Foes Bring Poor Record With Them

Thrice Beaten Indiana Plots Husker Downfall When Hoosiers Invade

Now that the second hurdle of Nebraska's bumpy road to a Big Six conference championship has been passed and the dust has settled in the stands, we can look over with a little less prejudice, Saturday's success.... We were never worried about the outcome but it was in individual performances that we were interested....

When the Husker firsts were in control, it was Dale Bradley and Al Zikmund who were tearing up the opposition's line with off tackle slants for the former and reverses occupying the latter time.... When the second unit came into the fray there was no appreciable lack of talent and skill lacking....

Kenny Simmons was easily the standout in this outfit.... On his first try of the year he netted 42 yards and was loose for a touch, had it not been for Niblo forcing him out.... His performance looks definitely second string caliber and repeatedly while he was in there he took off to advance the pig skin far into Jayhawk territory....

Howard Debus turned in something of a record performance.... In the times that he carried the ball Saturday, not once did he fumble as was the case the week before.... Debus came up with a sore back Monday morning.... Wonder if it happened in the game or afterwards....

Wayne Blue showed up much better than in the Iowa game and he was making yards around end much to the amazement of everyone concerned.... Fred Metheny played his usual steady game that was airtight whenever he handled the ball....

The big surprise of the day came when the third stringers were turned into the field to graze.... And graze they did.... With Roy Long and Randall Salisbury monopolizing the gaining activities the thirds were but several inches from a touchdown when the game time ran out....

There were several seconds left after Salisbury had carried the ball 12 1/2 of the 13 necessary yards and all of the third team yelled for a time-out but the official didn't hear in time and the boys were

With two conference games out of the way and chalked up in the victory column, Major Jones and his Husker footballers are concentrating this week on finding the best and quickest way to roll over Indiana in the Homecoming game on tap next Saturday afternoon in Memorial stadium.

To date, Colonel "Bo" McMillin's gridders have played three games, and lost three. The Hoosiers have scored 27 points while their opponents were running up 53. They have been neither thoroughly beaten nor barely beaten in those three losses.

Unknown Quantity.

In short, it looks like Colonel "Bo's" Hoosiers are an unknown quantity.

In their season opener against Detroit, the boys from Indiana lost 14-7. Against a Notre Dame team cheated out of another touch.... Long's run of 35 yards including a lateral to Bobby Cooper set up the pins for the last touchdown of the day with Cooper tallying from the one on a quarterback sneak.... This was the first college game for all of them and don't be surprised if any or all of them crowd up the ladder to the second team....

That about takes care of the offensive stars for the Huskers.... We missed Marvin Athey and Vike Francis on the first team.... Their play set up the touchdowns that the first stringers made.... Athey on a seven yard quarterback sneak provided a play that has been talked over many times since the actual happening.... The objection was that Athey drove so fast that the spectators couldn't see what was happening until he was well in the secondary.... Vike worked well in the pinches and accounted for the first marker....

On defense, in the line, George Abel played the best game, doubtless taking his captain's responsibility to heart.... He shone on secondary blocking.... Fred Meier was playing heads-up ball as he intercepted several passes and broke through to nail runners.... Vic Schleich was on hand as was Fred Preston when anything exploded their direction....

Gerry Kathol played above his head on both offense and defense to assure the Biffer he did the right thing in letting Bob Ludwick recuperate.... Chintz Herndon played his usual brilliant game.... For the seconds Marv Thompson, Howard Kelly and Lynn Myers was defensively the best.... Forrest Bachman playing his first game for the Huskers went in with the thirds and several plays later nipped an intended pass in the bud and raced back down the field 23 yards.... At any rate, it's "Indiana," next.

Nebraska's Scarlet and Cream forces surged to the front in the Big Six grid race after downing Kansas, 32-0 Saturday. With two victories, the Huskers lead Missouri, winner over Kansas State.

Powerful Texas, tutored by Dana Bible, former Husker coach, soundly whipped Oklahoma, 40-7, that steamrolled over Georgia Tech 20-0 only last Saturday, the Hoosier's scored a single touchdown and failed to convert, while their opponents scored 19 points.

