Stars Abound As Spectacular Runs Highlight ... Pitt, UN Game

By Norris Anderson.

MEMORIAL STADIUM, Nov. 15 .- For 55 minutes here yesterday the underdog Nebraska Corn-huskers, functioning like the Scarlet and Cream of Rose Bowl fame, had a victory over Pittsburgh within easy grasp.

While a happy partisan crowd of 35,000 started filing from the stands with their favorites ahead, 7-0, Edgar "Special Delivery" Jones, as sweet an all-round back as has trod Memorial turf in a decade, loosed disaster from aground and transformed the Husker victory celebration into a

Call Him C. O. D.

Legs pounding liks pistons, Jones drove down the field late in the fourth period, brushing thru the Husker forwards for eight or nine yards per crack. Halfback Dutton, Jones' ally in the late Pitt drive, climaxed the 63 yard advance by stabbing over right guard for the opening marker. Pitt's gallant guard, "Butch" Fife, limped out from the bench to make the placement that tied the count, 7 to 7.

Four minutes and 45 seconds of do-or-die football and the stage was set for "Special Delivery" to deliver. Then came the delivery —an intercepted pass, hurriedly brought 75 yards up the west sidelines by Messenger Jones.

Bedlam that broke from the Pitt bench at this stage had yet to reach its height. For five seconds later Jones again grabbed a Husker pass and scampered 60 yards to the Husker five before a desperate Matheny tackle ended the runback and game.

Bradley, Rubber Man.

Altho Jones captured the headline focus as the game's star, statistics prove that several performers had better "all-game" records. Nebraska's Dale Bradley, a literal India rubber man, carried the pigskin 18 times for 112 yards and a 6.1 per carry average.

Dutton, who topped Jones' 3-9 average with 5.5, gained 90 of the 179 Pitt rushing yards compared to 65 yards for Jones. Roy Long, promising Husker halfback, lugged the pigskin ten times for 55 yards. Wayne Sindt, Naponee sophomore, made his first real chance as a Husker back impressive by compiling the highest average of the day—seven yards per try in seven efforts.

Husker Band Colorful.

Color abounded during the half-time session when the Cornhusker band entertained with one of the top programs glimpsed here in years. Featuring patriotism as the central theme, the Band formed shield.

Cornhusker students in the card section gave their climax per-formance. A Pitt Panther, Old Glory and "Pitt" emerged in yellow and blue from the card sec-

Thus, until the fourth quarter was a little more than half over, Pitt was on the spot. At this point in the srtuggle, the score stood, Nebraska 7, Pittsburgh 0.

Then Things Began to Happen.

Forced to punt on the fourth down, Roy Long, a sophomore who turned in a whale of a game, de-posited the ball on the Pitt 38, where it was downed. This is when Jones really stepped in to show his stuff, for, in two plays after an incomplete pass, he had moved the ball to the Nebraska 48 yard

From here he took the ball on a weak side reverse for nine and then for eight more yards on the next play. Two first downs he had chalked up by himself. He was showing drive the equal of which has not been seen on the Husker field for quite some time.

Pitt Recovers Fumble.

On the next play, with the ball on the 31, he started out behind perfect blocking around his own left side. By sheer power he catapulted himself up to the Husker seven, where he fumbled. The Panther drive appeared to have ended as a wave of players cov-ered the loose ball. But it had not come to the end so earnestly hoped job as for by UN's screaming fans as guard. Steve Sinclair, Panther senior center, emerged triumphant with the ball tucked in his bosom.

The rest of the distance was not covered so easily. Frank Saksa got one yard of the seven, Jones got two and then three to put the ball on the doorstep. Little Bill Dutton stepped across for the ty-ing touchdown and Ralph Fife was hurried in to kick the extra point and the game was tied.

Huskers Receive.

The Huskers chose to receive with two minutes remaining and Pitt kicked. After an exchange of downs Nebraska came up with the ball and a first down on the Nebraska 48.

Dale Bradley, easily Jones' equal with the same blocking, drove for nine and then he faded back to pass. He let loose and the ball sailed deep down to the Pitt 25. Eager Nebraska hands reached up for it but it was Edgar's hands that got there first. Showing a great change of pace Showing a great change of pace in his running, from slow to fast to faster, "Special Delivery" rode roughshod down the sideline. His progress was marred by not one Husker as he sailed into the end to the end t zone standing up for a 75 yard run | Yards gained passes and the winning touchdown. Again Ralph Fife hobbled in to do up the Apparently willing to hit the airlanes again in a vain attempt, Coach Biff Jones sent in Howard Debus, distance passing ace, with a U. S. map, cannon, anchor and only five seconds remaining in the classic. Debus filtered back and let loose and again the same eager hands were waiting, but Jones again stepped in and then stepped down the opposite sidelines.

out of bounds on the Husker four

The final gun sounded and the game was over. It had been gruelling thruout, but the events that occurred in the last 15 seconds left everyone gasping.

"Special Delivery" was lifted to the shoulders of his admiring teammates. Someone tossed the game ball into his hands, a grin crossed his face. Charley Bowser, Pitt's coach, came up to him and held out his hand; finally Eddie could contain himself no longer and he hopped down and ran for the dressing room.

His broad back penetrating the maze of crowd that thronged the door, was the last glimpse that admiring fans got of him. It will be the last time the Huskers will see him and many were crying "Thank Fife, Dillon, Star.

He was a great back and he made his own breaks. He deserved all the credit heaped upon him. In the line, Ralph Fife, until forced out by injury, was doing a big job as was Bill Dillon, at the other

Not completely overshadowed in the backfield by Jones and de-serving of credit in the win was Bill Dutton, who turned in 90 yards in rushing tactics.

For Nebraska, Mary Thompson and Fred Preston, at the ends, were going great guns in breaking up the interference and making tackles behind the line. Clarence Herndon and George Abel also turned in a stellar game.

In the backfield, along with Dale Bradley, who functioned almost perfectly, Wayne Sindt and Roy Long, a couple of sophs, gave outstanding performances. Sindt in his relief of Athey, surprised everyone, and Long, playing while Bradley was out, showed a great deal of promise.

Yes, we're unhappy, but, oh, well, it's Iowa next week.
