Gifts for Those Who Like to Read

By Ed Hirsch.

If you are searching for a Christmas gift that will please a friend and give him or her hours of diverting entertainment, then you should consider a book. And in giving a book you know that the receiver will be delighted with it for there is a book for every type of person. If your friend craves excitement you can present him with a murder mystery. If he enjoys reading books for the purpose of obtaining information, then give him a book on the present affairs.

One of the most recent books to come out for the month of December is "The Storm" ($2.50) by George R. Stewart. Stewart makes his story unique in that it gives the reader the position of an Olympian watching the beginning, termination and the results of a storm that effects many lives. "The Storm" is highly dramatic fiction and combines the drama of science with the drama of human experiences.

For the Travelers.

If your friend wants to go places and see things, then give him Edna Ferber's "Saratoga Trunk" ($2.50). It is a story with

Christmas Lists on Sorority Row Include Silver Spoons, Teddy Bears

By Jean Baker.

Christmas is scarcely two weeks away and now is the time for all pledges to show their appreciation characters similar to Scarlett O'Hara and Rhett Butler. An audacious, wilful, beautiful heroine falls in love with a tall handsome Texas cowboy, and together they travel to Saratoga of the 80's to turn the town upside down. Finally they settle down with a railroad in their possession.

Give your friend John Gunther's "Inside Latin America" ($3.50) if he wants to keep abreast with daily happenings.

of some active's good advice, or to cement visibly a sorority friendship.

Presents to sorority sisters may range all the way from a childish toy animal to crested jewelry. For an active member there can hardly be a more treasured gift than a crested mother-of-pearl locket or an onyx ring. Compacts and cigarette cases are available in all sorts of metal with large or small crests, while more unusual are the soft feminine billfolds with innumerable pockets and divisions. Gifts for all types of girls may be chosen from such a selection.

is the giving of silver to one of your many friends with marriage looming ahead. It involves little shopping once you know her pattern and is certainly a gift carrying lasting appreciation. A sharp change from crested articles or silver would be the selecting of a soft, fuzzy, pink teddy-bear or one of the very newest spotted leopards to recline on your bed in catlike grandeur. Large or small, these comical, hugable creatures often satisfy more than anything practical. For girls who collect them, or who don't, they offer an easy solution to your Christmas shopping.

If these suggestions fail to satisfy, you will just have to explore downtown. You may run into me as I feel like taking my own advice and going shopping for the sisters.

Two Heads Are Better...

Well, anything can happen... We only wish it would!... At the Gamma Phi-Sigma Chi exchange dinner Wednesday night, two Sigma Chi's Chuck Miller and Stan Martz came out ahead with a date to the Gamma Phi formal... One more fellow, whose interest lies not on the campus, but in Monticello, Ill., is DU Curt Kimball... And the girl is Joan Spiva, whom we hear is to come to Nebraska for that Orchid Dinner of the DUs in the future...

A vicious triangle according to various reports is that going on between Gamma Phi Helen Keiselbach, Hank Green, Phi Delt, and last but not least, is Sam Simpson... Sam is leading—watch for further developments... One steady couple that has been called to our attention is the combination of Charlotte Jones and Bob Cooper... This has been progressing smoothly for quite some time and promises to continue as such in the future...

From the Theta Xi house comes the news of the Christmas party for the actives thru the courtesy of the pledges... At the party Fred Klug will be stepping out for about the first time this year with Margaret Griggs, Alpha Phi... Also

Mary Lockett Entertains YW Cabinet Members

Mary Lockett, YWCA secretary, held a Christmas party-meeting last Wednesday night for cabinet members. There was a leisurely business meeting and general discussion followed by refreshments.

will be seen Norris Schick and Tri Delt Barbara Harrison... Another bachelor of the campus who will step out to a Christmas party (must be that holiday spirit) is Dave Marvin. Mardi Forrey will take him to the girls' sponsored Palladian party tonight... Ann

Library Group Holds Yule Tea In Ellen Smith

Approximately 100 Lincoln librarians are expected to attend the annual Christmas tea of the Lincoln chapter of the American Library Association. The tea will be held in Ellen Smith this afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30.

Mrs. Robert A. Miller and Mrs. Stephen A. McCarthy will pour at the tea. Miss Anna Jennings, chairman of the Lincoln chapter, is in charge of arrangements.
