

Intra-mural Race Enters Crucial Stage This Week

As the intra-mural battle for the Jack Best trophy goes into the home stretched, fraternities are eyeing anxiously the outcome of the handball and bowling race and are preparing for the two remaining sports, track and baseball.

Thursday night the Zeta Beta Tau table tennis won their second straight intramural ping pong championship as they defeated the DU's 4 to 1. The ZBT's victims in the semifinals, the Betas, took extra points for third place by trouncing the Kappa Sigs, eliminated by the DU's in the consolations.

Ankeny Wins.

Harry Ankeny saved the DU's from a complete trouncing as he defeated the ZBT's ace player, Buddy Goldstein. The winning players were Theo Cohen, Stu Muskin, Norman Rips and Morris Kirshenbaum.

The handball championship is still in the air with the winner of the Phi Delt-DU game going into the finals against the ZBT's Handball semifinal results slowed up the schedule with ties in both games causing playoffs with the two singles players combining in the deciding doubles game.

Yesterday afternoon, Irv Galvin and Stan Feltman of the ZBT team defeated John D. Wertz and Kurt Ralston of the Sigma Nus in the tie-breaking game to put the Zetas in the in the finals. Fred Meir and Harry Ankeny of the DU's will play Phi Delt's George Abel and Jack K. Lee to decide the other finalist.

Bowling Close.

With several leagues tied up causing playoffs, the bowling championship will probably not be determined until late next week or early the following week according to the intra-mural office.

Also making this week a busy one as far as athletics is concerned, is the I-M track meet which will be held Wednesday and Thursday night. The defending champions are the ATO's which plan to enter another strong team to defend its crown.

Sports Whirl

By Bob Miller

• PROPOSAL to change the national football rules code in one specific part is the cry of Oklahoma coach, Dewey "Snorter" Luster...Luster wants the optional goal rule written into the books but the winter session of the national rules committee did not pass it...By the optional goal rule is meant the team scored upon gets the option of changing goals or of deciding whether it will kick or receive...The Sooner mentor reports that while the majority of coaches are in favor of it, it still did not pass.

• IN FACT the Oklahoman is so much in favor of the plan that he has been using it in all of his practice games during the spring drill sessions, "just in case"...In favor of the plan is that it will equalize the elements, particularly wind...Consider one team getting in possession of the ball with a strong wind blowing with them and they have plenty of advantage for the period...By the first of the next period, when the opposing team gets the chance at the wind, it (the wind) may have gone down considerably.

• BY THIS PLAN then after one team swept down the field to a touchdown with the aid of the wind for a passing attack, the other team could get the advantage if they so chose or else they could state whether they wanted to kick or receive...From these standpoints, the plan seems very logical but if it is placed on the books there will be a much greater amount of aspirin consumed in the press box when the scribes try to think up some new ways to explain who was going in what direction when something happened.

• JOE LOUIS has raised the name of the fistic industry to a height that has never been scaled before...It seems like the old name was synonymous with poor sports, etc., but since the Brown Bomber has been riding on the throne, the reputation has been wiped clear...When he joined the army he showed his heart was in the right place...When he fought two fights, placing his title against...nothing but for the army and navy relief funds, he proved his heart was in the right place...After disposing of Abe Simon on Friday night, he sent via the radio, his greetings to the boys under General McArthur in Australia and wished them "Godspeed"...You can't ask more of a man than Louis has shown.

• KANSAS STATE and Oklahoma got the jump on their Big Six mates when they staged an outdoor dual track meet on Friday...Following the meet which the Sooners won the two teams headed for the Texas U. relays in Austin...The Oklahoma sprinters were the reason for the 77-57 decision as they copped eight of the nine races...Orv Mathews won the 100 and 220, Bill Lyda took the 440 and 880 and Dick Smethers broke the tape in the mile and two-mile events...This will mean that the Huskers had better sit up and take notice.

• THE COLD weather plus a little rain and gloom has been enough to keep the Husker grid aggregation indoors a goodly part of the time of the spring drills...Yesterday, a big scrimmage session was planned but did not materialize due to the existing position of the mercury in the thermometers...One of these days there will be a warm atmosphere and then Coach Glenn Presnell will settle a lot of doubts that have been cropping up in his mind.

