

Vol. 41, No. 98

ne

its,

on m

lee inLincoln, Nebraska

Sunday, March 8, 1942

Memorial Service Ann Craft Is Prom Girl; Honors UN MacDougall, Uni BDOC Dead

The first annual memorial service in recognition of members of the University of Nebraska staff who died in the school year 1940-41 will be held in the Union today at 4 p. m., according to announcement by Dean C. H. Oldfather, chairman of the committee making arrangements.

Because of the limited number who can be accommodated, the service will be limited to the staff members of the university and to families and close friends of the deceased. Adminission cards may be secured by these persons.

Ten former members of the university staff will be eited, including E. A. Burnett, chancellor emeritus; A. L. Frolik, associate professor of agronomy; L. F. Garey, professor of rural

Sorority Gives Recital Today

Student members of Mu Phi Epsilon, national music honor sorority, will appear in concert this Company Will afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Temple theater.

The public is invited to attend the concert, sponsored by the school of fine arts. The program follows:

God Is a Spirit, Scholin; Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring, Bach-Piegger. The ensemble. Jane Chambers and Jean Knorr, accompanists.

Romanza Andalazuga, Sarasate; Short Story, Gershwin. Hazel Fricke, violinist.

Allegro Assai, Op. 57, Beethoven. Neva Bishop, pianist. Flower Duet from Madame Butterfly, Puccini. Catherine Tunison and Hester Whitemore. Andante and Scherzo, Ganne. Louise Ide, flutist.

Malaguena, Lecuona. Jane Chambers and Jean Knorr, pianists.

economics; F. A. Hayes, professor National Music of soil science; Madalene S. Hillis, librarian; W. J. Himmel, associate professor of botany; G. B. Potter, associate professor of ophthalmology; M. Y. Swenk, professor of entomology; W. G. L. Taylor, professor of economics, emeritus; and (See MEMORIAL, page 2)

Interview Coeds Here Monday

To interview senior and graduate women students who "possess ability to meet people and explain hings," an official of the International Business Machine company will be on the campus Monday after 10:30 a. m. He will be in Prof. T. T. Bullock's office, social sciences room 306.

Young women selected by this representative will be given a course of training at Endicott, N. Y., receiving a salary during the training period. Following graduation, they will be sent to centers where the business machines are used to explain them.

War Series

Prof. Harold C. Vedeler of the Professor Vedeler spent the

Because of the repeated moying of the course it has been nec-essary to revise the seating list, Prof. J. O. Hertzier announced yesterday. The revised list will be found on page 2 under the Bulfaculty.

letin.

Courtery Lincoln Journal

Comfortably (to the Innocents, at least) crowded in the balcony of the coliseum, more than 600 couples watched Ann Craft and Boyd MacDougall march the length of the floor last night to take their places as 1942 Prom Girl and BDOC.

In a coronation presentation, the BDOC appeared at the south end of the building and was followed by runners-up in the contest who escorted the twelve beauty queen finalists. The Prom Girl, dressed in powder blue taffeta and wearing a gold crown and a train, walked to her throne on the stage. The University Band played for the next dance for members of the ceremony only.

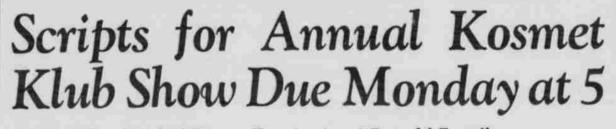

Miss Craft is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma, sorority, Tassels, AWS and Coed Counselors. MacDougall is a member of Delta Sigma Pi, business fraternity, Barb Union, Phalanx, Bizad Council and was a member of the 1940 Prom committee.

BDOC Outfitted.

The new BDOC was presented with three complete outfits of clothes by Lincoln stores and a $75 watch, from Esquire, co-sponsors of the contest with the Nebraskan. Bob Irvin and Marvin Thompson, second and third place winners, were presented with a year's subscription to Esquire.

Opening the dance with an announcement that the army had priorities on train reservations, Bill Marsh, master of ceremonies, asked for volunteers from the au-

(See PROM, page 2)

Prof. Orfield Writes New Book on U. S. Constitution

Professor Lester B. Orfield of the college of law, is author of a new book, "The Amending of the Federal Constitution," published in February by Callaghan & Co., of Chicago as one of the Michigan legal studies. The foreword is written by Dean Emeritus Henry M. Bates of the University of Michigan law school. A complete analysis of all phases of amending the federal constitution, the study is of interest to historians, political scientists, philosophers, and lawyers. It deals with the history of the amending clause at the constitutional convention, the methods of legal attacks on amendments, the procedure of amending, the scope of the amending power, the amending

Later B. Orfield . writes analysis of amending Droces power as related to the concept of overeignty, and proposed reforms of the amending process.

This is Professor Orfield's sec-(See ORFIELD, page 3)

In hibernation since the fall revue, Kosmet Klub yesterday began extensive activity in preparation for the annual spring show with announcement that all writers must file their scripts at the Klub's offices in the Union by tomorrow afternoon at 5 p. m.

With a $40 prize given to the winning script and $10 to the best song, much competition is expected, according to Walt Rundin, president of the men's dramatic society.

No Coeds This Year.

Already announced was the Klub's decision to return to the old-fashioned pony-chorus type of show with an all-male cast. For the first time in years, coeds were in last year's show, "Torso del Torro."

Originality and fast lines are what the Klub wants, Bert Smith, business manager, advised script writers. If the script has not been completed, it should be handed in anyway, with an outline of the story, Smith said.

Plan 'Best' Show.

"All we want is a good idea of the story so that we can announce the name of the winning script by early next week. We want this year's show to be the best yet."

Rundin said that the show will be given at the Temple theatre from April 15 to April 18, and that try-out and rehearsals will begin soon after the script has been chosen.

S. S. Nebraska Embarks at Ag Spring Party Goddess of Agriculture,

Attendants, Are Features Of Semi-Formal Dance

The S. S. Nebraska will pull out from the ag activities building for a three hour cruise of fun and frolic when the ag exec board annual spring party is held next Saturday night.

Featured attractions for the evening will be the presentation of the Goddess of Agriculture and the playing of Dick Mills and his Merry Millers of Music.

Just who the Goddess and her (See AG PARTY, page 4)

On Ag. Campus . . . Agriculture Experiment en Work with Potatoes

By Dale Wolf.

The horticulture division of the agricultural experiment station has been experimenting not only here at the ag campus, but is also carrying on quite extensive experiments in Texas and Alabama. This has become necessary because southern commercial potato growers, who buy 700 to 800 carloads of Nebraska's certified seed pota-toes each year, have tended to plant their crop earlier and earlier each year. This experimentation is centered around storage methods for Mahraska-grown certified 20 ar much of the is planted in December, and the older methods of storing the seed prior to shipping it south doesn't seem to be satisfactory. Among the factors that determine the germination of the seed are the temperature of storage and the length of time they are kept under certain temperatures.

Some $2 different combinations of temperature and other storage factors are being studied. According to Prof. Werner, results so far indicate that Nebraska growers who deal with the southern potate men find it best to have different (See POTATOES, page 2)