Week ends over and off to college again. Off to college together from now on are Beta John Cackle and Theta Barb York who have decided to attend it. And Alpha Phi Dottie Tipton is foregoing school and will be married to Sig Alph of last year Dick Speits from whom she received a diamond over the holidays. And over the holidays 17 Fijis partyed in Omaha and Don Anderson dated Alpha Phi Mary Stevenson's younger sister, Agnes, and liked it. Somehow slipped by in the rush of last week's excitement was mention of candy-passing last Monday night at the Kappa Delta house with Joan Ferris and Jerry Mayburn doing the honors. Pi Phi Charlotte Stahl will march with SAE Louie Seybold at the Ball Friday night and Kappa Mary Anne Cox will go with Phi Psi Dave Flory.

Trouble A Plenty.

But troubles a plenty are plaguing Sig Ep Dick Seagren who's had two dates for the event broken on him when the girls decided to go steady. And people who've returned Beta John Stoddart to see Theta Sweetheart Becky Wait on his way to Fort Warren. And Sigma Nu Clint Banks to date Theta Ruthie McMillan. Here's your opportunity to see the campus lovelies on parade. The Cornhusker Boardwalk at 4:30 Tuesday in the Union Ballroom don't miss it. There's no limit to what people will bet on. Art Lincoln, Delt, wagered that he can get a date with Sue Shaw, Pi Phi, who is securely pinned to Bernie Buell, also of the Delt den. Our frank opinion is that Art is cinched to lose. Thanksgiving found SAE Bob Heinzelman with no prospect for a date, except a married woman whose husband is confined to the hospital. We were happy to hear that Bob didn't take advantage of the situation, but stayed home like all good boys would do?

Finders Keepers?

Answer this if you can—Where is DU prexy, Wally Munson's pin? Steady, however, not too surprising are AOPi Jean Coffee and Sig Ep Jack Hilligan. There's only one question about that compatible combination, but perhaps it's best not to mention the Sig Alph that used to be number-one man in Jean's life. Chuck Oldfather to Des Moines and Tess Cassidy to Lincoln. We could go on forever. More questions—but this we'd really like to know—Who will be the winner in Pi Phi Jean Porter's confusing triangle, her present steady Phi Delt, Phil Reed or the Delt from Missouri, who has delivered an ultimatum.

Surprise of surprises came to the Pi Phis last night when announcement was made of the marriage of pledge, Ruth Wilson, to Jim Warren of Wayne, Neb. Well, all's well that prints well.

Symphony's Guest Soloist . . . Chenoweth Scores Success As Pianist in Concert Here

. . . Also Outstanding as Composer

By Dieter Kober.

The appearance of Wilbur Chenoweth as guest soloist with the Lincoln Symphony Orchestra proved to be the highlight of Monday night's concert in St. Paul's church, the second of this season's series. The former Nebraskan's double reputation as composer and accomplished pianist met the anticipated high expectations in the first performance of his "Fiesta," a concert piece for piano and orchestra.

Chenoweth's composition contained some fine tunes based on Spanish folk music. These well arranged in a conventional combination of solo instruments and orchestra, created the desired effect of lightness and gaiety extremely pleasing to the ear at first hearing.

Of his own group of piano pieces the "Variations on a 17th century German Choral" were of particular musical interest. The "Bourree and Musette" and the "Concert Waltz" were followed by an encore, "In a patio," in all three works Chenoweth again displayed his originality and musicianship both as creative and interpretative artist.

Orchestra Scores.

The Lincoln Symphony Orchestra under the direction of its regular conductor Leo Kucinski scored almost equally high in applause of the large sized audience. The likeable tunes of Beethoven's "Hansel and Gretel" furnished a pleasant introduction to the evening's concert.

The performance of Mendelssohn's "Italian Symphony" showed a well balanced symphony orchestra in a very satisfying execution of one of the symphonic standard works of music. "The Sorcerer's Apprentice" probably one of the most difficult works of the evening, was given a fine reading by Kucinski, and although the piece was timed somewhat slow, the enjoyment at the fine execution and over the humorous value of the music itself was not lessened a bit. An almost similar effect was reached in Shostakovich's "Satirical Dance."

A well known and well liked medley of Irish melodies by Victor Herbert brought the concert to a spirited conclusion and sent a well satisfied audience home, probably humming or whistling happily.
