about furs! I've made an upperclass discovery... I know why my old fur coat has worn so well, still looks almost new. My furrier gave me the tip while removing the old lining—on the back of each pelt he showed me the famous Hollander stamp... the reason my coat keeps its beauty longer."

AND WHEN YOU BUY NEW FURS, follow this smart girl's lead. Look for the Hollander mark on pelt or tag before you buy. For over 50 years this mark has meant long-lasting color and lustre. The price of furs depends on quality of skins and workmanship. But whether you pay much or little, the Hollander stamp tells you your furs will keep their beauty longer.