Harold Hunt Breaks Texas Vault Record

Harold Hunt vaulted over the 14 foot mark yesterday in the Texas relays at Austin to set a new record. This was the 15th annual meeting of the Texas relays.

National collegiate champion, Hunt soared to the 14 feet 3/4 inch mark to beat the record of Beefus Bryan, Texas, of 13 feet 10 1/2 inches, scored three years ago.

Large Crowds Are Expected At Oklahoma

NORMAN, Okla.—Football crowds at Oklahoma's 1942 home contests will be big as ever if some method can be figured out to transport fans to the games, believes Lawrence "Jap" Haskell, Sooner athletic director.

The war is a tremendously serious proposition but President Roosevelt's recent endorsement of professional baseball and the plea for more, instead of less, participation in contact sports by heads of various branches of the nation's army, navy and air corps proves that there is still a place for sports even in time of war, Haskell holds.

Haskell believes the proximity to Norman of several big war industry plants is bound to help football attendance this fall.

Minnesota Begins Spring Drills With New Coaches

. . . Bierman Is Gone

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—March 30 will be a homecoming for the football coaching staff at the University of Minnesota. Dr. George Hauser, newly-appointed head coach, will start spring practice with a staff of assistants of whom all but one are former Minnesota football players.

Dr. Hauser, in every case, has rounded up just the men he wants to help him successfully continue the football program at Minnesota. They are Charles "Bud" Wilkinson, Lowell "Red" Dawson, and John Roning. Bert Baston will continue as end coach unless he goes into service.

Was Line Coach Before

Coach of the famous Minnesota lines and assistant to Bernie Bierman since 1932, Dr. Hauser is the logical successor to Bierman. As a Gopher tackle in 1915-16-17 under Dr. Henry L. Williams, Hauser was one of the greatest tacklers ever to play in the west. After serving in the navy in the first World war, he returned to aid Dr. Williams as assistant coach at Minnesota and continued under Bill Spaulding until 1923.

His coaching career from there took him to Iowa State college where he was line coach, then to Colgate as head coach. He left Colgate for Ohio State to take a medical course and coach the Buckeye line. Upon finishing his medical studies, his internship brought him back to Minnesota.

Mixes Medicine

Dr. Hauser still finds time to mix medicine and football, being at present a physician in the student health service.

The new backfield coach will be Lowell "Red" Dawson, formerly head coach at Tulane. When Bierman came to Minnesota from Tulane ten years ago, he brought his quarterback, Dawson, with him as backfield coach. Dawson remained with the Gopher staff until 1935 when he returned to Tulane. Wilkinson will be assistant line and assistant backfield coach. He played guard at Minnesota in 1934-35 and switched to quarterback in 1936.

Another Comes Back

"The fact that he could move from guard to quarterback as a player and stand out in both positions shows how versatile Wilkinson is," Hauser said. Wilkinson gave up his job as line coach at Syracuse to return to Minnesota. Roning, Minnesota end in 1932-33-34, has been selected to take over the freshman coaching duties. His coaching experience began at Anoka and Red Wing high schools and from there he stepped into the position of head coach at Gustavus Adolphus.

Sig Harris will continue as reserve coach. He has been connected with Minnesota football as a coach much of the time since graduating from the university in 1904.

Copple Loses In First Round Of Tournament

Newt Copple, Nebraska's 145 lb. Big Six co-champion, was eliminated in the first round of the National Collegiate tourney by David Arndt of Oklahoma A. and M. Copple's conference colleague, Potter of Kansas State, did not wrestle in the first round.

Paul Chronister, 175 lbs. of Kansas State and Iowa State's Cecil Mott, 121, were the Big Six winners during the opening day of the tourney. Jim Wilson, heavyweight and Fred Weltz, 128 lbs., both of Iowa State, were eliminated in the first round.

Hiram Montgomery Brock, jr., 24, a student at the University of Kentucky, is also the youngest member of that state's legislature.
