

Pink Rag, Jr.

by Chris Petersen

We dip deep into the dregs of doings and come forth with that which is dripping and gripping.

That which is dripping—The best laid plans of SAE Fred Gruesel, who is among the most timid of timid souls, for a mate date with B Lou Waechter of the Dee Gee hut. Imagine or picture, if you can her lips before the goodnight, and his after the session. . . . That which is gripping—Marty Palmer's wrath and rage at Wednesday lunch in which she informed mess mates that she was letting her finger-nails grow so she could etch her "tell-off" to Beta Robin Munson all over his prize pan.

We'll scratch around for more details later. . . . We practically jumped out of our jodphurs when we stumbled across that smooth-as-glass Delta Gam Bette Rathburn tea dance dating mashing, flashing Handsome Hanson of Farm House and Corncob fame. You're a readin' the right dope Phi Delt Tom Davies. . . . DDD Marian Dredla putted off to Wentworth last week end to visit two military men there and explained the sojourn as a visit to her cousin. We take it for granted that cousin was buzzin'.

Then there's KAT Pat Chamberlain and Rita Burgess who entertain themselves during lectures by writing backwards. We've been accused of doing that here. Ah, well. . . . You can bet your bottom dollar that when autos get scarce, the DU's will be the first house on the campus to build a stable. . . . Thetas treated Innocents to a dinner fit for a king last eve. It makes one feel like a Sultan in a harem to take on fine food in the company of a bevy of beautiful lassies. For proof, ask food and ego inflated Friar Tuck Rundin in one of your spare moments.

By the shades of old Sweden, the Johnsons are combining. Dee Gee Helen will partner with Fiji Bud for his hut's formal come this Sattiday. . . . Anti-socialist of the DU citadel, Jackson Nelson noted the long wool stockings of Pi Phi Gay Gaden in the Grill yesterday aft to remark, "It's things like that that make men want to fight the Japs." . . . This is the end of our imperfect day. We're done now.

Everbuddy knows how the gels all go for a young medico butcha oughta see 'em go for young Jimmy Kildare in DR. KILDARE'S VICTORY . . . at the STUART . . . NOW!

Flash in the Dark . . .
White Wardrobe Sets Pace
In Spring Fashion Parade

By Jean Baker.

A flashlight in a blackout is spectacular white, new this winter and even newer for spring. From a perch atop feather curls down to white monogrammed anklets and soft white Grecian sandals, the color that isn't a color has taken over the lead in fashion favorites.

Coeds this year can look cold like the weather yet keep warm in a white knitted Dutch cap matched by long ribbed cotton hose and white string gloves to replace the slightly worn fur mittens; plus a luscious, soft, white fuzzy swagger coat buttoned clear to the neck. In tune with all this purity would be one of the long white sweaters, whose popularity is already proven.

For your more daring moods, try one of the very newest white tweed skirts made dirndl style with one huge patch pocket. Worn with a black sweater, this last constitutes the tops in Vogue sponsored outfits. If it rains just as you are starting for that coke date, throw on a white rayon voile rain cape with hood attached and a pure white umbrella as a topper.

For Courage.

To bolster your courage to face six weeks of Lent, try a draped white silk turban that frames your face completely falling in all-encompassing folds in the back. Further items in present fashion's collection of stark white hats are broad-brimmed, ruffled bonnets and flat little sailors worn straight on your head.