TCU Works Out.

Last weekend, in a non-conference game Texas Christian's 1941 edition took a well-deserved game from the Hoosiers to the tune of 20-14.

Pre-season picked as the Big Ten's darkhorse team, Indiana, has, as yet failed to exhibit the power that unbeaten Notre Dame, Michigan and Minnesota demonstrated last Saturday by romping over Georgia Tech (20-0), Pittsburgh (40-0), and Illinois (34-6), respectively.

Bo Uses Sophs.

To date this year, the colonel has employed mostly sophomores; it may be that these sophs will have found themselves by Saturday with three games under their belts, and since the beginning of the Hoosier-Husker series, the boys from Indiana have not yet failed to provide an entertaining afternoon for the Nebraskans.

In 1936-37, Nebraska won 13-9 and 7-0, respectively. In 1938 the game ended in a scoreless tie, and in 1939, this time the Huskers barely came from behind to earn a 7-7 tie.

In the fifth meeting of the series, last year, Nebraska won 13-7, which leaves the record to date at three wins for Nebraska, two ties, and only a 17 point margin of difference between the winner-loser totals.

And this year, it looks like Colonel "Bo's" Hoosiers are still an unknown quantity—which should make the Homecoming affair worth coming home, or leaving home, to see.

relief from the heat and excitement.

Two K. U. girls found new heroes in Dale Bradley and Allen ikmund, and sang the players' praises throughout the game, to the consternation of their dates.

Blond, little Dorothy Nicholson, the baton twirling, eye-catching majorette of the Kansas band, hoped that she would meet some of the Nebraska players "because they look so handsome from here. Assured that she would be welcomed by the team, she said, "well, then I'm sorry our train leaves at six—perhaps we'll all come to the Nebraska-K. State game and meet the Nebraska people there."

Her baton-twirling colleagues commented upon the friendliness of the students here, and especially upon the co-operation of the cheerleaders and the excellence of the band. "Be sure to tell the Nebraska students how much we appreciate the meeting at the station. Tassels Corncocks and students all did their best to make us feel at home, and they certainly succeeded," they added.

Bands play anthem

Half-time was highlighted by the appearance of thirty-one high-school bands playing of the national anthem under the direction of Don Lentz, University of Nebraska band director. Before the game the colorful K. U. band marched in the downtown area followed by cheering Kansas delegation.

Fijis Capture League Title; IM Football Near Play-off

Fraternity intramurals are rapidly moving along with the Phi Gams assured of the title in one league of touch football, one round of golf in the semifinal round and one round of tennis in the quarter-finals.

The well rounded Phi Gam team took the ZBT's into camp with an impressive 18 to 0 victory to make the biggest news on the intramural front. There were 11 stars on the Phi Gam team which is the winner of league four. No one man stood out in the play for the victors. It was all-around team-work that gave the Phi Gams the title.

Two closely fought battles featured the other games in Friday's league play. The SAE's squeezed out a hard-fought victory over the DU's, last year's Jack Best winners. The Sig Alphas scored a touchdown in the third quarter to take a 6-0 lead. The DU's caught a SAE carrier behind the white stripe to get two points. The final was 6 to 2.

Of the two minor sports now being run off, golf has advanced much farther than tennis. In the semifinals of the upper bracket of the golf pairings are the Sigma Nus and Betas. The Phi Deltas, SAE and Theta Xi have reached the quarterfinals in the lower bracket. The first round match between the DUs and Phi Gams remains to be played.

The Kappa Sigs and ATOs have advanced to the quarterfinal round of tennis. All other matches are still in the first round. Bill Horney urges that all of these matches be played as soon as possible so that the tournament can be completed before bad weather sets in.

Miss Meredith To Attend Meet

Miss Mamie Meredith of the English department has been invited to lead a round table discussion on the writing of business reports at the annual convention of the American Business Writing Association in Chicago during the Christmas holidays.
